THIRTIETH THOUSAND

SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE

From the New York Tribune, May 16, 1897

"A Triumph for Mr. Richard Harding Davis"

"There are two reasons why Mr. Davis should be congratulated upon his 'Soldiers of Fortune.' In the first place, he has given us in it the novel of life in a revolutionary South American State for which we have long been waiting, and, furthermore, he has made it a revelation of his finest gifts. His originality and skill in the construction of a brief story have long since been recognized; his animation and accuracy in descriptive narrative have won him a wide and faithful public; but he has done enough work of an unsatisfactory nature to give the reader pause when it has come to acknowledging in him a veritable master of the art of fiction. He is such a master in 'Soldiers of Fortune.' His defects have disappeared. . . . What is presented between the covers of this delightful novel is the work of a mature romancer, writing out of a full mind and sure of his ground. From all points of view it is a good book. . . . We are made to participate in the events which have given a new power to the novelist's pen, and there is not a page in the book which fails of its effect. . . . The book is closed with a feeling of complete satisfaction."

"MR. BARRIE'S NOBLEST BOOK."

Margaret Ogilvy

By Her Son, JAMES M. BARRIE. Fourth Edition. With Portrait. 12mo, $1.25.

"THE OUTLOOK" SAYS:

"'Margaret Ogilvy' is so unusual that some critics cannot see its beauty, because they declare that such a book cannot be written. There is a certain reserve, too often violated of late years, which is as much a matter of morals as of manners; and the familiar disclosure of personal matters and of family affairs is as offensive as the brutal frankness of some contemporary novels in describing emotions and functions which are sacred, healthful, and noble only so long as they are guarded by the strictest privacy. That a son should paint a portrait of his mother involves so much peril both to the subject and the artist that many are ready to declare that it can never be wisely done; but Mr. Barrie has done it. He has painted his mother, and, incidentally, himself, with a sincerity, a freedom from self-consciousness, and a beauty of skill which lift 'Margaret Ogilvy' as definitely above criticism as many books fall definitely below it.

"And there is every reason why Mr. Barrie should have written the book, assuming that he had the rare poise of nature which made it possible to do the work with filial piety, with the sanity of a true objectiveness, and with spiritual delicacy. The world sorely needs such disclosures of moral quality, of domestic purity, and of filial piety. In a decade when every form of revolt against the fundamental order of life, and every kind of domestic and social impurity and atheism, have not only found their place in fiction, but have become the very stuff of which the human drama is supposed to be made, such a vision of loyalty, peace, and purity as Mr. Barrie gives us in this portraiture is a service quite beyond those which the man of letters generally has the power of rendering. 'Margaret Ogilvy' is, in a true sense, a holy book; and the reader who can weigh it in the scales of a narrowly critical judgment is no more to be envied than the man who can watch unmoved the play of emotion on a child's face, or hear unstirred the familiar speech of a mother whose life is all service as her heart is all love. The sacred things of life are not often put into speech as simple, sincere, and holy as themselves; when they are, let us be wise enough to uncover our heads, cynicism and skepticism have no place in such a presence."

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM THE MANY ENDORSEMENTS

"A masterpiece of humor and pathos."
—New York Herald.

With exquisite tenderness and grace is it made."
—New York Times.

"The crowning work of Mr. Barrie's thus far."
—Congregationalist.

"This little soul of a book, glorified with love, is Mr. Barrie's most beautiful way of accounting for himself."
—The Critic.

"So tender and so sincere it seems almost sacrilege to praise its art."—New York Examiner.

"No more brilliant, beautiful, or pathetic tribute was ever laid on a mother's grave."
—New York Independent.

"A precious bit of biography."
—Hartford Courant.

"A tender, loving, reverent memoir."
—Boston Herald.

The reading public, and particularly an American public, does not need to be assured that a volume by the author of the "Reveries of a Bachelor" possesses that essential sympathetic insight in which academical treatises on a nation's literature are all too often lacking. In Mr. Mitchell's new volume, which treats of American Literature from "journalistic" Captain John Smith to William Cullen Bryant, this discriminating sensitiveness has combined with the author's wide research and personal reminiscences to produce a peculiarly attractive and vivid presentation of the writers discussed. The illustrations comprise a really remarkable collection of portraits, views, and facsimiles, many of them exceedingly rare, and including among other "finds" a very interesting photogravure portrait of Washington Irving, by Charles Loring Elliott, hitherto unpublished.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

Four of the ideas that will make "Scribner's Magazine so different" during the fall of '97 and the coming year:

I.

"THE CONDUCT OF GREAT BUSINESSES" articles (which seem to be what the American public wants) will be continued. Following the article on "THE NEWSPAPER" (which is the first paper to be written on this great enterprise from a business man's point of view) will come an article on "THE GREAT FARM," which is now in the course of preparation. This is to be followed by articles on "THE MINE," "THE THEATRE," etc. Each one to be illustrated by drawings from life, not photographs.

II.

"LIGHT ESSAYS ON MODERN LIFE."—Robert Grant will contribute a series called "SEARCH LIGHT LETTERS"—Letters called forth by his "Opinions of a Philosopher" and "Reflections of a Married Man." Helen Waterson Moody's papers on "THE UNQUIET SEX," already begun, are both serious and humorous essays upon much-vexed woman questions.

III.

"THE WORKERS—AN EXPERIMENT IN REALITY" is the story of two years' experience as a day laborer; by Mr. Walter A. Wyckoff, a young student of sociological problems, who decided to stop theorizing and find out by actual experience something of the actual conditions of the laboring classes. He is now telling, in a series that is to continue throughout most of next year, the truth about the laboring man. It will be perhaps the most vital and individual piece of literature of the coming year.

IV.

"LIFE AT THREE AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES" will be followed by "LIFE AT THREE AMERICAN GIRLS' COLLEGES," SMITH, WELLESLEY and VASSAR, written by graduates. These will be illustrated in the same manner as "The University Life Articles."

Please Note Carefully the Following:

EXPLANATION OF PRICES:—

1. The Introductory price indicated in our Catalogue is the price at which a book so listed will be furnished for first introduction into schools and colleges where not already in use.

2. The Wholesale price is the same as the Introductory price given in this Catalogue, and is used in billing all orders.

3. The Exchange price, the price at which a book will be furnished to pupils for first introduction, in addition to the corresponding old book in use, applies to school and college text-books only. The exchange price of any text-book will be given on application.

4. Books sent for introductory supply will be billed at list Introductory prices, and the proper allowance for handling and for old books received in exchange will be made at settlement.

5. A single copy of any of our books will be sent, postage or expressage paid, to any address on receipt of the Mailing price, or of the Retail price when given. Such of our Charts, Maps, etc., as are not mailable, will be forwarded on receipt of Catalogue price — expressage to be at the expense of the purchaser.

AN EXAMINATION COPY of any school or college text-book named in our Catalogue, will be sent post-paid to any teacher or school officer on receipt of the Introductory price.

SUGGESTIONS. — In ordering, parties will confer a favor upon us by complying with the following suggestions:—

1. Always be careful to give full and exact titles.

2. State whether books ordered are for Introduction or for Regular Trade.

3. If for Introduction, make a careful estimate of the number of books required, and be careful not to send an excessive order; a second order is always more satisfactory to all concerned than a return of books resulting from an excessive order.

4. In ordering for Introduction, be particular to state the school or schools in which the books are to be introduced, what book, if any, is to be displaced, whether it is expected that exchanges will be made, and the probable number of such exchanges.

5. If you are not personally known to us, and wish us to open an account with you, always mention the name of some reliable party to whom we may refer, if we desire information respecting your responsibility and standing.

TERMS. — Note carefully the following:—

1. Orders for single copies of any book should always be accompanied by cash; do not ask us to open an account for the price of a single book.

2. All accounts for merchandise ordered for Regular Trade should be paid on or before the 15th of the month following the one in which they were contracted; if not so paid, we reserve the right to draw at sight, without special notice, through our Bank, on the 15th of the month, for the amount of such accounts.

3. All Introductory Accounts must be settled monthly. If the time allowed for introduction has not expired, parties with whom we have open accounts for Introductory Supplies should send us on the first of the month a statement of the books on hand unsold, with remittance to cover all books sold.

REMITTANCES should be sent to us by Bank Draft, P. O. Money Order, Express Order, or Registered Letter.

SILVERA'S

Semi-Reflex Index

THIS is the only patent in which two subjects are indexed from one point. All others pretending to do so are impositions upon the unsuspecting public.

We have begun suit against Thos. Nelson & Sons for infringement of this patent. Avoid the trouble and expense of a law suit by getting the genuine "S.R." Index from your publisher or jobber, and if he will not get it for you, send me his name and write to us for it, and the best price will be quoted.

List Price of the Silvera "S. R." Index, patented March 3, 1891, on Bibles, is 75 cents

THE SILVERA

"DUPLEX" INDEX

Pat. Aug. 21, 1883

This index has been so long on the market that it is well known.

It is not generally known, however, that there is also another patent for the same index, obtained in 1884 through the connivance of a former attorney of Mr. Silvera's.

Price of this index on 4to dictionaries - -	$0 30

THE SILVERA

Condensed "S. R." Index

This is a cheaper method of making this patent, by placing one index referring to four subjects, so as to refer backward for two, and forward for two. The price on Bibles is 30c. list.

LIBERAL DISCOUNTS TO THE TRADE

THE SILVERA

OMPARATIVE INDEX

This signifies that the book is A SAMPLE OF the VARIOUS forms of INDEXES now being sold under different names. It gives a representation of each of these differently named indexes.

Price on Bibles, 35c.

The Silvera "Progressive" Index

Is to all intents and purposes a close Imitation of the genuine "S. R." Index, and could be sold to unwary persons, by unscrupulous dealers, as the genuine. The sale of it is not advocated, as it has no value, owing to the fact that only half of the subjects are indexed.

A similar index is being sold by others at 75c. list. Our price, on Bibles, 20c. list. 12mo Dictionary, 15c.

THE SILVERA "IMPROVED PROGRESSIVE" INDEX

This index is the same as that being made on Premium Bibles for sale by the CHRISTIAN HERALD, GOLDEN RULE, and other publishers at 75c.. It has one index to each of some subjects, and in other parts it pretends to index two subjects at once, in imitation of the "S. R." Index.

Our price, on Bibles, 20c.

A Reward of $100.

For information leading to the conviction of any dealer representing these, or other imitations, "to be, or the same as," the Silvera Semi Reflex Patent Index.

...NOTICE...

Any Bible ordered with any index will be sent free by mail to any one, on receipt of published price of the book and price of index.

We recommend all persons to obtain a copy of our Comparative Index, which shows the difference between the genuine Silvera patent "S. R." Index and the various spurious imitations being sold at 75c. to consumers, and which are absolutely worthless, so much so that they are being made at any price.

RIGHTS FOR SALE

The perpetual right to use the Silvera "S. R." Index for sale outright to publishers for their own books, or on annual payments, regardless of quantity.

Those who acquire rights can have the indexing done by us, on their premises at minimum cost.

LIFE AND MISCELLANEOUS INSURANCE.

THE SPECTATOR.

An American weekly Review of Insurance. This newspaper has a wider circulation than any other insurance journal. It is noted for its pungent and fearless discussion of all matters pertaining to the vast subject of insurance in every branch; also for its insurance news from ever quarter and for its tabular exhibits of the business of life, fire, casualty and other branches of insurance. Price, $4 per annum; single copies, 25 cents.

THE INSURANCE YEAR BOOK.

Life and Miscellaneous Insurance Volume. Issued annually about July 1. This is a complete cyclopædia of insurance information regarding life and miscellaneous insurance, containing over 600 pages devoted exclusively to these branches of insurance. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Prices, Life and Miscellaneous volume, $5; when ordered with the Fire and Marine volume, $8.

HAND-BOOK OF LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE ON THE ASSESSMENT PLAN.

Issued annually about June 1. The Hand-Book presents the statistics of over 700 assessment and fraternal organizations. It is a cyclopædia of information and statistics relating to associations and companies operating under the assessment insurance laws. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Price per copy, $2.

PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF LIFE INSURANCE.

Sixth Edition. Revised, enlarged and improved. A complete arithmetical explanation of the computations involved in the science of life contingencies. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Prices: Actuaries' Edition (this edition contains the 4, 3½ and 3 per cent American Experience Valuation Tables), $5; pocket edition (with flexible leather cover), $2.50; cloth edition, $2.00.

HANDY GUIDE TO PREMIUM RATES, APPLICATIONS AND POLICIES OF AMERICAN LIFE

Insurance Companies. Issued annually about April 1. This valuable work contains the forms of policies issued by American and Canadian life companies.

and their conditions; also comparative rates for whole life, endowment, special policy contracts, term and industrial insurance and annuities; also surrender values, Tontine and deferred dividend estimates and results, and other valuable information. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Price per copy, $2.00.

THE ASSESSMENT INSURANCE MANUAL.

Issued annually about February 15. This work contains applications, certificates, premium rates and other data regarding companies and associations operating on the assessment plan. It is a companion work to THE HANDY GUIDE. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Price per copy, $1.50.

THE ACCIDENT INSURANCE MANUAL.

Issued annually about February 15. This work contains applications, certificates, premium rates and other data regarding personal accident insurance companies, including a carefully prepared classification of risks according to the hazard of occupation; and a chapter on hints to agents which should be read by every one engaged in accident insurance. Send stamp for circular giving contents in detail. Price per copy, $1.50.

MANUAL OF LIABILITY INSURANCE.

Edition for the years 1896-7. A treatise on the history, law and contracts of liability insurance, with copies of forms of policies issued by all liability companies, forms of applications and tables of rates. Besides giving the various forms of policies used during the past year by each company, there is also presented a copy of the new standard form of policy recently decided upon by the liability insurance companies, with the riders for the various branches of liability insurance. THE INSURANCE CYCLOPÆDIA.

By CORNELIUS WALFORD, F.I.A., F.S.S., Barrister-at-law, author of THE INSURANCE GUIDE AND HAND-BOOK, etc., etc. This work is the result of many years of labor, supplemented by the facilities furnished its author by long practical experience and rare adaptation to the task he had undertaken. It is a dictionary of the definition of terms used in connection with the theory and practice of insurance. By a special arrangement with the author, The Spectator Company possess the copyright for the United States, and are the exclusive publishers of the work in this country. Price in parts, paper covers, $1.00 each; neatly bound in cloth, $9.00 per volume.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS AND CALCULATING INSTRUMENTS.

THE SPECTATOR COMPANY are also sole agents for the United States for the following works:

TECHNOLOGICAL FIRE INSURANCE COMMENTARY. By WILLIAM A. HARRIS, Prices, plain, per copy, $6.50: interleaved, $7.50.

TECHNOLOGICAL DICTIONARY OF INSURANCE CHEMISTRY. By WILLIAM A. HARRIS. Prices: plain, $6.50; interleaved, $7.50.

THE SPECTATOR COMPANY are also agents for the following standard calculating machines:

TATE'S IMPROVED ARITHMOMETER. A most useful instrument, both to the actuary and the statistician. The working of the machine in multiplication is simply astounding, the results being produced with unfailing accuracy. In the computation of percentages it is very useful and saves a vast amount of labor. It is made in two sizes, one giving 16 figures in product, the other 12 figures. Prices: 12 figure machine, $275.00; 16 figure machine, $375.00. Send stamp for full descriptive pamphlet.

THE BRUNSVIGA CALCULATING MACHINE. This device, which does the work of the most complex machines made, costs less than one-half as much. The saving of time and mental labor effected by it is immense. It will multiply, divide, add, subtract; consequently will perform all numerical compilations in plain figures or decimals. A pamphlet giving full explanations regarding the "Brunsviga," together with numerous examples of its work, will be sent on application. Prices: Size "A," 18 figures in product, $160.00; Size "B," 13 figures in product, $125.00; Size "C," 10 figures in product, $110.00.

THE GRANT CALCULATING MACHINE. While there is a steady demand for the "Brunsviga" calculating machine and Tate's "Arithmometer," there are many persons who do not care to purchase an expensive machine, and yet desire the assistance of a calculating instrument. To these we offer the "Grant Calculating Machine," which is made in two sizes, viz.: with a 10 figure product register and with a 17 figure product register. It is designed for addition, multiplication, division, the extraction of roots, etc. Send stamp for descriptive pamphlet. Prices: 10 figure machine, $60.00; 17 figure machine, $90.00.

The preceding pages represent a condensed list of the publications owned and handled by the undersigned. THE CATALOGUE OF INSURANCE PUBLICATIONS, American and foreign, containing a comprehensive list of works upon all classes of insurance by well-known authors of all countries, and describing in greater detail the foregoing works, will be forwarded to any applicant on receipt of five cents in postage stamps, by

THE SPECTATOR COMPANY,

Theoretical and Practical
AMMONIA REFRIGERATION.

A work of Reference for Engineers and others employed in the management of Ice and Refrigeration Machinery.

BY

I. I. REDWOOD.

Assoc. Mem., Am. Inst. C. E., Mem. Soc. Chem. Industries, England.

Second Thousand, Revised.

This work, commencing as it does at the very bottom of the theory and advancing step by step from process to process, written in plain concise language and dealing with the subject in a thoroughly practical manner, appeals to all those who are in any way interested, or connected, with the management of Ice or Refrigation Machinery. The author is well conversant, not only with the theory, but with the actual practice as commonly used in America to-day and the 24 pages of tables at the end of the work will prove of great service, saving much time to those who have to make laborious computations. These tables have been carefully checked by an expert and we have every reason to believe that they are thoroughly correct and reliable, The work is well printed and neatly bound and contains.

150 pages, 15 illustrations and 24 pages of tables, 12mo., cloth Price $1.00.

CAMP FIRE STORIES.

A SERIES OF SKETCHES OF THE Union Army in the Southwest.

BY EDWARD ANDERSON,

Colonel 12th Indiana Volunteer Cavalry.
Past Chaplain-in-Chief G. A. R.

PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED FROM OVER 100 ORIGINAL DRAWINGS

Made especially for this book
By OTTO U. LANG.

"Camp Fire Stories" is a collection of short stories, telling in a most vivid and picturesque style of the various scenes of army life It portrays in glowing words the humorous and pathetic, the thrilling and tragic, as well as the everyday scenes of the soldier's life in camp and on battle field, in prison pen, hospital and on the march.

Major-General John M. Schofield, says: "I carry Camp Fire Stories in my grip as I travel and in my leisure hours live over again that life with the soldiers in the field, It is a delightful companion."

Gen. Horatio C. King Secretary Army of the Potomac, writes: "I read Camp Fire Stories through at two sittings. It is the best collection of war sketches I have ever seen."

Gov. J. B. Foraker, of Ohio, writes: "The book in both conception and execution is most excellent. It will bring back to every old comrade the thrilling recollection of the past, and will become a great favorite with all who are imbued with the loyal spirit of 1861."

Judge Henry E. Taintor, of Hartford, Conn., writes: "When I went home last evening I took along some work I intended to do, but I opened Camp Fire Stories first and enjoyed it so much that I gave work the cold shoulder."

Gen. John C. Black, Ex-Commissioner of Pensions, writes: "I have read your book 'Camp Fire Stories'. It has the real verve of the camps. It is something for the veteran to read for memory's sake, and the young man to peruse that he may have some idea of the fashions and emotions of the war."

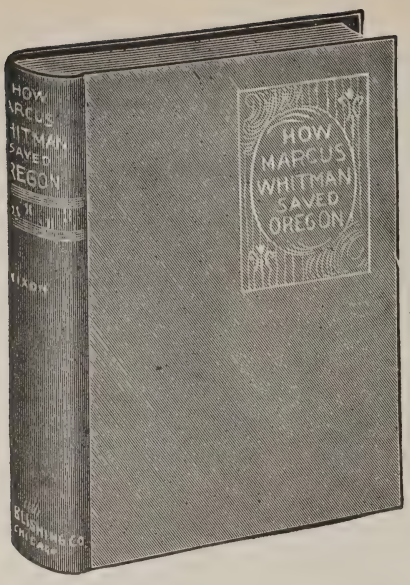
MR. W. S. PHILLIPS has spent many years gathering the material for these tales from the Indians of the Pacific Northwest. He enjoys the rare distinction of being not only a writer of vigor and originality but also an artist of ability, and has illustrated his stories with nearly two hundred and fifty original pen drawings, which breathe in a wonderful degree the freshness of the forest, the superstitious traits of the Indians and the weird characteristics of the tales.



These are not the ordinary stories about Indians, but are the stories from the Indians themselves, their myths and legends, their superstitions and folk lore. They are taken down, many of them, from the lips of the tribal story tellers, of whom each tribe has one, and the drawings were made on the spot. These story tellers are trained for their duties, and teach the legends to their sons in the same words they received them from their fathers. They are the minstrels of the American forest. But, alas, their career is nearing its end, for with the advance of education and civilization among the Indians the professional story teller is fast disapearing.

The book is 6x8½ inches, containing 326 pages printed on extra heavy, superior quality paper, from large, clear, new type. There are nearly 250 illustrations, made from original drawings by the author. The frontispiece is a half-tone engraving of an Indian head carved and cast by Mr. Phillips.

WITH SKETCHES OF LIFE ON THE PLAINS AND MOUNTAINS IN PIONEER DAYS

BY

OLIVER W. NIXON, M.D., LL.D.

For Seventeen Years President and Literary Editor of the Chicago Inter Ocean.

INTRODUCTION BY

Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, D.D., LL.D.

Pastor Plymouth Church and President Armour Institute, Chicago

---

WHAT IS SAID OF THE BOOK.

Boston Traveller—It is a revelation to the younger generation to read this very able book.

Boston Journal—All interested in the early struggles on our Western frontier would do well to get this volume.

Detroit Free Press—A handsomely printed, well illustrated volume. Its historic facts are strong and well arranged, and its incidents and romance admirably blended. No history was ever told more truthfully, and no story of patriotism ever more vigorously recited.

The New York World—Dr. Nixon tells the story of Whitman's winter ride from Oregon to Washington so dramatically that the reader can hardly realize that it is fact and not fiction.

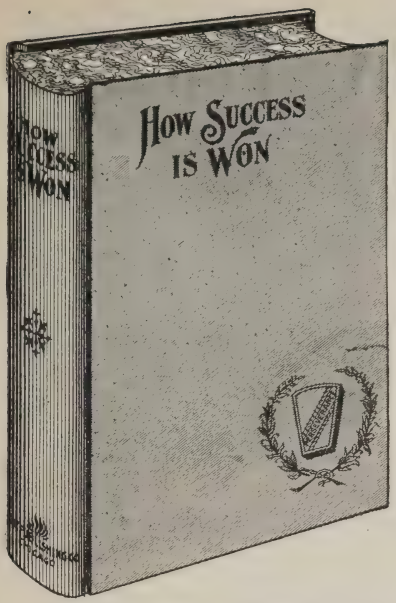
New York Recorder—But one comment is possible—It is an admirable book.

The Louisville Courier-Journal—An unusually interesting volume dealing with life on the plains and in the mountains in pioneer days.

Pittsburg Commercial Gazette—Another book that teems with human interest. It is a book our boys should be allowed to read, and they will read it if placed within their reach.

Denver Republican—A handsomely printed, well illustrated volume. No romance excels this story in its exciting interest.

Los Angeles Times—The work is one of the most entertaining and instructive ever written.



Baptist Standard, Chicago—This book should be given a very earnest and cordial welcome.

The Advance, Chicago—Dr. Nixon's heart glowed while writing this book and other hearts will glow while reading it. We may well believe that this volume will find a place in thousands of homes.

How Success is Won

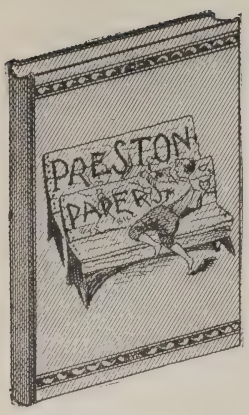
..OR..

The Triumphs and Achievements of Self-Made Men

A record of brilliant careers filled with incentives to energy and perseverance for the young and entertainment for the old.

Edited by
PROF. J. S. CHAMBERLAIN

The thrilling stories of the struggles, the trials and triumphs of poor boys who rose to fame and fortune by their perseverance and genius.



Stephen Girard	Cyrus W. Field	James Gordon Bennett
John Jacob Astor	William H. Vanderbilt	Robert Bonner
Alexander T. Stewart	Jay Gould	John Marshall
Amos Lawrence	Robert Fulton	James T. Brady
Andrew V. Stout	Charles Goodyear	Benjamin West
Jonas Chickering	Eli Whitney	John Rogers
Nicholas Longworth	Elias Howe, Jr.	Hiram Powers
Phillip D. Armour	Richard M. Hoe	David Swing
Marshall Field	Samuel Colt	Peter Cartwright
Cornelius Vanderbilt	Samuel F. B. Morse	Henry W. Longfellow
George M. Pullman	Cyrus H. McCormick	Nathaniel Hawthorne

Most of these famous men were rocked in the cradle of poverty and their struggles with adversity read like fiction. The stories of their early efforts are very much the same as the experiences of every poor boy. The stories of their triumphs thrill the reader like the triumphs of a hero in a well written novel, and because of their truth inspire to emulation and better directed effort. Thousands of men owe their advancement to the reading of this grand book, and it should be in the hands of every man, woman and child. One man who read the book said it so thrilled him he could not lay it aside until he had devoured every page.

CONTRIBUTORS.

Bill Nye, Petroleum V. Nasby, John B. Gough, James Russell Lowell, Artemus Ward, Proctor Knott, Henry Ward Beecher, Murat Halsted, M. Quad, Geo. W. Peck, Bret Harte, T. DeWitt Talmage, Mary Mapes Dodge, Oliver Wendell Holmes, S. S. Cox, Wm. M. Evarts, Will Carleton, Benj. F. Butler, Mrs. Partington and nearly fifty others.

Study the Contents.

Humor, wit, pathos, satire and ridicule, repartee, bulls and blunders, clerical wit and humor, lawyer's wit and humor, anecdotes of great men, puns and conundrums, doctor's wit and humor, political wit and humor, temperance anecdotes, Irish wit, negro wit, women's pathos and humor, children's wit and blunders, railway jokes and anecdotes, charades, riddles and puzzles, etc., etc., etc.

It is a book that is a Necessity to EVERYONE. The tired HOUSEWIFE and exhausted MERCHANT or FARMER needs it at the close of the day's work, to make life seem bright and happy. A few minutes reading of its overflowing fun brings tears of laughter to the eyes, and is better than hours of rest.

The LAWYER needs it in preparing his address to the jury. The CLERGYMAN is relaxed in mind by its pages. The POLITICIAN'S speech to his constituents falls flat without its happy wit and pointed anecdotes. The book should lie on EVERY CENTER TABLE and in EVERY OFFICE, to entertain a caller during moments of unavoidable waiting.

The chapter on CHARADES, RIDDLES and PUZZLES is alone worth the price of the book, as a boundless source of ENTERTAINMENT FOR EVENING COMPANIES.

It is illustrated with Fine Steel Engravings of the Most Prominent Humorists, and over thirty full page, original illustrations to fit the text, drawn specially by leading artists.

The Lives and Campaigns —OF— GRANT —AND— LEE

A New, Novel and Intensely Interesting Narrative Comparison of the Two Great Opponents in the Civil War.

By SAMUEL W. ODELL, LL.D.,
Author of "Samson," "Atlanteans," Etc.

With introductory personal reminiscences by MAJ.-GEN. OLIVER O. HOWARD, U. S. A. AND BISHOP JOHN P. NEWMAN, D. D.,
the pastor and personal friend of Gen. Grant.

The First Division of the book is entitled "Preparation." It treats of the early life of the two heroes. It covers the parentage and birth of each, their early education, the social and political influences affecting each; their careers at West Point, their marriages, the Mexican War, and the causes that led each to side as he did in the great conflict.

The Second Division is "The Rise of Grant," and narrates thrillingly in fullest detail all of his early campaigns, his many heroic trials and triumphs, and steady advance from an obscure position, to the Command-in-Chief, in fearless, manly, unselfish disregard for, and in spite of, the opposition and jealousies of rival commanders.

The Third Division, "The Rise of Lee," carries the great Confederate leader from his first operations through the succeeding daring and brilliant of campaigns and victories that heralded Lee's fame as a warrior around the world, down to the time when Grant was chosen to oppose him.

The Fourth Division, entitled "The Conflict," holds the reader spell-bound through the thrilling and tragic narrative of the terrible battles and sieges of the wilderness and before Petersburg and Richmond until the curtain falls on the closing scene at Appomattox.

The Last Book, "Rest," reviews the subsequent life of the two men, closing with Grant's tragic death at Mt. McGregor, which brought a nation to tears.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS which abound all through the book are from original sources, and are not stock cuts, such as are usually found in books on the war. They are from drawings of the most eminent artists in the country, such as Thos. Nast, A. R. Waud, Edwin Forbes, Sol Etynge, Theo. R. Davis, Granville Perkins, N. Jewett and others, and embrace thrilling battle scenes, incidents of siege and march, portraits of the great leaders on both sides, etc., etc.

THE MAPS are a valuable feature of this work. They have been newly drawn especially for this book. Great care has been taken in preparing them to include everything that was of importance or interest and to omit all else. The reader therefore finds in each map just what he wants and is not confused and exasperated by a vast mass of minute detail that is of no possible use for the purpose in hand. There is a good map of every important battle.

The book contains over 600 large pages, 6½ x 9 inches, printed on fine book paper from large, clear, new type, and is illustrated profusely with 120 Wood Cuts and Half-Tones from original sources, one-half of which are full page.

Index of the Subjects represented in E. Steiger & Co.'s Catalogues and Lists of German and other Publications, which are usually kept on hand and for sale.

Reference to many hundreds of minor specialities that are represented on E. Steiger & Co.'s shelves, has been omitted in this Index; it mentions expressly only the more important subjects (in which those minor specialities are, of course, embraced).

Moreover, it should be understood that important new publications are, as soon as issued, added to the stock of E. Steiger & Co., from whom they may, therefore, be ordered, although not advertised by them.

Of many German Periodicals stock is kept on hand; all others, in whatever country published, are imported to order, by various conveyances — at correspondingly different prices, which will be quoted upon inquiry.

Note. Steiger's Catalogues and Lists have, primarily for the purpose of being distributed singly, been issued—not in regular order—in the course of 3 years; for various reasons they have not been edited in uniform style, nor have all been numbered and paged. They can be had done up in a complete collection of about 500 pp. (price $0.25), and also, to answer the needs of other bookbuyers, in various small combinations. These Catalogues and Lists will be supplemented from time to time, or re-edited to correspond with the additions to, and changes in, the stock of E. Steiger & Co.

Abbreviations. L. = Language — M. = Manufacture of. The * in place of a number indicates that the publications on that subject are mentioned on a separate leaf.

We desire to call special attention to the fact that all new German Publications likely to be of interest to bookbuyers in America, are received by us as soon as issued.

Orders for such may, therefore, always be directed to us in the expectation of immediate execution.

As a monthly bibliography embracing all departments of German literature, we recommend: Monatliche Uebersicht der bedeutenderen Erscheinungen des deutschen Buchhandels (Monthly Bulletin of New German Publications). Price $0.20 ℔ year.

E. STEIGER & CO., 25 Park Place, NEW YORK

We invite particular attention to our unequalled stock of Standard German Books,

Choice and Superior Editions, in Extra Binding, which are especially suitable for Public and Private Libraries.

For smaller and Circulating Libraries, for use in classes of Colleges, and for Bookbuyers generally we recommend the

E. STEIGER & CO., 25 Park Place, NEW YORK

It is admitted that the best text-books for teaching

German in the Public Schools in accordance with the Modern German Orthography are the following:

The Rudiments of Steiger's Colloquial Method of Learning the German Language. By JOSEPH DEGHUEE. Boards $0.35 also issued separately:

—— —— First Division. Paper $0.10

—— —— Second Division. Paper $0.20

Steiger's Rudiments of German have been expressly written and published for the public schools of New York city according to the plan of the Superintendents and teachers of German, and we feel confident that this book will prove most acceptable also in other schools as the easiest introduction to the regular study of German.

The First Division of the Rudiments is printed in Roman type, in order to obviate the difficulty of at once learning the German alphabet, which is taught only at the beginning of the Second Division.

For the usually large percentage of those pupils who cannot pursue the study of German for more than one or two terms, and especially for pupils of evening schools, for adults already earning their daily bread and desirous of learning to converse in German as speedily as possible, this little book will prove the best assistant. Even if the study cannot be further pursued, the knowledge of correct pronunciation and of other essentials conveyed by this book will prove invaluable to those wishing to converse in German.

STEIGER'S Colloquial Method of Learning the German Language.

By J. DEGHUÉE. Number One. Boards $0.50

—— —— Number Two. Boards $0.45

—— —— Number Three. Boards $0.45

—— —— Number Four. Boards $0.50

also issued in 2 Courses, viz:

—— —— First Course. Boards $0.85

—— —— Second Course. Boards $0.85

and likewise:

—— —— Complete in one volume (558 pp.). Halfroan $1.75

☞ Distinguishing features of this Colloquial Method are, among others, the following:

The full and thorough understanding of the entire range of German grammar is imparted in a simple manner, in easy stages, from grade to grade; it is firmly impressed upon the learner's mind by colloquial exercises on common topics, which engage his entire attention. He thus acquires a large vocabulary and the facility to use it in conversation: without tedious efforts he learns to speak German. — Etymological comparisons demonstrate the affinity of English and German whenever occasion offers.

☞ For instruction in classes Steiger's Colloquial Method will be found superior to the "natural method", and second to no other series of text-books.

HENN-AHN'S German Grammar. A Practical, Easy and Thorough Method of Learning the German Language. Halfroan $1.75

HENN-AHN'S German Grammar. First Course. Boards $0.65

—— —— Second Course. Boards $1.00

Bound separately in 4 Numbers:

HENN-AHN'S German Grammar. Number One. Boards $0.25

—— —— Number Two. Boards $0.45

—— —— Number Three. Boards $0.45

—— —— Number Four. Boards $0.60

☞ This is an edition of AHN-HENN'S Complete Method in the new German Orthography.

German Wall Charts.

STEIGER'S German Reading and Script Charts. 25 plates, 17×24", printed on heavy white paper, muslin-lined on top, each plate with 2 rings. With a Guide to Pronunciation of German. $1.50 (postage $0.18 extra).

—— —— Mounted on 25 binders' boards. $4.50 — varnished $5.50

Separately:

—— —— Plates 21—25. The German Alphabet in Script and Type. $0.75

—— —— Mounted on 5 binders' boards. $1.50 — varnished $1.75

—— —— Plate 25. The German Alphabet in Type. $0.15

A few words on

The Rudiments of Steiger's Colloquial Method of Learning the German Language.

By Joseph Deghuée. Boards $0.35

The object of this little book is to smooth the path of very young students of German by lessening the difficulties to be dealt with at the outset. The principal means used for this purpose are:

1) The exercises in the first division of the book are printed in English characters. Thus the student may become acquainted with German pronunciation without being at the same time burdened with the task of learning a new alphabet. Being familiar with the pronunciation, when meeting German type in the second division of the book, he will easily recognize in the German letters their English equivalents.

2) The exercises in pronunciation, spelling, and reading, which furnish also material for translation and conversation, are restricted to a vocabulary consisting of a very small number of the most usual German words expected to be mastered by the student. Many difficulties, e. g. the pronunciation of C, Ch, X, Y, ti, etc., in words of foreign origin, are hereby excluded.

3) There are only a few grammatical inflections in the book. Those of the first division are the terminations of articles and possessive adjectives in the nominative case, the formation of the comparative of adjectives, and the conjugation of the present tense of ſein and haben. The second division contains the plural of nouns, the object in the accusative case, the present tense of verbs, and the imperfect of ſein and haben.

4) Each division of this book has a small selection of easy pieces for reading and declamation with interlinear translations of such words or grammatical inflections as are not supposed to be known to the student.

There are in each division numerous suggestions for conversational exercises which it is left to the teacher to extend and modify.

In its general arrangement and the selection of its vocabulary the book follows a plan recently adopted for the public schools of the city of New York.

Steiger's Rudiments will also exactly suit the purpose of thousands of persons who after leaving school find that some knowledge of German would be most useful to them in business and otherwise, but who cannot spare the time to take a full course of German grammar.

With the assistance of some one to teach the correct pronunciation, Steiger's Rudiments are for such persons a most practical means of learning, within a comparatively short time and without great effort, as much of German as will enable them to converse on simple everyday topics and business matters.

Thus having laid a firm foundation, they will find it very easy to use a German dictionary or to study a regular grammar of German, if this should appear desirable. For such continued study Steiger's Colloquial German Method is especially commended.

Sample-pages will be mailed free, on application.

OF LEARNING THE GERMAN LANGUAGE.

BY

JOSEPH DEGHUÉE.

The Colloquial Method followed in this book attempts so to combine the "natural" method with the "grammatical" as to include the best features of both.

While the student is trained, from the outset, to comprehend the foreign idiom when spoken, and to express his own thoughts in the foreign language, the conversation is under the constant guidance of grammar, question and answer, address and reply being always kept within the limits of the grammatical knowledge of the student.

The grammatical instruction, distributed over 124 lessons, passes in very easy stages through the whole range of German etymology and comprises the essential rules of German syntax.

Each lesson gives 1) a very simple grammatical rule or explanation, which is illustrated by sentences for oral and written translation and questions that must be answered in German; 2) a conversation, generally in the nature of an object lesson, containing only such terminations and grammatical forms as are, at that stage, known to the student, and gradually introducing the most common words of daily intercourse.

These conversations are not ready-made dialogues designed to be read, translated, and memorized, but real discourses, in which the student has to bear an active and living part. Thus he acquires a large vocabulary and considerable readiness and fluency in the use of the language: without tedious effort, he learns to speak German.

The Kneipp System of Water Cure is the result of 40 years' successful practice by the venerable German priest-physician Sebastian Kneipp (died, at the age of 76 years, on June 17, 1897) who in the course of this time has greatly improved upon all other systems of water cure. Father Kneipp's system is deservedly appreciated and employed all over the civilized world, and his books (the sales of which in the original German aggregate nearly a million copies) have been translated into English, French, Spanish, Italian, Bohemian and Polish, translations into other languages being in preparation.

Owing to his position the Rev. Father Kneipp has had to desist from writing a book on the Diseases of Women and their cure by his system. This task has now been undertaken and successfully carried out by Mrs. Louise Marie Schweizer, a lady of thorough medical education and in every way competent, who for several years was associated with the Rev. Kneipp as his Private Secretary, Manager of his Statistical Bureau, etc.

We have just published this valuable and timely book which is certain to have a very extensive circulation, in view of the fact that women in particular are subject to many diseases and ailments which the Kneipp System is especially adapted to cure and also to forestal. Mrs. Schweizer's book teaches how in most cases prevention and cure may be effected by self-treatment at home.

The title of this book is:

Das Kneipp'sche System

für unsere gesunden und kranken Frauen, oder:

So soll das Weib leben und sich kuriren.

(The Kneipp System for Woman in good and bad health, or: Thus shall Woman live and be cured.)

Von

Frau Louise Marie Schweizer,

früher

Prälat Kneipp's Privat-Secretärin, Herausgeberin seiner Populären Vorträge, II. Band, gewesene Erste Vorsteherin des Statistischen Bureaus für Kneipp'sches Heilverfahren in Wörishofen.

Mit den Portraits von Prälat Kneipp und Frau Schweizer und vielen Illustrationen.

AUTHORS' READINGS.

Illustrated with one hundred and seventy-two pen-and-ink drawings by ARTHUR YOUNG.

An illustrated "Story-tellers' Night," at which some of the most famous writers read or recite informally two or more of their best productions.

The authors' pose and manner of recitation are illustrated—WITH SKETCHES FROM LIFE—down the margin of each page.

The program includes nine authors:—EUGENE FIELD recites; BILL NYE tells two stories; ELLA WHEELER WILCOX reads from her works; HAMLIN GARLAND reads a story; MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD reads a chapter from a well-known story; "M. QUAD," reads two sketches; OPIE READ recites a story; and JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY recites.

Following the entertainment portion of the book are Illustrated Biographies of the authors, with hitherto unpublished anecdotes.

A full-page portrait of each author drawn from life accompanies the biography.

Under this portrait the author has written an original aphorism or verse.

BABES OF THE YEAR SERIES, THE.

One of the most charming series of books for children ever issued. In both artistic and literary work, they cannot be surpassed by any similar works offered to the public.

Babes of the Year.

New Verses by EDITH M. THOMAS, illustrated in colors and monotint by MAUD HUMPHREY.

A dainty volume in pale blue covers with bright designs of many children's faces, and tasteful lettering in gold. Contains a full-page design by MISS HUMPHREY, in many colors for each month of the year.

A little child with some appropriate flower, costume, and pose represents each month. Each is accompanied by a separate page having MISS THOMAS'S original verses beautifully printed in connection with delicate monotints after MISS HUMPHREY'S designs.

"A cherished art treasure in every cultivated household."—Boston Home Journal.

Babes of the Nations.

New verses by EDITH M. THOMAS, illustrated in colors and in monotint by MAUD HUMPHREY.

A most attractive volume, in bright covers, showing designs of little children carrying flags of various nations.

It contains full-page designs by MAUD HUMPHREY, in many colors, representing a little child of each of the following countries: Russia, Holland, Scotland, France, Italy, England, Spain, Africa, Germany, the United States, Sweden, and Canada.

Each is in appropriate costume, and is most beautifully executed.

Each one of these pages is accompanied by a separate page with original verses by MISS THOMAS, printed in connection with delicate monotints of Children, Landscapes, Flowers, etc., by MISS HUMPHREY.

"Of more interest than any similar book that has yet appeared this season."—New York Herald.

"Artist and poet could have made no more successful partnership."—Brooklyn Times.

Each volume, 4to, boards, varnished covers front and back, cloth back.

Price each, ... $1.00

One, Two, Three, Four.

New verses by HELEN GRAY CONE, illustrated in colors and in monotint by MAUD HUMPHREY. A companion book to "Babes of the Year" and "Babes of the Nations," but with a smaller number of colored plates, and at a lower price.

Large pages, executed in fac-simile of water-color designs, showing little children of the ages respectively of one, two, three, and four years.

"One" represents a little baby playing with a chain of dandelions. "Two" represents a child of two years of age, in the midst of a field of growing corn "in the silk." "Three" represents a boy of three years of age plucking a large bunch of purple grapes. "Four" represents a boy of four years of age, holding a branch covered with icicles.

These pages are accompanied by original verses by Miss Cone, written especially for the publishers, and illustrated by monotint designs by Miss Humphrey.

The book is bound in bright covers of many colors, showing the heads of four children, and accompanied by lettering in gold.

4to, boards, cloth back, varnished covers front and back. Price, ... 50 cts.

BABY SWEETHEARTS.

New verses of child-life, by HELEN GRAY CONE. Illustrated by fac-similes of very large sketches in colors, and in outline by MAUD HUMPHREY, the artist of "Babes of the Nation," "Babes of the Year," "Dandelion Time," etc.

A most attractive work. It contains 12 full-page illustrations by MAUD HUMPHREY, in many colors, representing children in picturesque groups or scenes. Each one of these pages is accompanied by a separate page, with original verses printed in connection with novel outline sketches of children, flowers, etc., by MISS HUMPHREY.

CHILDREN'S SINGING GAMES.

Illustrated and arranged by Eleanor Withey Willard.

A most unique and valuable little work. Owing to the kindergarten, with its many pretty songs and games, there has been a revival of singing games, and the attempt to rescue these ancient plays from the realm of mere folk-lore, so that they should take once more a part in child life, is opportune. Games little known in this country are given as well as those familiar to all. The tunes are all simple and well suited to children. To the old well-known songs are given the old well-known tunes.

4to., green or brown buckram, with cover stamped in colored ink and with a design of four children playing, in gold. $1.25

COLONIAL BOOKS FOR CHILDREN.

Three charming books for children, illustrated by E. PERCY MORAN and MISS E. S. TUCKER. The publishers believe that these books surpass any works of a similar nature ever issued in the beauty and originality of the designs.

1. Children of Colonial Days.

With twelve fac-similes of water color sketches by E. PERCY MORAN. In these sketches MR. MORAN has produced twelve beautiful pictures of colonial life. The principal characters in these are children, but there are also adults depicted, and all in the picturesque costumes of that period. These fac-similes are more elaborate in detail and more artistic than any ever produced in this country.

Accompanying each fac-simile is an appropriate story or sketch by MISS ELIZABETH S. TUCKER, printed in inks of different colors, and enclosed in a beautiful decorative border, designed by MISS TUCKER. There is a different border, or an elaborate tail-piece for each page of text, each illustrating some scene or character referred to in the text.

Volumes sold separately or in sets. (For one-volume edition see Poems of Frederick Locker, separately.)

7. Lyra Elegantarium.

A collection of some of the best specimens of vers de société and vers d'occasion in the English language by deceased authors. Edited by Frederick Locker.

Of this the Christian Union says: "One of the most fascinating collections of English poetry is Lyra Elegantarium. It goes without saying that Mr. Locker is the best possible editor of such a work, and it may be added that the American publishers have done everything necessary to make the book as beautiful without as within."

"Mr. Locker has completely ransacked the field, not coming to us with his arms filled with flowers and weeds—particularly weeds—but filled with the freshest sweetest, choicest growths of this dewy garden of song. Happy Mr. Locker."—R. H. STODDARD in The Mail and Express.

8. Make Thy Way Mine and Other Poems.

By GEORGE KLINGLE.

"If the tenderness, sincerity, religious feeling and genuine poetic grace which mark these verses do not win them readers, it will be a pity."—Boston Journal.

"Truly exquisite poems."—Pittsburgh East End Bulletin.

9. Madrigals and Catches.

By FRANK DEMPSTER SHERMAN.

"No one of the younger American poets equals Mr. Sherman in that essentially rich poetic gift which we call fancy."—Boston Transcript.

"As sparkling as a glass of champagne."—Boston Advertiser.

10. In the Name of the King.

By GEORGE KLINGLE, author of "Make thy Way Mine."

"The verses are musical, dignified, thoughtful . . and published in a charming style of diminutive bookmaking."—New York Independent.

"Short poems by one who joins true poetic genius to devout spirituality of purpose."—Episcopal Recorder.

11. Old and New World Lyrics.

By CLINTON SCOLLARD, author of "With Reed and Lyre."

"There is no labor about these verses. Apparently they flow as spontaneously as honey from the honeycomb, and if their sweetness is very sweet, it is because young natures are sweet, like all springtime."—Critic.

"Mr. Scollard's verses are graceful in movement, tuneful in music and romantic in their ways, and please with fresh and quaint enjoyment."

12. Point Lace and Diamonds.

By GEORGE A. BAKER, JR., author of "The Bad Habits of Good Society" and "West Point and other Stories." With 12 full-page illustrations by FRANCIS DAY.

(QUEEN OF RUMANIA.)

The only published volume of translations of these beautiful lyrics by ELIZABETH, QUEEN OF RUMANIA, whose nom de plume is "CARMEN SYLVA," and whose works are now attracting much attention in all parts of the civilized world.

Mr. Bowen's translations have received the highest praise from the press as well as from the royal author herself.

The volume contains the original verses, in German, as well as the translations.

"The songs are a charming addition to recent poetry."—New York Christian Intelligencer.

"Here in England we are glad to welcome such a simple, sincere little book."—Pall Mall Gazette.

17. The Poems of Sir John Suckling.

A new edition with memoir and notes. Edited by Frederick A. Stokes.

With new etching by J. T. Kink, after the portrait by Vandyke.

"All the skill of the bookmaker's art has been expended upon this volume, so that not only the reader but the bibliophile will possess a veritable treasure."—Washington Capital.

"The publishers certainly have extraordinary taste and talent for producing beautiful books."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

18. The Quilting Bee.

By JOHN LANGDON HEATON.

The first part of the volume is devoted to dialect poems, some of which have been compared with those of JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY. Another section is headed "The Patter of Park Row," and consists mostly of verses dealing with the phases of life in the vicinity of "Newspaper Row."

"There is a spontaneity and freshness about these jingling verses that set your feet to dancing in spite of yourself, and make you young again."—Ogdensburg Journal.

DOGS AND CATS, BOOKS OF.

Three beautiful books for children, illustrated by FREDERICK J. BOSTON and ELIZABETH S. TUCKER.

1. The Children's Book of Dogs and Cats.

With twelve fac-similes of water-color sketches by FREDERICK J. BOSTON. Six of them have dogs as their central figure and six have cats. These are not simply groups of dogs and cats, but each picture is a little story in itself, which will delight the children.

MISS ELIZABETH S. TUCKER has written stories for the pictures, which are beautifully printed in inks of different colors, enclosed in decorative borders, designed by her. There is a different border or an elaborate tail-piece for each page of text, each illustrating some scene referred to in the text.

Large quarto, boards. Almost entirely covering the front and back sides are fac-similes of Mr. BOSTON'S water-color sketches. The title is printed on the front side in gold and colors. Cloth back, . . $1.50

2. Cats and Kittens.

3. Dogs Great and Small.

Price, each volume, ... $1.50

EIGHT SONGS OF HORACE.

Edited by GEORGE E. VINCENT.

A remarkable novelty which has received the most careful attention in every detail. It is an attempt to reproduce with all possible exactness a ROMAN BOOK of the classic period.

This fac-simile of an old LATIN MS., is in the shape of a scroll of heavy parchment paper, wound about a wooden cylinder with a white enameled knob at each end, and tied with a leather thong. The first eight pages are lithographed, and consist of a title page in Latin, together with one of the rude, colored portraits of Horace, such as adorned the more pretentious volumes of the Roman book-seller, and followed by eight characteristic songs of the genial society poet of the time of Augustus. These are printed side by side in the Latin, in an alphabet gleaned from old coins, inscriptions and MSS., an artist having made a careful DRAWING for each page.

Each in a cylindrical box. $2.00

"A very unique and perfectly executed bit of bibliographic work."—The Chautauquan.

EMERGENCY ROLL.

A most useful little publication, especially suited for country houses or places where a doctor cannot readily be reached.

It contains the simple rules to be followed, in case of accident or sudden illness, while awaiting the arrival of a physician.

Printed in the form of a calendar, with hanger. With title page in colors. . . . . 50 cents.

ENCHANTED BUTTERFLIES, THE.

By ADELAIDE UPTON CROSBY.

A delightful little fairy tale with Princess Sunbeam and Princess Moonbeam as the principal characters. Illustrated in a most original style by SUSAN H. CLARK and the author.

The illustrations are half-tone engravings after designs that are a combination of photography and wash color drawings by MISS CLARK. Children were posed in the costumes of the characters in the book, and then the background of the scene was drawn about the photographs. The result is a very pretty and entirely original effect.

1. 12mo, with back and half sides of half white cloth, stamped with title in gold and with a butterfly design in silver and with outer half sides in an illuminated design of violets with gold embossed. Boxed, 50 cents

2. Full buckram. With back and half sides of buff buckram, stamped like No. 1, and with outer half sides of dark blue buckram. . . . . 50 cents

FAC-SIMILES OF WATER-COLORS.

By W. GRANVILLE SMITH.

A collection of six reproductions of water-color drawings of military characters.

MR. SMITH'S drawings are marked always by their spirit and dash, but he has never been more successful than in this series.

The officers represented are French, Russian, Italian, German and English, and an officer of the Continental Guard, 1764.

The size of these reproductions is unusually large,—13½ x 17⅛ inches.

FAC-SIMILES OF WATER-COLORS.

By PAUL DE LONGRÉ.

Eighteen reproductions of water-color paintings of flowers by this distinguished artist.

Six of these are varieties of orchids and the remaining 12 are of different well-known beautiful flowers.

Mr. de Longré is probably the best known painter of flowers in the country, and this collection has great interest for all lovers of plants, as well as great value for all art students as studies.

FICTION.

The novels published by the Frederick A. Stokes Company are all copyrighted and they have all been selected with the greatest care.

The publishers, believing that a good story is worthy of a good dress, have had these books well printed and bound. They have taken also the greatest pains to have them of convenient size. They are all on good paper, and their tasteful stamping and binding make them a delight to the eye as their contents are a delight to the mind.

Among these novels are many by the most popular authors of the day, including ANTHONY HOPE, JOHN OLIVER HOBBES, SIR WALTER BESANT, ROBERT BARR, JOHN STRANGE WINTER, WILLIAM LEQUEUX, and OUIDA. Many of these novels are included in the Frederick A. Stokes Company's popular series of fiction, but the following are published in individual and artistic bindings, appropriate to their character.

A Woman Intervenes.

An important novel by ROBERT BARR, author of "In the Midst of Alarms."

MR. BARR is one of the most remarkable and interesting of American writers. Through all his work runs his strong individuality, and it is entirely fresh and original.

"A Woman Intervenes" deals with life on both sides of the Atlantic. Its characters include promoters, stock speculators, mining engineers, and last but not least the modern newspaper woman.

With 20 illustrations, mostly full page, by Hal Hurst.

"It tells a good story in a capital way."—The Critic.

"So interesting that you will be willing to cut short your sleep in order to finish it."—The Goldsmith.

12 mo, linen, beautifully stamped with colored inks and silver, ... $1.25

The Mutable Many.

By ROBERT BARR.

The basis of the novel is a strike in an English factory, but there is a love story running through it, and it contains many interesting and amusing characters depicted in Mr. Barr's well-known vein. This book is regarded by competent critics as the best work that Mr. Barr has ever done.

"A novel of intense interest and unique plot."—Atlanta Christian Index.

Revenge.

By ROBERT BARR.

A collection of short stories, for which MR. BARR is so famous. The motive of each story is revenge, and the different tales are marked by wonderful fertility of plot and are all of absorbing interest. With twelve full page illustrations.

"Remarkably happy, entertaining and unhackneyed stories."—Buffalo Express.

12 mo, linen, tastefully stamped with silver and in color. $1.25

For MR. BARR'S other works see the Twentieth Century and Newport Series.

The Broom Squire.

By S. BARING-GOULD.

An interesting study of English life. Mr. Gould is one of the most powerful writers of the day, and in "The Broom Squire" his work is superior to anything he has ever done. Illustrated.

"We recommend this book as one that deserves to be read."—Boston Times.

12mo, basket cloth, stamped in colored inks and silver, ... $1.25

A Fountain Sealed.

By SIR WALTER BESANT, author of "All Sorts and Conditions of Men," "Beyond the Dreams of Avarice," "Armorel of Lyonesse," "Children of Gibeon," etc., etc.

An interesting love-story, with George III. as the principal character, at the time when he was Prince of Wales. The plot is based on the story of his supposed courtship of Hannah Lightfoot. The story is imaginary but it describes the Prince as he was—a young man of good principles, though of narrow views.

"The pathos of this work is touching."—New York Times.

12 mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

The Master Craftsman.

By SIR WALTER BESANT.

A graceful and charming love-story of London and Wapping. One of the most pleasing works of this distinguished author.

A young English nobleman, his cousin, a shipbuilder, the lovely widow of a parliamentary leader and a fair resident of Wapping are the chief characters, while a long canvas bag filled with gems plays a part in the story.

"One can hardly read this work without feeling all the better for the experience."—Commercial Advertiser.

With the latest portrait of the author, 1 vol., 12mo, gilt top, in a novel and ornate binding of polished antique linen, with appropriate decoration in gold and black after a design by Amy Richards. . . . $1.50.

The City of Refuge.

By SIR WALTER BESANT.

The plot deals to some extent with the supernatural, the greater part of the incidents occurring in a community in the State of New York. The heroine is a young girl of great beauty, who has the power of second sight and the story consists of her adventures with two young Englishmen, one of whom she finally marries. The result is a charming love-story, in a new field for this author.

"The novel is in every way unique and it reminds one of no one more than its distinguished author."—Boston Christian Leader.

By MARY BEAUMONT, author of "A Ringby Lass," a most delightful and poetic story of English life. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.25

A Girl's Life in Virginia.

By LETITIA M. BURWELL.

This is a most interesting sketch of the South before the War, picturing the delightful days on the old-fashioned plantation. All the quaint features of a social life, now extinct, are described in a simple and unconventional but charming style by MISS BURWELL.

The author belongs to one of the best-known and oldest families in the South, and speaks of her subject with authority. With sixteen full-page illustrations, after original designs by W. A. MCCULLOUGH and J. TURCAS.

"Such a book as this, therefore, quite apart from its fascinating character as a picture of generous, stately and generally ennobling life, has a historical value quite equal to that which most proper histories possess. The author has written with artlessness and charming simplicity, and the book is most entertaining from cover to cover."—The Boston Congregationalist.

12mo, pale brown buckram or dark brown cloth, with the title stamped in gold on a panel of white cloth and having a dainty design representing cotton bolls, $1.50

The Finding of Lot's Wife.

A new romance by ALFRED CLARK. This most extraordinary story deals with the Biblical pillar of salt into which Lot's wife was turned.

The influence of this pillar on those so unfortunate as to behold it is weird and astonishing and has enabled the writer to construct a situation unparalleled in romantic literature.

"A very fine piece of imaginative work—a night's entertainment of modern Arabian adventure."—Publishers' Circular.

The Whirlpool.

By GEORGE GISSING, author of "In the Year of the Jubilee," "Eve's Ransom," etc.

Mr. Gissing's late work has attracted a great deal of attention in England by its strength and truth. Harold Frederic, in a recent issue of the New York Times, dwelt upon this fact at length, and predicted still greater success for him in the future. "The Whirlpool" is a story of modern English life, and is of absorbing interest.

With a cover after a design by WILL H. BRADLEY.

12mo, cloth, ... $1.00.

The Herb Moon.

By JOHN OLIVER HOBBES.

Author of "Some Emotions and a Moral," "A Study in Temptations," etc.

A new book by this popular author, in a somewhat different style from any of her works previously published.

An interesting love-story, abounding in wit, and containing one most amusing character who is made the medium of the expression of much good sense and excellent philosophy couched in rustic language.

MR. GEORGE W. SMALLEY, the famous correspondent of the London Times, says:

"MRS. CRAIGIE (JOHN OLIVER HOBBES) has taken a place among the novelists of the day. It is a high place and a place apart. Her method is her own, and she stands not exactly on the threshold of a good career, but already within the temple of fame."

16mo, buckram, tastefully stamped with gold, $1.25

A School for Saints.

By JOHN OLIVER HOBBES.

The latest work by this distinguished author. Dealing with English political and social life, and incidentally giving a sketch of Disraeli. With a cover specially designed by WILL H. BRADLEY. A powerful and absorbing work. The story also deals somewhat with French Bohemian life.

12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

Phroso.

By ANTHONY HOPE.

Author of "The Prisoner of Zenda," "The Dolly Dialogues," etc.

The most exciting romance of the end of the century.

The Bookman pronounced "Phroso" the most successful serial published in 1896.

"It seems to us that 'Phroso' is likely to rank among the masterworks of sensational and exciting fiction. . . We care not how sated and cynical a man may have become, we defy him to lay 'Phroso' down if he once takes it up; he will finish it at a sitting and count a night's rest well lost."—The Sun.

"'Phroso' is the best story I have read in a long time. A story that interests a reader may not be good, but a story that grips you, as it were, and compels you to read it from first page to last, is surely uncommon, and is as a rule worth telling and reading."—New York Herald.

Wolfville.

By ALFRED HENRY LEWIS.

MR. LEWIS is one of the most distinguished newspaper correspondents of the day. During his early life, he spent many years in the West, and subsequently embodied his experiences in a series of western sketches, which are collected in this book.

These stories are all concerning the same characters and are connected into one story in much the same manner as "Chimmie Fadden." When these stories appeared in the newspapers, they attracted wide attention, and his work was generally compared to Bret Harte's early stories.

A Western editor recently wrote to Mr. Lewis' publishers in regard to "Wolfville" as follows:

"Nothing since BRET HARTE has appeared in the literary world of equal force and truth to MR. LEWIS' work. I appreciate its fidelity as an old cattleman, and as a dabbler in literary work, its art; and in any case, it is inimitable."

FREDERICK REMINGTON, who is undoubtedly the best equipped artist in the world for such a work, has contributed 18 illustrations to the work, most of them full page.

TWENTIETH CENTURY SERIES.

A delightful collection of novels, by some of the best known authors of the day, of convenient size and well printed and tastefully bound.

In the Midst of Alarms.

"A rattling comedy."—Boston Home Journal.

"We cannot be too grateful to Mr. Barr, in these days of decadence, of word twisting, and of microscopic raking in the mind, for a straightforward narrative, fresh in its locality and incident, quaint in its humor, and dealing with real men and women, who express themselves in speech and action with unmistakable individuality."—London Athenæum.

The Face and the Mask.

By Robert Barr.

There is no better writer of short stories in the world than Mr. Barr, and this is a collection of the best of his sketches, showing, as its title would indicate, the tragedy as well as the comedy of life.

"Robert Barr is the coming short story-writer, in my opinion."—Conan Doyle.

In describing one of the stories in this book, entitled "Where Ignorance is Bliss," Julian Ralph writes: "There is more skill, more imagination and more genius in that little trifle than in many a fat novel that has made a sensation in the last two years."

From Whose Bourne.

By Robert Barr.

A very original detective story. The hero is a newspaper writer, who becomes interested in the case of a woman unjustly accused of murder, and undertakes to prove her innocence. In his usual breezy style Mr. Barr tells how this is accomplished.

"A comical, lively, original story."—New York Mail and Express.

Sheilah McLeod.

By Guy Boothby, author of "Dr. Nikola," etc.

The scene of this interesting novel is in Australia. Mr. Boothby is thoroughly familiar with that country and is at his best in depicting its picturesque life and inhabitants.

Diana's Hunting.

By Robert Buchanan.

A story of Bohemian life in London. The heroine is a popular actress, and the hero is a successful playwright. A fascinating story.

"A bright and vigorous story, with a real woman for a heroine."—Boston Home Journal.

"It is a good story for a woman to read."—St. Louis Mirror.

Dead Man's Court.

By M. H. Hervey.

A detective story of to-day. The scene is laid in London, and the author gives us a very vivid sketch of a certain class of Bohemian society there. He has accomplished the most difficult task of writing a fresh and unhackneyed detective story.

"It will rank among the best stories of its class."—Boston Home Journal.

Dartmoor.

By M. H. Hervey, the author of "Dead Man's Court.

Mr. Hervey is a born story-teller, and in this new book he never allows the action to flag for a moment. An especially suitable book for Summer reading.

"It stirs the readers' feelings to their depths."—Boston Courier.

The Devil's Playground.

By John Mackie.

A stirring story of adventure in the wild Northwest. The author was for several years an officer of the Canadian mounted police, and writes of his subject with authority.

"It possesses the reality of a tale spoken from the life."—The Literary World.

"His description of the blizzard is so vivid and graphic that it makes one shiver and turn up one's coat collar even as one reads by the fireside."—The Daily Chronicle.

Sinners Twain.

By John Mackie.

The scene of this is laid in the wild Northwest. The story deals with smugglers, mounted police, and gives a series of excellent pen pictures of life on the remote frontier.

"An agreeable blending of the romance of adventure and love story."—Canadian Bookseller.

They that Sit in Darkness.

By John Mackie.

Mr. Mackie's many admirers will be glad to welcome a romance from him in a new field—Australia. As he spent some years in that country, the author's descriptions of bush life are most vivid. Full of exciting incidents, which, together with an interesting love story, make it a delightful book for summer reading.

"Lively, interesting, picturesque and attractive."—Glasgow Herald.

The Touchstone of Life.

By Ella MacMahon, called by The London Literary World the most gifted of lady novelists.

FOSTER'S BOOKS ON GAMES.

Complete Hoyle.

By R. F. FOSTER.

Mr. Foster is probably the most thorough and scientific student of games of the present time. He is accurate and painstaking to the last degree, and his books have a value for reference not equalled by any other similar works.

This new work is the most important book on games ever issued. Mr. Foster was at work on it continuously for over two years and it is a complete encyclopedia of all the indoor games played at the present day, with suggestions for good play, a full Code of Laws, illustrative hands and a brief statement of the doctrine of chances as applied to games.

The chief points in which this work differs from other so-called Hoyles are:

It is up to date; the latest and best variations in the methods of play being given in every instance and all the new games being incorporated, many of them being given for the first time.

The book is entirely original, not a line of description being borrowed from any other work on games.

It is uniform in the treatment of its subject, and the description of every game follows exactly the same course, beginning at the beginning with the apparatus and the players, and then following the natural course of events until the settling up at the end. All the irregularities are mentioned, and the remedies or penalties for them are given.

The work is arranged on the principle of a dictionary or encyclopedia, and all games are grouped in families, so that all the variations from the principal one may be found at once.

The dictionary of technical terms is as complete as it is possible to make it, the equivalents for many French and German terms being given.

This book is one that no club or lover of games can afford to be without. In it are given the rules for over 250 games.

12mo, Holliston cloth, beautifully stamped with a hand of cards, chess men, etc., in gold and colored inks, ... $2.00

Foster's Whist Tactics.

R. F. FOSTER, author of "Foster's Whist Manual."

In this work the author has followed the same principles which made his manual so successful, first giving the examples with the cards, and then showing the principles underlying their management. The general management of the hand is gone into, and rules are given for the best course when the plain suits and the trumps are in certain proportions.

The examples which the author uses throughout the work consists of 112 hands at Duplicate Whist, played by correspondence between 16 of the finest players in America. For every card played in this match, each of the players had a week to think over the situation and the result has been 112 examples of the very best and most carefully studied whist ever played.

The arrangement and presentation of the subject is quite original and entirely different from that pursued in any other work on whist, and the publishers are confident that it will be recognized as the most comprehensive work ever written on the game.

The book is very handsomely printed.

12mo, Holliston cloth, stamped with title in gold and a hand of cards in silver and red ink, gilt edges. $1.25

Hearts.

The only work published on this subject by a competent authority. The many admirers of this interesting game will welcome with delight a standard by which all disputes can be settled.

HIEROGLYPHIC BIBLES, THEIR ORIGIN AND HISTORY.

A hitherto unwritten chapter of Bibliography by W. A. CLOUSTON. With over 30 fac-similes and 56 old wood-cut illustrations, and a new Hieroglyphic Bible told in stories by FREDERICK A. LAING, with hundreds of tiny colored pictures.

This work is full of interesting information regarding these once popular juvenile books that has escaped the notice even of bibliographers. The contents of this unique book include:

1. Many curious and diverting examples of the Rebus, a fantastic mode of employing figures of certain objects to express surnames.

2. A description of some of the more important "Block Books" of the 15th century.

3. An account of the principal books of "Emblemata," from Alciati to Francis Quarles.

4. A very full description of MS. Latin Biblia in Rebus of the 15th century.

5. Titles and Prefaces of many versions of English, French, Dutch and German Hieroglyphic Bibles—those of the Continental works have not before appeared in English.

The impression of this edition de Luxe is necessarily limited, and only one hundred copies have been printed for the American market.

HIEROGLYPHIC SERIES, THE.

A charming series of very small books, uniformly printed on fine paper. Size of page, 2¼ x 3¼ inches.

1. HieroglyphicBible. Old Testament Stories.

2. Hieroglyphic Bible. New Testament Stories.

Each of these volumes contains several hundred hieroglyphics in color set in the text. These stories are told in simple language and are an exceedingly effective method of interesting young people in the Bible.

Each volume, with varnished board covers in colors, 50 cents.

LAND OF TAWNY BEASTS, THE.

By PIERRE MAËL.

A most original and valuable work translated by ELIZABETH L. CARY. This describes the adventures of a party of explorers and hunters in the Himalayas. They are attacked by Hindoo fanatics, and they have all sorts of strange adventures in consequence. They meet also with many wonderful hunting adventures.

All the facts pertaining to natural history or geography in the book are accurate, and it is an exceedingly attractive work for young people. While a story of adventure, rather than a novel, there is a pretty love story running through the narrative, adding to its interest.

With fifty-two wood engravings, done in the best modern French style by A. PARIS.

1. 4to, Holliston cloth, stamped in gold and red, white and black inks, with a scene from the work, ... $1.50

2. Polished buckram, stamped with title in gold, gilt top, ... $1.50

LUCILE. De Luxe Edition.

By OWEN MEREDITH.

The most beautiful edition of this popular work ever published.

The especial features of this valuable work are twelve fac-similes of water-color sketches by MADELEINE LEMAIRE. These are the only examples of the color work of this distinguished artist ever published in this country.

MME. LEMAIRE, who made a most careful study of this popular poem, has thoroughly caught its spirit, and has interpreted it artistically and truthfully, in a way to charm the reader.

In addition to these beautiful pictures are one hundred half-tone engravings after original designs by C. MCCORMICK ROGERS, well printed on paper made especially for this edition.

1 vol., 4to, full green cloth, with title and an artistic design in gold stamped on front side and back, gilt top, boxed $4.00

Full white cloth, stamped with gold on back and front side, beveled boards, full gilt, boxed, $5.00

With back and half sides of half red morocco, with front side of white cloth, with title in red ink in a heavy gold frame, beveled boards, full gilt, boxed, $6.00

(Besides the two editions given below, this work is also published in the Vignette, Tulip, Regal, Laurel, Criterion, Garland and Masterpieces Series.)

Price, per set, ... $1.75

MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

By the Rev. Joseph Parker, of the London Tabernacle.

A most interesting volume of comments by the popular preacher on people, things, and life.

Dr. Parker has invented what he calls the "Dreamograph,"—that is, he writes about things not as they are but as they might have been. But running through his fancies, of course, are many interesting facts and bits of philosophy.

Among the notable people who figure in this book are Henry Ward Beecher, John Bright, Phillips Brooks, John B. Gough, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Mark Twain, and Charles H. Spurgeon.

A thoroughly unconventional but interesting work.

MITE SERIES.

The most unique series of books ever published.

Mite Dictionary.

The Smallest English Dictionary in the World. Size ⅝ x 1⅛ inches.

Although it contains about 15,000 words and has 384 pages, it weighs only 44 grains and the print is so small that it cannot be read except with the aid of a magnifying glass. This little book is enclosed in an attractive metal locket, in one side of which is set a magnifying glass.

This dictionary is useful as well as unique. It contains besides the ordinary and newest words in the language short explanations of a large number of scientific, philosophical, literary and technical terms. It will, as a rule, settle any difficulty which might momentarily occur even to well-educated persons.

Of the larger edition of this dictionary, which contains exactly the same number of words, the London Times says: "Certainly a marvel of minute compactness and within its narrow limits not inadequate nor inaccurate."

The Poems of Burns.

A fac-simile of the first edition of Burns's poems, published in 1786. Reprinted from the copy in the British Museum. A very unique and interesting novelty.

Witty, Humorous and Merry Thoughts.

Selected by Thomas Mason.

Each volume, bound in limp leather, and enclosed in a metal locket with a magnifying glass, boxed.

New Testament.

A still smaller book than the Dictionary. Size, 1⅛ by ⅝ inches. In silvered case with magnifying glass.

Price, each volume, ... 50 cents

Holy Bible.

An attractive edition of the Bible about 2 x 1¼ inches. In spite of its small size, the type is large enough to be read.

NURSERY RHYMES.

Set to music by Joseph Moore and illustrated by Paul Woodroofe. With a preface by Theo. Marzials.

A most delightful present for the children. All the old favorites are given, including "Hey Diddle Diddle," "Ye Man in the Moon," "Little Jack Horner," "This Little Pig Went to Market," etc.—thirty-two in all.

The music is plainly printed and is of good size, so that it can readily be read at the piano. Profusely illustrated by MR. WOODROOFE, with frontispiece, ornamental title page and a border or fancy head or tail piece for nearly every page.

Large 4to, with cloth back and half sides, and with outer front sides almost entirely covered with an artistic design by MR. WOODROOFE, stamped in inks of different colors. $2.00

OGDEN, RUTH, WORKS BY.

Loyal Little Red Coat, A.

A Story of Child-life in New York a Hundred Years Ago.

With more than sixty vignette illustrations after original designs by H. A. OGDEN, the well-known delineator of American life in colonial times.

The story is a bright and interesting one, and at the same time is full of historical interest in connection with the period immediately following the Revolution, which has previously been little dwelt upon, especially in stories for young people.

"This is precisely such a book as American children need. The story is charmingly written and illustrated, and the historical matter of the story, while carefully studied, is not dragged in, but falls naturally into the order of the plot."—Boston Literary World.

1 volume, 4to, in a most beautiful and unique binding; cloth, with frame enclosing white panel, on which appear the figures of the "Little Red-Coat" and a soldier in full uniform, ... $1.50

Little Queen of Hearts, A.

A delightful account of the visit of a little American girl to England, where she meets the Queen, and has numerous other interesting adventures.

With nearly sixty half-tone engravings, after original designs by H. A. OGDEN.

"No book for children more thoroughly delightful has been published this year."—Boston Advertiser.

1 vol., 4to, green cloth, with frame enclosing white panel, on which appears the portrait of the "Little Queen of Hearts," and with title and attractive design stamped in gold,

Price, each, ... $1.50

Ermine binding, with back and half sides of white vellum cloth stamped to represent "Ermine," and with outer half sides of red cloth. With frame enclosing white panel, on which appears the portrait of the "Little Queen of Hearts," with title and attractive design stamped in gold.

Price, each, ... $1.50

Courage.

A touching and wholesome story of child life in the delightful style of this graceful writer. The heroine is a little girl and the scenes of her adventures are New York Harbor and the Shrewsbury River. With twenty original illustrations by FREDERICK C. GORDON, beautifully executed.

"The author knows how to unite the pathetic and pleasing in a story, so that each shall enhance the charm of the other."—Chicago Standard.

12mo, full brown cover, with tasteful design in silver, gold and colored inks on back and front side, $1.25.

Half white cloth, with fancy paper sides, . . $1.25

Little Homespun.

Some of the characters who made so many friends in "Courage" appear in this book.

The story describes a visit of the heroine and some friends to Arlington and incidentally describes visits to several of the historical spots around Washington. With 20 illustrations, 16 of them full page, by MISS MABEL HUMPHREY.

12mo, full brown cloth, with tasteful design in silver, gold and colored inks on back and front sides, $1.25

SWEETHEART TRAVELLERS.

A child's book for children, for women and for men.

By S. R. CROCKETT.

Author of "The Sticket Minister," "The Raiders," "The Lilac Sunbonnet," etc.

Unlike most books of this character, it appeals to adults as well as to children.

With numerous and beautiful illustrations by GORDON BROWNE and W. H. GROOME.

The following are a few extracts from the many enthusiastic notices of the book:

"If MR. CROCKETT had never written another line, this book alone would be sufficient to stamp him as a man of supreme talent. It is impossible to do justice in a brief notice to its indescribable charm. There is in it wit, pleasantry, pathos, and a most exquisite tenderness."—Weekly Sun, London, England.

"Had any one ever been inclined to disbelieve in MR. CROCKETT'S genius he must have recanted and repented in sackcloth after enjoying 'Sweetheart Travellers.' It is the rarest of all rarities and veritably 'A Child's Book for Children,' as well as for women and men. It is seldom, indeed, that the reviewer has the opportunity of bestowing unstinted praise with the feeling that the laudation is, nevertheless, inadequate. 'Sweetheart Travellers' is instinct with drollery; it continually strikes the softest notes of tender pathos, like some sweet old-fashioned nursery melody, and it must make the most hardened bachelor feel something of the pleasures he has missed in living mateless and childless."—London Times.

"Sweetheart Travellers is a book to be bought and lingered over. There is a charm of one description or another all the way through its pages, whether it be dealing with a walk in mid-winter, a cycle tour in spring or autumn, or some home and foreign references to the vagaries and sayings of MR. CROCKETT'S little companion. Much credit is due to the author's skill in writing, to his fund of humour and genial good nature; and these, combined with Sweetheart, make a book that is difficult to over praise. For the sake of the dainty little maiden and her story we could even forgive MR. CROCKETT six volumes of the broadest Scotch dialogue ever penned."—London Literary World.

A COMPANION TO

will be ready just before Christmas. MR. CROCKETT has not yet selected a title, but the work will be founded largely upon the experiences of his own boyhood. The date of its publication will be advertised when decided upon.

It will be published uniform with the 'Sweetheart Travellers' in all respects and will be issued at the same price.

Classical Authors.

Edited by ROSA BELLE HOLT.

This contains selections from the writings of 52 ancient philosophers, poets, etc., all extant before Christ. Among the authors represented are SOLOMON, HOMER, HESIOD, SOLON, SOPHOCLES, HERODOTUS, EURIPIDES, THUCYDIDES, and SOCRATES.

Many of these selections are especially interesting as indicating the origin of familiar sayings of the present day.

The translations have been passed upon by professors of various colleges and have received greatest praise from Edward Everett Hale and others.

A brief biography of each writer is given with dates. The most important feature of the book, however, is the collection of fifty-two illustrations, which are portraits of the different authors. These are half-tone cuts, from entirely new drawings of great merit, made by IZORA C. CHANDLER, from paintings, sculptures, etc., collected at a very heavy expense.

YUTZO, THE GOD, OF 763 B. C.

By "LORD GILHOOLEY."

An unusually interesting novelty. The author bought a little ivory heathen idol in Paris, and when he took this to his rooms the god suddenly becomes animated, and delivers himself of many wise as well as witty epigrams on life, etc., which the author has preserved.

The volume is bound in dull-brown sackcloth, with rough edges, and is printed in brown on tobacco paper, so that it has a decidedly ancient appearance.

THE GREAT WAR IN ENGLAND IN 1897.

By WILLIAM LE QUEUX.

Author of Zoraida. With numerous illustrations by T. S. C. Crother and Capt. Cyril Field, in addition to nine military maps.

This work is based upon the prognostications of the best living authorities on modern warfare, who have personally assisted the author. It describes in detail the invasion of Great Britain, and the narrative deals not with the distant future, but with the almost immediate present, and in the most graphic manner describes her chaotic condition during the war. Military and naval experts on all hands have pronounced the work absolutely unique and a most valuable contribution to literature.

Society says:—"The War Office is certainly taking note of those defects in our defences which the author has discovered by personal inspection."

PERSIAN TALES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

With introduction, notes and appendix by W. A. CLOUSTON, author of "Popular Tales and Fictions," "Flowers from a Persian Garden," etc.

It is the common notion that all Oriental fiction is founded upon the supernatural, but MR. CLOUSTON declares this to be a mistake. Many of the Eastern fictions are simply tales of common life which never outrage probability, and his book is intended to be a choice collection of such tales.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF HERBERT S. STONE & CO. THE CHAP-BOOK

CAXTON BUILDING, CHICAGO
111 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Ade, George.

ARTIE: A Story of the Streets and of the Town. With many pictures by JOHN T. MCCUTCHEON. 16mo. $1.25.

Ninth thousand.

"Mr. Ade shows all the qualities of a successful novelist."—Chicago Tribune.

"Artie is a character, and George Ade has limned him deftly as well as amusingly. Under his rollicking abandon and recklessness we are made to feel the real sense and sensitiveness, and the worldly wisdom of a youth whose only language is that of a street-gamin. As a study of the peculiar type chosen, it is both typical and inimitable."—Detroit Free Press.

"It is brimful of fun and picturesque slang. Nobody will be any the worse for reading about Artie, if he does talk slang. He 's a good fellow at heart, and Mamie Carroll is the 'making of him.' He talks good sense and good morality, and these things have n't yet gone out of style, even in Chicago."—New York Recorder.

"Well-meaning admirers have compared Artie immie Fadden, but Mr. Townsend's creation, ent as it is, cannot be said to be entirely free exaggeration. The hand of Chimmie Fadmaker is to be discerned at times. And just Artie is particularly strong—he is always and Mr. Ade is always concealed, and never les his personality."—Chicago Post.

eorge Ade is a writer, the direct antithesis of en Crane. In 'Artie' he has given the world of the streets at once wholesome, free, and ating. The world is filled with people like ' Blanchard and his 'girl,' 'Mamie' Carroll, ne story of their lives, their hopes, and s, and loves, is immeasurably more wholehan all the stories like 'George's Mother' ould be written by an army of the writers all themselves realists."—Editorial Albany g Journal.

am, Charles.

THE FOURTH NAPOLEON: A Romance. 2mo. $1.50.

ccurate account of the history of the Fourth eon, the coup d'état which places him on one of France, the war with Germany, and e intrigues as emperor. A vivid picture of nporary politics in Paris.

om, Henry M., Jr.

CHECKERS: A Hard-Luck Story. By he author of "The Documents in Evience." 16mo. $1.25. Seventh edition.

ounds in the most racy and picturesque —New York Recorder.

eckers' is an interesting and entertaining

chap, a distinct type, with a separate tongue and a way of saying things that is oddly humorous."—Chicago Record.

"If I had to ride from New York to Chicago on a slow train, I should like a half dozen books as gladsome as 'Checkers,' and I could laugh at the trip."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

"'Checkers' himself is as distinct a creation as Chimmie Fadden, and his racy slang expresses a livelier wit. The racing part is clever reporting, and as horsey and 'up to date' as any one could ask. The slang of the racecourse is caught with skill and is vivid and picturesque, and students of the byways of language may find some new gems of colloquial speech to add to their lexicons."—Springfield Republican.

Chap-Book Essays.

A VOLUME OF REPRINTS FROM THE CHAP-BOOK. Contributions by T. W. HIGGINSON, H. W. MABIE, LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, H. H. BOYESEN, EDMUND GOSSE, JOHN BURROUGHS, NORMAN HAPGOOD, MRS. REGINALD DE KOVEN, LOUISE IMOGEN GUINEY, LEWIS E. GATES, ALICE MORSE EARLE, LAURENCE JERROLD, RICHARD HENRY STODDARD, EVE BLANTYRE SIMPSON, and MAURICE THOMPSON, with a cover designed by A. E. BORIE. 16mo. $1.25.

Chap-Book Stories.

A Volume of Reprints from the Chap-Book. Contributions by Octave Thanet, Grace Ellery Channing, Maria Louise Pool, and Others. 16mo. $1.25. Second edition.

The authors of this volume are all American. Besides the well-known names, there are some which were seen in the Chap-Book for the first time. The volume is bound in an entirely new and startling fashion.

Chatfield-Taylor, H. C.

The Land of the Castanet: Spanish Sketches, with twenty-five full-page illustrations. 12mo. $1.25.

"Gives the reader an insight into the life of Spain at the present time which he cannot get elsewhere."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Mr. Chatfield-Taylor's word-painting of special events—the bull-fight, for instance—is vivid and well-colored. He gets at the national character very well indeed, and we feel that we know our Spain better by reason of his handsome little book."—Boston Traveler.

"He writes pleasantly and impartially, and very fairly sums up the Spanish character. . . . Mr. Taylor's book is well illustrated, and is more readable than the reminiscences of the average globe-trotter."—New York Sun.

D'Annunzio, Gabriele.

Episcopo and Company. Transla by Myrta Leonora Jones. 16mo. $1. Second edit

Gabriele d'Annunzio is the best-known most gifted of modern Italian novelists. His w is making a great sensation at present in all rary circles. The translation now offered gi the first opportunity English-speaking reac have had to know him in their own language.

De Fontenoy, The Marquise.

Eve's Glossary. By the author of "Q Sprigs of Gentility," with decorations two colors by Frank Hazenplug. Nearly re

An amusing volume of gossip and advice gentlewomen. It treats of health, costume, entertainments; exemplifies by reference to n beauties of England and the Continent; an embellished with decorative borders of g charm.

Earle, Alice Morse.

Curious Punishments of Byg Days, with twelve quaint pictures a cover design by Frank Hazenpl 12mo. $1.50.

"In this dainty little volume, Alice Morse E has done a real service, not only to present r ers, but to future students of bygone customs. come upon all the information that is here into readable shape, one would be obliged to se through many ancient and cumbrous records."—Boston Transcript.

"Mrs. Alice Morse Earle has made a diverting and edifying book in her 'Curious Punishments of Bygone Days,' which is published in a style of quaintness befitting the theme."—New York Tribune

"This light and entertaining volume is the most recent of Mrs. Earle's popular antiquarian sketches, and will not fail to amuse and mildly instruct readers who love to recall the grim furnishings and habits of previous centuries, without too much serious consideration of the root from which they sprang, the circumstances in which they flourished, or the uses they served."—The Independent.

Hichens, Robert.

Flames: A novel. By the author of "A Green Carnation," "An Imaginative Man," "The Folly of Eustace," etc., with a cover-design by F. R. Kimbrough. 12mo. $1.50.

Mr. Hichens's reputation has steadily increased since the brilliant success of "A Green Carnation" first gave him prominence. His latest work is longer and more important than anything he has done before.

James, Henry.

What Maisie Knew: A novel. 12mo. (In preparation.)

Upon its completion in the Chap-Book, Mr. Henry James's latest novel will be issued in book-form. Its publication cannot fail to be an event of no slight literary importance, and will worthy the attention of all persons intereste English and American letters.

Kinross, Albert.

The Fearsome Island; Being a ern rendering of the narrative of Silas Fordred, Master Mariner of H whose shipwreck and subsequent adven are herein set forth. Also an appe accounting in a rational manner for seeming marvels that Silas Fordred countered during his sojourn on the fea island of Don Diego Rodriguez. Wi cover designed by Frank Hazenp 16mo. $1.25.

Le Gallienne, Richard.

Prose Fancies: Second series. By author of "The Book-Bills of Narcis "The Quest of the Golden Girl," With a cover designed by Frank Ha plug. 16mo. $12.5. Second ed

"In these days of Beardsley pictures and dent novels, it is good to find a book as swe pure, as delicate as Mr. Le Gallienne's."— Orleans Picayune.

"'Prose Fancies' ought to be in every summer library, for it is just the kind of a one loves to take to some secluded spot to and dream over."—Kansas City Times.

here are witty bits of sayings by the score, ometimes whole paragraphs of nothing but Somewhere there is a little skit about 'Scot- the country that takes its name from the :y made there'; and the transposed proverbs, It is an ill wind for the shorn lamb,' and y rise on the stepping-stones of their dead ons,' are brilliant. 'Most of us would never ard of were it not for our enemies,' is a cap- ›igram."—Chicago Times-Herald.

r. Le Gallienne is first of all a poet, and these essays, which savor somewhat of Lamb, of aigne, of Lang, and of Birrell, are larded verse of exquisite grace. He rarely ventures he grotesque, but his fancy follows fair ; a certain quaintness of expression and the atmosphere of the book charm one at the ning and carry one through the nineteen es' that comprise the volume."—Chicago l.

ruder, Julia.

means of original incident and keen por- re, 'Miss Ayr of Virginia, and Other Stories,' de a decidedly readable collection. In the tale the character of the young Southern especially well drawn; Miss Magruder's artistic work, however, is found at the end volume, under the title 'Once More.'"—The k.

ne contents of 'Miss Ayr of Virginia' are not less fascinating than the cover. . . . These tales . . . are a delightful diversion for a spare hour. They are dreamy without being candidly realistic, and are absolutely refreshing in the simplicity of the author's style."—Boston Herald.

"Julia Magruder's stories are so good that one feels like reading passages here and there again and again. In the collection, 'Miss Ayr of Virginia, and Other Stories,' she is at her best, and 'Miss Ayr of Virginia,' has all the daintiness, the point and pith and charm which the author so well commands. The portraiture of a sweet, unsophisticated, pretty, smart Southern girl is bewitching."—Minneapolis Times.

Malet, Lucas.

THE CARISSIMA: A modern grotesque. By the author of "The Wages of Sin," etc. 12mo. $1.50. Second edition.

 This is the first novel which Lucas Malet has written since "The Wages of Sin."

"The strongest piece of fiction written during the year, barring only the masters, Meredith and Thomas Hardy."—Kansas City Star.

"There are no dull pages in "The Carissima," no perfunctory people. Every character that goes in and out on the mimic stage is fully rounded, and the central one provokes curiosity, like those of that Sphinx among novelists, Mr. Henry James. Lucas Malet has caught the very trick of James's manner, and the likeness presses more than once."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

"The interest throughout the story is intense and perfectly sustained. The character-drawing is as good as it can be. The Carissima, her father, journalistic admirer are, in particular, abso- triumphs. The book is wonderfully witty, as touches of genuine pathos, more than two ıore than three. It is much better than any- else we have seen from the same hand."— Mall Gazette.

ıcas Malet has insight, strength, the gift of , and a captivating brilliance of touch; in a literary equipment such as not too many nt-day novelists are possessed of."—London Mail.

'e cannot think of readers as skipping a line ling to admire the workmanship, or to be y interested, both in the characters and the 'Carissima' is likely to add to the reputa- f the author of 'The Wages of Sin.'"—Glas- Herald.

›re, F. Frankfort.

THE IMPUDENT COMEDIAN AND OTHERS. Illustrated. 12mo. $1.50.

eral of the stories have appeared in the Book; others are now published for the ime. They all relate to seventeenth and enth century characters—Nell Gwynn, Kitty Oliver Goldsmith, Dr. Johnson, and David k. They are bright, witty, and dramatic.

JESSAMY BRIDE: A Novel. By the author of "The Impudent Comedian." 12mo. $1.50.

ovel of great interest, introducing as its chief cters Goldsmith, Johnson, Garrick, Sir a Reynolds and others. It is really a com- ı volume to "The Impudent Comedian."

Morrison, Arthur.

A CHILD OF THE JAGO. By the author of "Tales of Mean Streets." 12mo. $1.50. Second edition.

This, the first long story which Mr. Morrison has written, is, like his remarkable "Tales of Mean Streets," a realistic study of East End life.

"The power and art of the book are beyond question."—Hartford Courant.

"'A Child of the Jago' will prove one of the immediate and great successes of the season."—Boston Times.

"Since Daniel Defoe, no such consummate master of realistic fiction has arisen among us as Mr. Arthur Morrison. Hardly any praise could be too much for the imaginative power and artistic perfection and beauty of this picture of the depraved and loathsome phases of human life. There is all of Defoe's fidelity of realistic detail, suffused with the light and warmth of a genius higher and purer than Defoe's."—Scotsman.

"It more than fulfills the promise of 'Tales of Mean Streets'—it makes you confident that Mr. Morrison has yet better work to do. The power displayed is magnificent, and the episode of the murder of Weech, 'fence' and 'nark,' and of the capture and trial of his murderer, is one that stamps itself upon the memory as a thing done once and for all. Perrott in the dock, or as he awaits the executioner, is a fit companion of Fagin condemned. The book cannot but confirm the admirers of Mr. Morrison's remarkable talent in the opinions they formed on reading 'Tales of Mean Streets.'"—Black and White.

"Mr. Morrison has achieved an astonishing success. Take it as a whole, as a picture of a phase of life, and you must admit that it is a masterly achievement—a triumph of art. It is a distinct advance upon his earlier book, 'Tales of Mean Streets,' because, it seems to us, it is truer, more convincing, less dispiriting. The biggest thing in the book is the description of him after the murder, and when he is on trial. It is a wonderful bit of psychology; done so simply, and apparently without any eye to effect, but overpoweringly convincing. The book is a masterpiece."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Pool, Maria Louise.

IN BUNCOMBE COUNTY. 16mo. $1.25.
Second edition.

"'In Buncombe County' is bubbling over with merriment—one could not be blue with such a companion for an hour."—Boston Times.

"Maria Louise Pool is a joy forever, principally because she so nobly disproves the lurking theory that women are born destitute of humor. Hers is not acquired; it is the real thing. 'In Buncombe County' is perfect with its quiet appreciation of the humorous side of the every-day affairs of life."—Chicago Daily News.

"It is brimming over with humor, and the reader who can follow the fortunes of the redbird alone, who flutters through the first few chapters, and not be moved to long laughter, must be sadly insensitive. But laugh as he may, he will always revert to the graver vein which unobtrusively runs from the first to the last page in the book. He will lay down the narrative of almost grotesque adventure with a keen remembrance of its tenderness and pathos."—New York Tribune.

Pritchard, Martin J.

WITHOUT SIN: A novel. 12mo. $1.
Third edit

The New York Journal gave a half-page view of the book and proclaimed it "the n startling novel yet."

"Abounds in situations of thrilling interest. unique and daring book."—Review of Rev (London).

"One is hardly likely to go far wrong in dicting that 'Without Sin' will attract abunc notice. Too much can scarcely be said in prais Mr. Pritchard's treatment of his subject Academy.

"The very ingenious way in which improba incidents are made to appear natural, the ingeni manner in which the story is sustained to the the undoubted fascination of the writing, and convincing charm of the principal characters, just what make this novel so deeply danger while so intensely interesting."—The W (London).

Raimond, C. E.

THE FATAL GIFT OF BEAUTY, A OTHER STORIES. By the Author "George Mandeville's Husband," 16mo. $1.25.

A book of stories which will not quickly be s passed for real humor, skillful characterizat and splendid entertainment. "The Confessi of a Cruel Mistress" is a masterpiece, and "Portman Memoirs" are exceptionally clever.

Abbott, Angus Evan.

THE GODS GIVE MY DONKEY WINGS. 18mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

The style is quaint, and the author, Angus Evan Abbott, shows decided ingenuity in the droll complications.—Providence Journal.

Archer, William.

See Ibsen.

Barry, John D.

MADEMOISELLE BLANCHE. 12mo. $1.50.

Mr. Barry will be remembered as the anthor of "A Daughter of Thespis," which appeared in the New York Tribune, and was highly praised by William Dean Howells.

Bullock, Shan F.

RING O' RUSHES. With a cover designed by A. P. Rogers. 16mo. $1.25.

These Irish tales are of great interest, especially now, when the literature of the Celts and Gaels is creating such a marked sensation.

THE CHARMER. 16mo. $1.25. An Irish love story. As pleasing as RING O' RUSHES, but in a different vein.

Canton, William.

THE INVISIBLE PLAYMATE. A story of the Unseen. New Edition, with a decorative cover, by J. H. Twachtman. 16mo. Boards. $1.00.

W. V.: HER BOOK. Illustrated. 16mo. Boards. $1.25. Cover designed by J. H. Twachtman.

Since the publication of Mr. Canton's "Invisible Playmate" his audience can be looked upon as no uncertain quantity, and in "W. V.: Her Book," will be found more of the same charming and subtle appreciation of child life.

Chambers, Robert W.

With the Band. A book of ballads. 16mo. $1.25.

Channing, Grace Ellery.

The Sister of a Saint and Other Stories. 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

Charrington, Charles.

Lady Bramber's Ghost. 16mo, $1.25.

A Sturdy Beggar. 16mo. $1.25.

Strong imaginative fiction by a new man, which has been magnificently received in London.

Chatfield-Taylor, H. C.

Two Women and a Fool. With eight pictures by C. D. Gibson. 16mo. $1.50. Ninth thousand.

Smaller edition. Frontispiece by Gibson. 18mo. 75c.

Childe, Rheta Louise.

See Knapp.

Congreve, William.

The Comedies of William Congreve. With an introduction by G. S. Street, and a portrait. Two vols. $4.00. In the English Classics Series.

Cornford, L. Cope.

Captain Jacobus. A strong romantic novel by a new man. 16mo. $1.25. Illustrated.

Corelli, Marie.

Ziska, The Problem of a Wicked Soul. 12mo. $1.50. Eighth Thousand.

Ziska is a first-rate story of the occult. Though the author manages to mix in a strange conglomeration of Christianity and theosophy she has done it with enough of self-control and artistic power to justify the enormous first edition (50,000) which the London publishers have issued. — Chicago Tribune.

Cram, Ralph Adams.

Black Spirits and White. A book of ghost stories. 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

Ghost stories are perhaps the most difficult things to do nowadays, and the very daring of the attempt seems a promise of success.

Curtis, William E.

The Yankees of the East. A book of letters on Japan. Illustrated. 2 vols. $4.00.

In a five-column review of Mr. Curtis's book, the New York Sun gives it a prominent place among the recent contributions to the literature of travel and observation. Now, perhaps, more than at any time during the latter half of this century, such books are read with care and interest. This fact has led to an outpouring of foreign letters and books of travel, the great majority of which are written by prejudiced observers, or those who do not observe. Mr. Curtis's book stands quite apart.—The Daily Tatler.

Davidson, John.

Miss Armstrong's and Other Circumstances. Printed at the University Press, Cambridge. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25.

DeKoven, Mrs. Reginald.

A Sawdust Doll. With cover designed by Franz Hazenplug. 16mo. $1.25. In the Peacock Library.

Second edition.

We have been favored recently with "society novels" by Mr. Crawford and Mr. C. D. Warner, who, of course, know "society" tolerably well, and also know how to write, and are gifted with good strong imaginations, and Mr. Howells we have always with us. But these men have literary minds, if we may so express it, and they write of "society" as they write about the common herd, or brigandage in Greece, or sunset in Venice, as a subject they have noted and studied, that has perhaps inspired them to effort, but not as one upon which their very being depends.

Wherefore, there is a much warmer welcome from folks gifted with the proper kind of understanding.

This book of Mrs. Reginald DeKoven is a treasure. She speaks "open sesame" for us.—New York Times.

Fitch, Clyde.

Some Correspondence and Six Conversations. 18mo. $1.00.

A collection of the dialogues and social satires which have appeared in Life and The Chap Book during the past year.

Frederic, Harold.

THE DAMNATION OF THERON WARE. 512 pp. 8vo. $1.50.
Twenty-seventh thousand.

This story was published in England under the title ILLUMINATION, and is the first book in three years which has been read and recommended by the HON. WILLIAM E. GLADSTONE. It promises to be widely read, and still more widely discussed, not only as a literary masterpiece, but as a story of Methodism versus Catholicism which has never been surpassed.

Mr. Frederic has written a daring story, and one which is doubly impressive because of the straightforward simplicity of his manner of presenting his case. His attack is certainly a bold one, and it will be strange if he does not bring down the unanimous maledictions of the cloth on his devoted head.—Chicago Evening Post.

The merit of the book is worthy of special praise because of the exceptional strength, variety, and originality of the characters.—Cleveland World.

Mr. Frederic has not only far excelled all his own previous works of fiction in this remarkable book, but he has gone a step further. No other very recent American novel can be fairly compared with this in pitiless analysis of character, in originality of conception, in vital force, and in mystery —not the artificial mystery of romance, but the mystery of life, which all who really live must experience—and it possesses, moreover, unique claims to consideration. "The Damnation of Thereon Ware," however it may be taken by the multitude of novel-readers—and even the shrewdest minds in the book-trade cannot safely predict the merely pecuniary success of a novel—will easily rank as literature with the best works of Mr. James, Mr. Howells, and Mr. Crawford.—N. Y. Times.

"The Damnation of Theron Ware" is undoubtedly the book of the year in England.—Ian Maclaren.

Gale, Norman.

COUNTRY MUSE. First Series, revised and enlarged. Crown 8vo. $1.25 net. Second edition.

A JUNE ROMANCE. With a title-page and tailpiece designed by Basil Johnson. Printed on antique paper. Price $1.00. Third edition.

Though little known in America, this is one of the most delightful love stories which has appeared in a long time.

Garland, Hamlin.

ROSE OF DUTCHER'S COOLLY. A new novel. 8vo. $1.50.

I cherish, with a grateful sense of the high pleasure they have given me, Mr. Garland's splendid achievements in objective fiction.—W. D. HOWELLS, in Harper's Weekly.

Its realism is hearty,—vivid, flesh and blood realism,—which makes it readable even to those who disapprove most conscientiously of many things in it.—The Critic.

The man or woman who does not feel happier and better for having read Hamlin Garland's novel, "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly," is not to be envied. . . . To minds disgusted and enervated by the febrile unrealities of English fiction, the lusts of Lord This and the shames of Lady That, this good, sweet story of "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly" will be an invigorating tonic.—New York World.

PRAIRIE FOLKS. A new book of stories on the order of "Main-Traveled Roads." 8vo. Uniform with "Rose of Dutcher's Coolly." $1.25.

MAIN-TRAVELED ROADS. Six stories of the Mississippi Valley. A revised edition, with an introduction by W. D. Howells, and frontispiece, head-pieces, and cover design by H. T. Carpenter. Printed at the University Press on specially made paper. 16mo. Buckram, gilt top and uncut edges. New uniform edition. 8vo. $1.50.

PRAIRIE SONGS. Verses. With cover, head and initial letter pieces designed by H. T. Carpenter. Printed at the University Press on specially made paper. New uniform edition. 8vo. $1.50.

There is no use waiting for London praise of the rich and vigorous poetry of Hamlin Garland to acknowledge that it has genuine quality and force. The economics and polemics of this young man must be taken quite apart from his work in literature. When he theorizes least he is of course most an artist. And although his disdain of forms occasionally appears with startling distinctness, in the main he sinks notion in emotion in "Prairie Songs," and with refreshing and often delicious naturalness sings of the life and nature that he knows best of all.—Boston Transcript.

CRUMBLING IDOLS. Twelve essays on Art, dealing chiefly with Literature, Painting, and the Drama. Printed at the University Press. 16mo. $1.25.

"A collection of some of Mr. Garland's essays, which attracted so much attention on their appearance in magazine form. They are on various topics, 'New Fields of Art,' 'The Future of Fiction,' 'The Drift of the Drama,' 'The Influence of Ibsen,' 'Impressionism in Painting,' 'Local Color in Fiction,' 'Literary Centers and Literary Masters,' and so forth."

Gosse, Edmund.

IN RUSSET AND SILVER. Printed at the University Press on English laid paper. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25 net. Half crushed levant. $3.50 net.

Third edition

Also 75 copies on large paper, numbered from 1 to 10 (Japanese vellum) at $6.00, and 11 to 75 (English handmade) at $3.50.

Mr. Gosse's literary workmanship (as befits a critic-poet) is unimpeachable; we do not think a careless or ill-turned line is to be found in his pages.—Edinburgh Review.

Hall, Gertrude.

See Verlaine.

Hall, Tom.

WHEN HEARTS ARE TRUMPS. Verses. With decorations by Will H. Bradley. 18mo. $1.25. Half crushed levant, $3.50 net. Fourth edition.

Hovey, Richard.

THE MARRIAGE OF GUENEVERE. A Tragedy. With a cover designed by T. B. Meteyard. 12mo. $1.50.

The ablest and most poetic drama of the Arthurian period since Tennyson's.—New York Herald.

The Arthurian legend is handled with a power which really gives indication of good work to come, and the final situation [in the play] is a noble dramatic conception.—The Nation.

It is strong evidence of Mr. Hovey's originality, as well as of his daring, that this poetic play is in the main really his, and not merely an adaptation of "The Idyls of the King."—The Academy (London).

Ibsen, Henrik.

LITTLE EYOLF. Translated by William Archer. 16mo. $1.50 net. In the Green Tree Library.

Second edition.

As we do not pretend to understand the play, we cannot attempt to criticise it. Its plot is a puzzle.—London Times.

Ibsen has never written a more interesting or a more intense or characteristic play.—Westminster Gazette.

"Little Eyolf" is stupid; and, from the literary point of view, stupidity means failure.—Philadelphia Press.

It is such work as this that gives assurance that Ibsen's influence is to be lasting. . . . The effect of "Little Eyolf" is singularly uplifting: it stirs the soul, the conscience; it quickens the sensibilities, it exalts one as few book have the power to do, and the secret of its force lies in its unyielding sincerity.—Kansas City Star.

JOHN GABRIEL BORKMAN. Translated by William Archer. 16mo. $1.50 net. In the Green Tree Library.

There is in "Borkman" nothing of the physical philosophy which has made an unsavory background for so much of Ibsen's work, but the gloom and pessimism of the play are quite unrelieved.—Literary World.

It is pleasant to see sane, well-considered criticism of Henrik Ibsen, so far away from the blind cult and the blinder malignity of the past. In "John Gabriel Borkman" there is noted the perfection of his intensity, the passion of the contest of soul with soul, the supreme dramatic intuition—and also the dreary acceptance of fatality and destiny, with absolute disbelief in moral forces and the will of man.—Time and The Hour.

The characters are real, the conversations natural. Truth, the freedom of individuality, and love seem to be the master-thoughts of Ibsen's life, the foundations of his creed.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Johnson, Samuel.

LIVES OF ENGLISH POETS. With an introduction by J. H. Millar, and a portrait. Crown 8vo, bound in crushed buckram. 3 vols. $5. In the English Classic Series.

Johnson, William H.

THE KING'S HENCHMAN. In preparation. 12mo. $1.50. A romantic novel of the time of Henry of Navarre, written by the King's most devoted follower, and now for the first time published.

Knapp, Francis, and Childe, Rheta Louise.

THE THLINKETS OF SOUTHEASTERN ALASKA. Fully illustrated. $1.50. A most splendidly written book of Alaska as it is to-day; it tells of the mysteries and legends of the people and of their superstitions and everyday life.

Mackay, Eric.

A SONG OF THE SEA. My Lady of Dreams and Other Poems; by the author of "The Love Letters of a Violinist." 16mo. $1.25.

Macleod, Fiona.

PHARAIS: A Celtic Romance. 16mo. $1.25 net. In the Green Tree Series.

THE SIN-EATER AND OTHER TALES AND EPISODES; by the author of "Pharais" and "The Mountain Lovers." 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

The author is a native of the Hebrides, and her writings have a touch of Northern Ossianic mysticism which is a new note in modern English letters.

"The Sin-Eater and Other Tales," by Fiona Macleod, is a volume of Celtic stories that touch the heart and reach the imagination. The book is full of charming pictures of Celtic Scotland, and some of her characters are so drawn that they will live and grow more and more in popular favor as the time passes away.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

The sketches are short, but the vivid word-painting is that of a spectator and a master. —Baltimore Sun.

THE WASHER OF THE FORD. 16mo. $1.25.

More tales on the order of "The Sin-Eater."

Maeterlinck, Maurice.

PLAYS. Translated by Richard Hovey. With an introductory essay on "Symbolism." The Green Tree Library. 16mo. $1.25 net.

Second Edition

These plays are simply thrilling in their power. All criticism of their baldness of language is absurd, for the dialogue of the average play is altogether too smart. William Archer's censure of these little dramas for their repetition of sentences was superficial. These repetitions are used with immense skill and they produce precisely that dramatic atmosphere which the author sought. The knowledge of stage values displayed in these plays is enormous. They are terribly fascinating to read; and we can imagine that an adequate performance of the "Princess Maleine" would destroy all hope of sleep for many a night.

PLAYS. Second series. Translated by Richard Hovey, with a preface by M Maeterlinck. 16mo. $1.25. In the Green Tree Library.

This new series contains Pélléas et Mélisande, Alladine and Palomides, Home, The Death of Tintagiles, representing the latest and most important work of the celebrated Belgian writer. This is the only authorized edition in English, and has been revised by the dramatist himself.

McCullough, Hugh, Jr.

THE QUEST OF HERACLES AND OTHER POEMS. Titlepage designed by Pierre la Rose. Printed at the De Vinne Press on Van Gelder handmade paper. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25 net.

Also 50 copies on handmade paper bound in limp vellum. $3.50 net. Only eight copies remain.

Among the four Greek poems I hardly know which to choose as my chief favorite. . . Surely all of them must appeal to every lover of the beautiful. Mr. McCullough is above all successful in his descriptive passages.—MRS. MOULTON in the Boston Traveller.

Meekins, Lynn R.

THE ROBB'S ISLAND WRECK AND OTHER STORIES. Printed at the University Press. 16mo. $1.00.

Miller, Joaquin.

THE BUILDING OF THE CITY BEAUTIFUL. A poetic romance. Printed at the University Press on American laid paper. 18mo. Gilt top, deckled edges. $1.50. Third Edition.

Moulton, Louise Chandler.

ARTHUR O'SHAUGHNESSY. His Life and his Work, with selections from his Poems. With a portrait from a drawing by August F. Jaccaci. Printed at the De Vinne Press on English laid paper. 450 copies. 18mo. $1.25 net.

Also 60 numbered copies on Holland handmade paper (only 50 being for sale) at $3.50.

Morier, James.

THE ADVENTURES OF HAJJI BABA OF ISPAHAN. With an introduction by E. S. Browne, M.A , and a portrait. Two volumes. $4.00. In the English Classics Series.

Overton, Robert.

FRIEND OR FORTUNE. A book for boys. With illustrations by Yohn. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50.

Parker, Gilbert.

PIERRE AND HIS PEOPLE. Tales of the far North. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 12mo. $1.50. New uniform edition.

He has the right stuff in him. He has the story-teller's gift. When you lay down the book the salient scenes and incidents and characters remain with you—they are so vivid and picturesque.—St. James Gazette.

A LOVER'S DIARY. Frontispiece by Will H Low. New edition. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50. Half levant, $3.50. New uniform edition.

WHEN VALMOND CAME TO PONTIAC. The story of a Lost Napoleon. With a cover designed by Bruce Rogers. 12mo. $1.50. New uniform edition.

No more wholly delightful novel has been written since the romantic school came back to us.

AN ADVENTURER OF THE NORTH. Being further tales of Pierre and his people. 12mo. $1.50. New uniform edition.

A ROMANY OF THE SNOWS. A Second Series of the Adventurer of the North. Being the latest existing records of Pretty Pierre. Uniform with the above. 12mo. $1.50. New uniform edition.

Poe, Edgar Allan.

THE WORKS OF EDGAR ALLAN POE. Newly collected, edited, and for the first time revised after the author's final manuscript corrections, by Edmund Clarence Stedman and George Edward Woodberry, with many portraits, fac-similes, and pictures by Albert Edward Sterner.

This is the only complete edition of Poe's works. The entire writings have been revised; innumerable errors have been corrected; quotations have been verified, and the work now stands—for the first time—as Poe wished it to stand. The editors contribute a memoir, critical introduction, and notes; the variorum texts are given and new matter has been added. The portraits include several which have never appeared in book form before, and the printing has been carefully done at the University Press, in Cambridge, on specially made, deckled-edge paper. In fine—the edition aims to be definitive, and is intended alike for the librarian, the student, and the book-lover.

The ten volumes, cloth, together in a box, $15.00 net; or separately, $1.50 net.

Half crushed levant, ten volumes, $40.00 net; or the five volumes of tales, $20.00 a set.

The large-paper edition, limited to 250 numbered sets for America, contains a series of illustrations to the tales by Mr. Aubrey Beardsley, and a signed etching by Mr. Sterner,—not included in the small-paper edition. Proofs of all the pictures are printed on India paper. On handmade paper, octave, vellum. $50.00. Sold only in sets; numbers will be assigned as the orders are received.

The publishers have purchased all that remained (some 50 sets only) of the series of French illustrations made some years ago. There are in all seventeen etchings, which are gathered in a portfolio, and sold to subscribers to this edition of Poe's works at $5.00, the set on Japan, $4.00 on Whatman paper.

Pool, Maria Louise.

In a Dike Shanty. With a cover design by Frank Hazenplug. 16mo. $1.25.

Of the same general character as this author's "Tenting on Stony Beach," but written with more vigor and compactness. Each of the persons in this outing-sketch is strongly individualized, and an effective little love story is inwoven. The author has a certain hardness of tone which gives strength to her work.—Atlantic Monthly.

Boss: and Other Dogs. With a cover design by Blanche McManus. 16mo. $1.25.

Miss Pool is well known as a passionate lover of dogs, and her stories of them are as sweet as they are simple and sincere.

Pugh, Edwin.

The Man of Straw. 12mo. $1.50. In preparation.

Mr. Pugh will be remembered as the author of "A Street in Suburbia"—a series of sketches of life in a London suburb.

"The Man of Straw" is a continuous story and is the first attempt in our own day to create and adequately present the modern City Clerk, as a product of the different ways and changed circumstances since Dickens pictured his great characters and types of London and Londoners.

Mr. Pugh may be said to have taken life as he sees it, and knows it—the men and women are people of to-day.

No one who cares for a fine novel can afford to let it pass. London humanity has never been so well portrayed since Dickens. —London Daily Mail.

Rinder, Edith Wingate.

The Massacre of the Innocents and Other Tales. By Maeterlinck, Eckhoud, De Molder, and other leaders of the Belgian Renaissance. Translated by Edith Wingate Rinder. 16mo. $1.25 net. In the Green Tree Library.

Lovers of literature on both sides of the Atlantic owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Edith Wingate Rinder for these specimens of the literature of the Belgian Renaissance of to-day. They are well-chosen and excellently translated short stories by such men as Maeterlinck, Eckhoud (the Zola of Flanders), De Molder, Edmond Picard, Ganir, Richelle, Louis Delattre, etc. The real Belgian life of to-day is presented with absolute fidelity and directness, and there is a note of truth and sincerity pervading the works of each of these authors, whose styles are as varied as their names, which cannot fail to gain for them a high place in the literature of to-day. In sculpture, painting, and literature there is a reawakening which is making its power felt far beyond its own borders, demonstrating that the Belgian can show the sturdiness of the Briton, the "chic" of the Frenchman, the phlegm of the German, the fire of the Spaniard, and yet be himself after all. $1.25.

Ross, Clinton.

The Scarlet Coat. A tale of the Siege of Yorktown. $1.25.

The Puppet. A Story of Adventure. $1.25.

The Meddling Hussy. Illustrated. $1.50.

A Dare to Bismarck. 12mo. $1.50.

Mr. Clinton Ross is a new aspirant to fame, and he has a fluent pen. "The Scarlet Coat" is a story of the Revolution, and based on historical data.

"The Puppet" is an attractive book, showing exceeding delicacy of treatment. "The Meddling Hussy" is a title taken from a series of thirteen stories, and all of them clever in construction and with a marked individuality. "A Dare to Bismarck" is a piece of fiction, singularly pertinent to the times. Mr. Clinton Ross grapples with the vexed Eastern question and settles matters according to his own way of thinking, and shows in working up his topic an excellent acquaintance with European politics. "The Dare to Bismarck" is just ready.

BOBBIE MACDUFF. $1.25. In preparation.

Santayana, George.

SONNETS AND OTHER POEMS. With titlepage designed by the author. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 16mo. Buckram. $1.25 net. Second edition, revised and enlarged.

None of the recent graduates (Harvard) who have attempted verse—not even Mr. Woodberry—shows such an easy mastery of poetic numbers as this Spaniard, to whom English rhythm is so native, and at the same time so expressive of high thought.—Springfield Republican.

Sharp, William.

VISTAS. 600 copies. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 16mo. Cloth. $1.25 net. In the Green Tree Library.

It would be superfluous to commend the high merit of such writing as this. And such as this, much else in the book also is. It is a book of rare excellence and real charm; a book to be read and re-read until the vistas beyond vistas which it contains have revealed their full beauty and significance.—The Academy.

THE GYPSY CHRIST AND OTHER TALES. Small 16mo. $1.00. In the Carnation Series.

Stories of power and vivid coloring. Remarkable for variety of subject and splendid range of scenes. The characters are drawn from a half dozen different lands and peoples: from the gypsy tribes of North England to the French in North Africa; from Venice to Norway; from the docks of London to the Lake of Albano.

Shipman, Louis Evan.

URBAN DIALOGUES. With six illustrations by C. D. Gibson. 16mo. $1.25.

FROM HER POINT OF VIEW. A new volume similar to Urban Dialogues. 16mo. $1.25. In preparation.

Southey, Robert.

ENGLISH SEAMEN, HOWARD, CLIFFORD, HAWKINS, DRAKE, CAVENDISH. With an introduction by David Hannay. 8vo. $2.00. In English Classics Series.

Stedman, Edmund Clarence.

See Poe.

Sterne, Laurence.

THE LIFE AND OPINIONS OF TRISTRAM SHANDY. With an introduction by Charles Whibley, and a portrait. 2 vols. $4.00.

Swing, David.

OLD PICTURES OF LIFE. With an introduction by Franklin H. Head. In two volumes. 16mo. Cloth, $2.00; half crushed levant, $5.00.

A collection of Professor Swing's best essays, now for the first time published. They treat of subjects of all ages—from a splendid review of Homer's Odyssey—"An Old Picture of Life"—to "Linda Mellett"—a sensational novelette of the end of the century. They are nearly all literary, and represent the most lasting and serious part of Professor Swing's work.

Taylor, Winnie Louise.

HIS BROKEN SWORD. A novel. With an introduction by Edward Everett Hale. Printed at the University Press on American laid paper. 12mo. Gilt top, deckled edges. $1.25. Third edition.

It is a novel of a great deal of power of expression and a thoroughly sustained interest. For nearly two years the book has been out of print. An introduction has been prepared especially for this reissue by Dr. Edward Everett Hale. It was to him that the story, on its first appearance, was dedicated. He read it in the manuscript and spoke of it in the highest terms.—Publisher's Circular.

Thompson, Maurice.

LINCOLN'S GRAVE. A Poem. With a titlepage by George H. Hallowell. Printed at the University Press. 16mo. $1.00 net.

Verlaine, Paul.

POEMS. Translated by Gertrude Hall. With pictures by Henry McCarter. Printed at the University Press on laid paper. 600 copies. 16mo. Cloth. $1.50 net.

Also 50 copies on Japan paper. Proofs of the pictures drawn by hand. $10.00 net. Very few remain.

It is interesting to note that the originals of the pictures in this volume have just received very high praise at the Salon.

Walton, Izaak.

THE LIVES OF DONNE, WOTTON, HOOKER, HERBERT, AND SANDERSON. With an introduction by Vernon Blackburn, and a portrait. 8vo. $2.00. In the English Classics Series.

Wells, Carolyn.

AT THE SIGN OF THE SPHINX. With a cover design by Bragdon. 16mo. $1.25.

A book of Charades.

Wells, H. G.

THE ISLAND OF DR. MOREAU. $1.25.

A wonderfully strong and unique story.

This is the book about which there has been such a controversy in England.

Readers of "The Time Machine," "The Wonderful Visit," and "The Stolen Bacillus," will be prepared for something strange and sensational from Mr. Wells's pen. In "The Island of Dr. Moreau" they get it. It is a book full of horrors, but free from the least suspicion of outraging Mrs. Grundy. To say it is a work of genius is to do it an inadequate justice.—London Literary World.

Winter, John Strange.

GRIP. 16mo. $1.25.

A characteristically strong tale of the army in France and of the galleys.

Wolf, Alice S.

A HOUSE OF CARDS. 16mo. $1.25.

A novel of San Francisco life, by a new writer, uniform with "A Sawdust Doll," by Mrs. Reginald De Koven, now in its fourth edition. In the Peacock Library.

The book is not very large, but its author has sufficient ability and ingenuity to write the old-fashioned three-volume novel, if she chose.—Boston Herald.

Miss Wolf has the gift of painting character with a few rapid strokes of the pen.—Philadelphia News.

Home Culture. — A Self-Instructor, and aid to social hours at home. A catechetical cyclopædia. Comprising test-exercises with answers, in the various departments of education. 66 vols. in one. Edited by Thomas Hunter, A.M., Ph.D. (President of the Normal College in the City of New York), and a corps of professors and teachers.

"A book which has been culled from the flowers of all books."—George Eliot.

This book is replete with the wisdom of all ages; it will be found useful to every grade of reader, and will give delight to young and old. It may be used as a self-instructor in the quiet of one's room or home. In the home circle or social party as profitable amusement. By students and others preparatory to competitive examinations. By parents and children catechising each other in quest of knowledge. By teachers in class-examinations or pupils in mimic battle. By post-graduates and others for refreshing the memory in self-examination.

672 quarto pages, elegantly bound and illustrated. Cloth, $3.50. Full gilt, $4. Half morocco, $4.75.

Shots at Sundry Targets (Pen, Pulpit and Platform). — By T. DeWitt Talmage, D.D. Aimed at Wrongs to be Righted, Burdens to be Lightened, Errors to be Corrected, Follies to be Shunned, Dangers to be Avoided, Sorrows to be Mitigated, Victories to be Won. This book is a treasury of the best things that have emanated from the brain of its distinguished author. The varied ills of life, as targets subject to these unerring shots, cover nearly every phase of disordered humanity. Hearts that ache with nameless burdens will be soothed, victims of folly and error will be admonished, the sorrowing will be comforted, and struggling souls will be inspired with new faith and hope.

"Their words go straight to the mark like bullets."—Emerson. Half morocco, $3.50.

356 pages. Elegantly illustrated. Cloth, $2.50.

Historical and Patriotic Addresses, Centennial and Quadrennial comprising upwards of one hundred select orations and poems, delivered in every State of the Union on the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence, by Hon. Wm. M. Evarts, Rev. Dr. Storrs, Henry Ward Beecher, Chas. Francis Adams, Robert C. Winthrop, Horatio Seymour, George William Curtis, Chauncey M. Depew, Bayard Taylor, and others,—issued under the auspices of the respective authors,—forms an authorized and enduring monument of that memorable epoch. Including the most noted Columbian Addresses of 1892–93. Edited by F. Saunders, A.M., Librarian of the Astor Library 1048 octavo pages, $3.50. Half mo., $4.50.

The Farmers' and Mechanics' Manual.—Edited by Geo. E. Waring, Jr. This is a practical book, designed for the every-day use of Farmers, Mechanics, Artisans, and Working-Men of every trade and occupation. It gives more reliable information, better arranged, and contains more that has been proven by long use to be of value, than any other that has ever been presented to Farmers and Mechanics. "It is a sound, honest, instructive publication, doing all which it professes to do, and is full of information suited to put money into the purse of the Farmers and Mechanics who consult its pages."—New York Tribune. 576 pp. 632 Illustrations. $3.

The Great Riots of New York. By Hon. J. T. Headley. Comprising historical accounts of the causes and results, with thrilling descriptions of incidents, scenes, and daring deeds of the Days of Terror in New York, from the Slave Riots of Colonial Times to the present day, including a full account of the Four Days' Draft Riots of 1863, and the R. R. Riot of 1872. Cloth, 12mo. Illustrated, 360 pages. $2.

Mother, Home and Heaven, Golden Thoughts On. By nearly 400 authors, comprising the choicest gems of the language in Prose and Poetry upon the three dearest names to mortals given. With an introduction by Rev. Theo. L. Cuyler, D.D. It is a beautiful and enduring monument to the dignity, glory and power of Motherhood. It is a voice for the Home, pleading for its peace, its safeguards and its sanctity. And it is also a voice whispering in loving accents of Heaven, delineating its glories, and developing a purpose to secure it. "It cannot be valued with pure gold."—Thos. Armitage, D.D. If you wish a choice and lasting gift, appropriate at all times and places and for every condition in life, Get it! Elegant steel and other illustrations.

Revised and Enlarged. New Plates. 460. quarto p. Cloth, $2.75. Full gilt, $3.50. Full morocco, $5.

Curiosities of the Bible; (10,000) prize questions pertaining to scripture persons, places and things, with key, including Blackboard Illustrations, Chalk Talks and Seed Thoughts. Sacred Heroes and Martyrs. Hon. J. T. Headley's Illustrated Biblical Work, written in the author's happiest style, and illustrated with elegant Steel Engravings from original designs engraved expressly for this work. Rev. E. J. Goodspeed, D.D., says: "Our old favorite, who wrote so graphically of the Sacred Mountains, has given us another volume of a similar character. His gorgeousness of imagery revels and is at home among the mighty men and sublime landscapes of the ancient past. A soberer pen would fail to reproduce the men and their surroundings in just proportions and coloring. We welcome, therefore, and heartily commend this noble volume, with its fresh illustrations, clear type, and handsome binding, hoping that our dear old Bible, ever new, because so human and yet divine, and hence adapted to our profoundest necessities, may become yet more thoroughly understood and universally read."

640 octavo p. $3.50; Full gilt, $4; Full mo., $5.

The Life and Times of U. S. Grant. The most reliable and Standard Life of the Great Chieftain. By Hon. J. T. Headley, the distinguished historian of "Washington and his Generals," "Napoleon and his Marshals," etc. The details regarding the early life of the General are full and accurate, and the account of his military career, as Chief Magistrate and retirement to private life, is written with that skill and power which long since secured for Mr. Headley the foremost position among American historical writers. In one large volume, 704 pages. Handsomely Illustrated. Price, $2.75.

American Progress. A Ready Reference Manual of National Facts and Figures.—Historical, Statistical, Financial, Documentary, Biographical, Political, &c., from the Discovery of America to the Present Time. Edited by Rev. E. O. Haven, D.D., LL.D., late Chancellor of Syracuse University, N. Y., formerly Pres. Northwestern University, Illinois. Revised and enlarged by J. Sanderson, D.D., LL.D.

Great care and thorough investigation have been devoted to its preparation, and we offer it as the most complete and reliable non-partisan record of our nation's progress. Cloth, 12mo, 500 p. Ill. $1.75.

Ideals of Life; guides and helps to the Life Beautiful. A modern symposium on the coming man; or how to perfect the individual and the race, Physically, Mentally, Morally. Special contributions by men of Science, Letters, Action, and Eminent Women. Edited by WALLACE WOOD, M.D. 640 quarto pages ill. Sold by subscription. Cloth, $2.75

Heroes and Battles of the Civil War, 1861–65 (Army). By Hon. J. T. Headley. Comprising the Life and Times of Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas, Hooker, Meade, Burnside, Rosecrans, Howard, Hancock, Gilmore, Sedgwick, Siegel, McPherson, Kilpatrick, Slocum, Logan, Schofield, Hazen, McClellan, Terry, Warren, and others. The four years of civil war in which the United States were involved created a History, the records of which are full of Heroes and Heroic Deeds, and Mr. Headley, of all writers, is perhaps best qualified to portray the stupendous features of the mighty contest.

30 Steel Portraits, Battle Scenes and Maps.

620 pages. Cloth, $2.50. Half morocco, $3.25.

Heroes and Battles of the Civil War, 1861–65 (Navy). By Hon. J. T. Headley. The only work of Naval Biographies of the Rebellion. Comprising the Life and Times of Admirals Farragut, Porter, Foot, Dupont, Stringham, Davis, Goldsborough, Wilkes, Winslow, Dahlgren, Paulding, Worden, Cushing, Bailey, Boggs, Blake, Rowan, Smith, Rogers, Thatcher, Palmer, Drayton, Craven, and others. Written in Mr. Headley's graphic and inimitable style, with an authentic account of Battles, Sieges, and Bombardments, including the methods of conducting Naval Warfare by Gunboats and Iron-clad Vessels, also thrilling descriptions of the most brilliant exploits and achievements of the Rebellion.

22 Steel Portraits, Battle Scenes and Maps.

608 pages. Cloth, $2.50. Half morocco, $3.25.

The Boys in Blue; or, Heroes of the Rank and File. Comprising Incidents and Reminiscences from Camp, Battle-field, and Hospital, with Narratives of the Sacrifice, Sufferings, and Triumphs of the "Soldiers of the Republic." By Mrs. A. H. Hoge, of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, Chicago. With an Introduction by T. M. Eddy, D.D. The story Mrs. Hoge narrates is one of most thrilling interest. She confines herself to incidents which passed under her own observation. 500 pp. Illustrated. $2.

The Lost Cause. A Complete Southern History of the War. By E. A. Pollard of Virginia. Containing a full and authentic account of the rise and progress of the late Southern Confederacy, the Campaigns, Battles, Incidents, and Adventures of the most gigantic struggle of the world's history. The counterpart of a score or more of Northern Histories, and patronized by thousands eager to hear "the other side." Its character (having been reproduced in foreign languages) has long been established as the Standard Southern History of the War. To which is added A Life of Jefferson Davis.—By Wm. F. Samford, LL.D., of Ala. 778 pp. 24 Steel Portraits. Cloth, $5.00.

General R. E. Lee. The Life and Times of. With a full Record of the Battles and Heroic Deeds of his Companions in Arms—"Names the World will not willingly let die." By E. A. Pollard of Va. The Biography of Gen. R. E. Lee is here given, replete with facts of interest and obtained from the most authentic sources; besides which there are about fifty Biographies (names dear to each part of the former Confederacy). The New Orleans Times says: "We can recommend this work as the best that has appeared on the Southern side since the war. It should be found in every household where its members believe that earth knows no prouder fame than to be a countryman of Lee and Stonewall Jackson."

851 p., 30 Steel Engraved Portraits. Cloth, $3.75.

Wearing of the Gray. By John Esten Cooke of Va. Comprising Personal Portraits, Sketches, Adventures, and Incidents of the War, with Thrilling Narratives of the Daring Deeds and Patient Sufferings of the "Boys in Gray." The author writes as an eye-witness and participant, and not as one compiling facts from books. The New Orleans Times says: "The work abounds in graphic descriptions, hair-breadth escapes, lively anecdotes, and much other matter." 600 pages. Illustrated. Cloth, reduced from $4 to $2.75.

Our Home Physician. The new Cyclopedia of Family Medicine. A popular guide to the art of preserving health and treating disease; with plain advice for all the medical and surgical emergencies of the family. By George M. Beard, A.M., M.D., assisted in its several departments by Drs. D. B. St. John Roosa, Geo. H. Fox, J. B. Hunter, Benjamin Howard, N. W. Kingsley, Laurence Johnson, A. D. Rockwell, and E. LeFevre; with Homœopathic remedies and treatment, by Samuel Lilienthal, M.D. It is written for the people, in plain, common-sense language, giving causes, symptoms, and reliable remedies for every ill. THE OTTERBEIN HYMNAL.

For Church Services, College Chapels, Prayer Meetings, and Sunday Schools. Arranged by Rev. E. S. Lorenz. This HYMNAL is authorized by the General Conference, and intended for general use in the denomination. It contains the standard hymns of the ages, set to their accepted tunes, omitting few, if any, that are in general use. The old "spiritual" favorites of our fathers have found recognition. A full selection of the most popular gospel songs has been secured. It will be found equally well adapted to the public service, the prayer-meeting, and the stirring revival; 548 hymns and songs, with full indexes. The book presents a handsome appearance, is printed on good paper, and is durably bound.

THE PEOPLE'S HYMNAL.

For Church, Chapel, Prayer Room, and Sunday School. Arranged by Rev. E. S. Lorenz. This is a new hymnal for church services, devotional meetings, Y. P. S. C. E., and other like uses. It contains the standard hymns of the ages, set to their accepted tunes, omitting few, if any, that are in general use. The rich fund of recent English hymns and music has been most judiciously drawn upon. The accepted standard translations of classic Latin and German hymns are included. A full selection of the most popular gospel songs has been secured at large expense. The best songs of Sankey, McGranahan, Bliss, Doane, Lowry, Stebbins, Baltzell, Excell, Sweeney, Lorenz, Kirkpatrick,—indeed the cream of all the various recent collections of gospel hymns,—give practical value to this hymnal. It will be found equally well adapted to the public service, the prayer-meeting, and the stirring revival. It contains five hundred and forty-eight hymns and songs. The arrangement is most convenient, and it is aided by full indexes. The book presents a handsome appearance, is printed on good paper, and is durably bound.

TEMPLE ECHOES. A new song book for primary classes and small Sunday schools. Prepared by E. S. Lorenz. This is a small collection of easy, simple songs, at a low price, for primary classes. A large number of prominent music writers, such as Gabriel, Ogden, Doane, Baltzell, Kirkpatrick, are represented by their brightest easy songs. It has a number of motion and exercise songs, that will make a hit. The book contains 64 pages, pocket size, and is bound in strong, tough manilla. Price, per copy, postpaid 15 $1.50 per dozen, or $10.00 per hundred, by express, charges unpaid.

THE CROWNING DAY. A popular song book for Sunday schools and miscellaneous social services. Prepared by J. H. Ruebush, A. S. Kieffer, and J. H. Hall. The high character of the hymns and the variety of topics which the book covers, give it a foremost position in the favor of the Sunday-school public. The present edition is rich in a number of fresh songs of fine quality, and throughout the whole book an unusually high standard has been maintained. There are 142 pages, and the book is handsomely printed and bound with a neat cover design. By mail, postpaid..... 30

SPIRIT AND LIFE. By Revs. E. S. Lorenz and D. E. Dortch, assisted by many leading song and hymn writers of the country. One of the best song books ever issued. The hymns are eminently devout and evangelical, full of the spirit and life of Christ. The music is bright and fresh. Besides the great body of songs for regular use, there are solos, duets, mixed and male quartets, with charming and abundant provisions for Christmas, Easter, Children's Day, Harvest Home or Thanksgiving, and other occasions. Two editions—Round and Character notes. Beautifully printed. Substantially bound. Handsome lithographed cover. Prices: per copy, postpaid, in any quantity 35
$3.60 per dozen, $30.00 per hundred, by express, charges unpaid.

TRIED AND TRUE. By Rev. E. S. Lorenz. This is one of our best Sunday-school song books, and contains a number of the finest compositions by the editor, and a careful selection of the best works of other composers. It represents the cream of Sunday-school music, as all the hymns have been "tried" and found "true." The selections have been made from "Garnered Sheaves," "Notes of Triumph," "Songs of the Morning," and "The Master's Praise." It contains 192 pages, and is strongly bound with beautiful lithographed covers. Prices: each, by mail 35
$3.60 per dozen, $30.00 per hundred, by express, charges unpaid.

THE MASTER'S PRAISE. By E. S. Lorenz and Isaiah Baltzell. This book has many new features, and contains much of the best work the editors have done. The hymns are fresh and well written, and of good literary quality. The book is printed on supercalendered paper, in clear type, and is attractively and substantially bound in cloth. We have no hesitancy in saying that "The Master's Praise" is one of the best Sunday-school music books ever published. It contains 176 pages. Prices: each, by mail 35

CAROLS OF PRAISE. By Rev. Isaiah Baltzell. A choice collection of new gospel songs prepared especially for evangelistic services. It is made up of the latest and best spiritual songs so inspiring and helpful in gospel and revival meetings, making it invaluable as an aid to general evangelistic work. There are also a number of the old standard hymns, without which such a book would not be complete. There are also included several pages of outline Bible readings and select Scripture passages. Bound attractively and made for service. Price, each, by mail..... 15
Per dozen, postpaid, $1.50; $10.00 per hundred, by express, charges unpaid.

SONGS OF REFRESHING, Combined, with additions and revisions. By Rev. E. S. Lorenz and Rev. I. Baltzell. The sale of over 50,000 copies of the first number of this book, and the demand for it from evangelistic workers outside our Church, is evidence of its adaptation to aggressive church work. The book has been strengthened by a number of popular songs recently introduced. Some magnificent new songs have also been added. It now contains over two hundred hymns and songs, adapted to every conceivable need of revival and devotional meetings. The book is strong in old standard favorites, and in striking and stirring new songs. The manilla binding is acknowledged to be the most substantial and lasting that has as yet been tried. It is lighter and more convenient than boards, and not so easily broken. Each, postpaid..... 25
Per dozen, $2.75, postpaid; per hundred by express, $20.00, charges unpaid.

ORDERS ON THE TREASURER. This book is intended for secretaries or other officers who are required by the rules of any church, Sunday school, or society to present to the treasurer a written order for the payment of money. The order itself, having been filled, is presented to the treasurer, who, after paying, keeps it as his voucher for the correctness of his accounts. The stub, or voucher, is retained in the book by the secretary as his record of the transaction. The "Order on the Treasurer" should be carefully filled with name, name of society, etc., amount and purpose for which used, and the proper names should be signed below. The "voucher" should show the balance on hand after the preceding payment, all the items included in the order, and the balance remaining after payment. All amounts received should be properly added on the "voucher." A careful record will make the work of the secretary and treasurer much easier and much more accurate. Prices, postpaid:

BASH, MRS. ISADORE S. Brickey Sorrel; or, The Twin Cousins. The book narrates the upward progress of its leading character, from poverty and obscurity to a most honorable place as a minister of the gospel. The real object of the volume is to present in strong pictures the desolating power of intemperance. This feature is wrought out in the sad history of the lives of other characters in the story. The book is written in fascinating style, and will be read with great interest and profit. 254 pages, 16mo..... $0 75

BERGER, DANIEL, D.D. History of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ. A complete record of the progress of the denomination from its origin to the present time, prepared and published under the direction of the General Conference. The history is authentic in every way, as the author has had access to all important documents and publications. The contents include: General History, from the beginning in the last century to the present; Departments of Church Work; Annual Conferences; Historical and Statistical Tables; Appendix; and Index. The volume is a handsome octavo, profusely illustrated, containing about 700 pages, and tastefully bound in cloth. Price $3 00

BOOKWALTER, LEWIS, D.D. The Family; or, The Home and the Training of Children. With an introduction by G. A. Funkhouser, D.D., and an appendix on "The Home School," by Rev. I. L. Bookwalter. This volume is the outgrowth of a series of lectures delivered by the author in Union Biblical Seminary. The first three chapters are the lectures thus delivered —(1) "The Family as an Institution"; (2) "The Husband and Wife and their Relations"; (3) "The Relation Between Parents and Children." The fourth chapter is entitled, "Words to Parents." The book is one of the best of its kind. It is a clear, plain, forcible presentation of the vital points connected with the family and home government. It should be read by both ministers and laymen, and its teachings carefully observed. 12mo, cloth, 111 pages. Price 60

DRURY, A. W., D.D. Disciplines of the United Brethren in Christ. Part I., in English, 1814-1841. Part II., in German, 1814-1819, 1841. Edited by Prof. A. W. Drury, D.D. Translated and reprinted from the originals. The most important of the early Disciplines of the Church, separate copies of which it is very difficult to procure, are here published in convenient form for general circulation. The earliest copies having been published originally in German only, these have been translated and appear in this volume in both English and German, as do several others of later date. The reprint includes the curious errors of spelling, punctuation, capitals, and typography, which have been followed as closely as possible without photographic reproduction. 12mo, cloth, 341 pages, postpaid ..... net 1 00

KEPHART, REV. C. J., A.M. Jesus the Nazarene. A Brief Life of our Saviour, With a Parallel Harmony. The story of Christ's life arranged in chronological order and divided into chapters, indicating the years of his work. The style is clear, and the method of treatment excellent. The unique feature is the arrangement of the harmony and the references to the corresponding Scripture passages by columns in the margin. At a glance the reader can tell exactly in what portion of each Gospel he may find the narrative. The author very clearly explains the important questions regarding the dates of Jesus' life, the length of his ministry, etc. The author is thoroughly conversant with matters pertaining to the life of Christ, and his treatment is authoritative. The arrangement of this work makes it especially valuable to Sunday-school teachers and Bible students. A very careful introduction has been furnished by Dr. C. R. Blackall, editor of the Baptist Sabbath-school Literature, who is distinguished as a thorough Bible scholar and earnest Sunday-school worker. The book includes an appendix containing a brief dictionary of places, people, and institutions of Palestine mentioned in the Gospels, a general index, and a Scripture index. 12mo, cloth.....net 50

—— The Public Life of Christ. May be sold by subscription. Terms made known on application.

—— Life of Jesus for Children. A series of questions and answers, designed especially for use in instructing children. The plan adopted in the preparation of this little book is the most simple and practical one for the accomplishment of the purpose in view. It consists of questions on the leading facts in the life of Jesus, simply stated for children, with the answers in simple language as nearly like that of the Bible as possible. The Scripture reference is always given, so that older children may search for themselves. The incidents are arranged in chronological order. Admirably adapted for use at home, in the Sunday school, in junior young people's societies, or in any class for the teaching of Bible truth to children. 18mo, clearly printed, and bound in tough paper. Price, each, postpaid..... $0 15

MOOREHEAD, W. G., D.D. Studies in the Mosaic Institutions: The Tabernacle, the Priesthood, the Sacrifices, the Feasts of Ancient Israel. The aim of these studies is to show that the essential truths of Christianity were embedded in the rites established by Moses. The book is occupied with these main features of ancient Judaism: The Place of Worship, Ministry of Worship, Means of Worship, and Seasons of Worship, and besides being a valuable treatise on the religious rites and ceremonies of the Jews, shows the vital connection between them and the truths of Christianity as taught in the New Testament. There are excellent illustrations of the Tabernacle, the Court, the Furniture, etc. 12mo, cloth. Price, postpaid..... $1 25

COURSES OF STUDY FOR MINISTERS OF THE UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH.

Adopted by the General Conference, 1897.

The prices of the books named herein are as low as possible. It has seemed right to make a difference in the cost of most of the books, between those paid for with the order and those charged on account. This rule must be insisted upon; if the entry is made upon the books the Charge Price must be paid; if the cash accompanies the order the Cash Price only will be expected. In all cases, if the books are to be sent by mail or by prepaid express, the postage must be added. Otherwise the books will be sent by express, carriage not prepaid.

The Merrymount Press, Boston

Its Publications: and some Notes on new Types, Papers and Wood Blocks, lately collected in France, England, and Italy, for its equipment.

To the Trade

The size of its founts enable the Press to undertake the printing of books on a larger scale than hitherto.

The Merrymount Press

Its Work

MR. D. B. UPDIKE, desires to call the attention of Publishers and the Trade in general to the facilities afforded for good printing at THE MERRYMOUNT PRESS.

Books of all sorts which require an individual treatment—novels, volumes of poetry, genealogies, sermons—are undertaken at the Press under MR. UPDIKE'S supervision, and the plates supplied to publishers, or the whole book produced and furnished in complete form.

MR. UPDIKE begs to say that he has, during his recent journey abroad, enlarged his present interesting founts of old style types, to such proportions that he is now equipped for book-work.

Among founts new to THE MERRYMOUNT PRESS are several interesting series of English types dating from the beginning of this century, with their appropriate ornaments; a series of French types after the best old models; a series of Roman types of the sixteenth century from the original matrices (German) and some Dutch and Italian series of figures and initials.

In addition to these, he has been able to secure some old Italian woodblocks, and French copper plates, a stock of old hand-made paper from a mill in the north of Italy, and marbled paper of the eighteenth century, have also been bought for the work of the Press.

Estimates for work will be furnished on application.

THE ALTAR BOOK alluded to on the following page was set up at THE MERRYMOUNT PRESS, and this was followed by THE NIGHTINGALE—both books creditable, it is believed, in their workmanship.

THE ALTAR BOOK: CONTAINING THE ORDER FOR THE CELEBRATION OF THE HOLY EUCHARIST, ACCORDING TO THE USE OF THE AMERICAN CHURCH. WITH THE COLLECTS, EPISTLES AND GOSPELS OF THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER FOR ALL THE SUNDAYS AND HOLY DAYS OF THE YEAR.

According to the Standard Book of Common Prayer of 1892. With the ancient Plain-song by MERBECKE, edited and arranged by Sir JOHN STAINER, with seven original full-page illustrations by ROBERT ANNING BELL, fourteen borders by BERTRAM GOODHUE, and about 300 initials by the same hand. Preceded and followed by heraldic designs engraved by SHERBORN. Printed on ARNOLD hand-made paper, text fully rubricated, with music in red and black. Printed at THE DEVINNE PRESS, NEW YORK, from a fount of "Merrymount" type designed for this volume by GOODHUE, and set up at THE MERRYMOUNT PRESS, BOSTON. Bound in pigskin, fastened by metal clasps. Edition limited to 350 copies. Imperial folio, 11 by 15 inches, $75.00.

This book numbers among its subscribers the Rector of Trinity Church, New York; of Trinity Church, Boston; the Dean of the General Theological Seminary, New York; the Rector of the American Church of the Holy Trinity, Paris, and many other well-known clergy. For persons wishing to give The Altar Book to Churches as a Memorial, a simple form of inscription has been prepared, printed in the type and on the paper of the book; and The Altar Book is thus used in S. Stephen's Church, Providence; Grace Church Chantry, New York; S. George's Church, New York; Trinity Mission, New York; S. Stephen's Church, Boston; Trinity Church, Buffalo; S. Andrew's Church, Rochester; S. James's Church, Chicago, and many others. The Altar Book has also been largely bought by collectors of fine books. A full descriptive circular showing specimen pages will be sent on application to the Publisher.

NOTICES

JOSEPH PENNELL, LONDON CHRONICLE

Mr. Pennell in an article on the recent Arts and Crafts Exhibition in London, after speaking of the books there shown, says: "But if one wishes to see a really successful example of illustration and of printing, one must turn to 'The Altar Book.' . . . . For sharp, clean, perfect printing, it utterly outdistances the Kelmscott Press. . . . Mr. Morris himself has been improved upon."

D. B. UPDIKE, The Merrymount Press. No. 7 TREMONT PLACE, BEACON ST., BOSTON

THE STUDIO, LONDON

The Altar Book is a really notable production. . . . The pictures must needs be regarded as Mr. Bell's most serious efforts in illustration. . . . The borders by Mr. Goodhue are full of vigour and display a really fine sense of decoration. . . . The heraldic designs on copper by Mr. Sherborn are masterpieces of their sort. . . . As a piece of fine press-work, the volume is notable. . . . Good taste marks every detail of its production.

THE NATION, NEW YORK

Mr. Updike deserves well of his Church for the labour of love which has produced this magnificent volume. . . . It is exactly and precisely what the Church prescribes, and nothing else. . . . And the book has the great advantage of being issued by authority. So far as we know, no similar missal possesses this. . . . What was accomplished by the missal painter of the Middle Ages, Mr. Updike gives us in the measure of our days by the most careful book-making and by decoration in black and white.

THE CHURCHMAN, NEW YORK

We welcome with sincere gratification this splendid volume. . . . The printer's art in this country has never produced anything so near approaching perfection.

THE NIGHTINGALE

By Hans Andersen. A Story for Children and Parable for Men and Women. With decorative title-page and four full-page illustrations by Mary Newill of The Birmingham Guild of Handicraft. Printed on Arnold hand-made paper. Small 4to, decorated boards, $1.25.

THE CRITIC, NEW YORK

A charming little volume. The illustrations are clear and effective, and the scene of the story being laid in China, have something the look of the pictures on old blue porcelain.

THE BOOKMAN, NEW YORK

A beautiful edition. . . . Exquisitely illustrated in modern decorative design.

THE QUEST

Printed by hand at the Press of The Birmingham Guild of Handicraft, upon hand-made paper. Each number contains borders, headpieces, tailpieces, initial letters and illustrations, by Gere, Edmund New, Louis Davis, Mary Newill, and others. A few sets still remain for 1896 (3 numbers) Price $2.00. No sets broken.

SATURDAY REVIEW

An unassuming and honest attempt to produce a work of art. It is not the mere creature of a passing fashion.

VEXILLA REGIS. (The Royal Banners)

A Book for Every Day. Compiled by L. B. S. (Lucy Bradlee Stone) With decorative title-page. 16mo, $1.25.

BOSTON HERALD

One of the best anthologies we have ever seen. . . . There is a certain refinement and grace in these selections which will be keenly appreciated.

Come Ye Apart. Daily Morning Readings in the Life of Christ.—By J. R. MILLER, D. D. 1 vol., 12mo; cloth, gilt top. $1.50. Red and white cover, gilt top, enclosed in red cloth outside cover. $1.75.

"Each day of the year has a page. At the top is a verse of Scripture, and this is followed by two or three sententious paragraphs containing the thoughts which the verse suggests. From page to page and from day to day the author leads his readers on, with instruction, edification, and spiritual stimulus."—Christian Observer.

Caleb Carthew.—A story from the pen of SILAS K. HOCKING, author of "Her Benny," &c. 1 vol., 12mo. $1.50.

"One of the successful children's story writers of England is the Rev. Silas K. Hocking, and on this side of the Atlantic his stories are not unknown."—S. S. Times.

Congo Rovers, (The).—By HARRY COLLINGWOOD. 1 vol., 12mo; cloth. Illustrated. 382 pp. $1.00.

David's Little Lad.—By L. T. MEADE. 1 vol., 12mo. 220 pp. $1.00.

"Simple in construction, and with scarcely a semblance of plot, yet with an unfolding from page to page that serves to charm and interest the reader. This book is well adapted for Sunday-school library use. The scene of the story is laid among the coal fields of Wales and the narrative itself is really nothing more than the every-day life of one of the landed families in that section. The account of the spiritual awakening and after life of Gladys, and the peaceful and forgiving spirit of her brother lend an air to the volume that will benefit as well as interest the reader."—S. S. Library Bulletin.

Deserted Jessie.—By MARY B. COLBY. 1 vol., 16mo. $1.00.

Deb and the Duchess.—By L. T. MEADE. A book for boys and girls, and the latest from this author's pen. With seven illustrations by M. ELLEN EDWARDS. Crown 8vo.; cloth. $1.50.

The Glasgow Herald says of "Deb and the Duchess": "A charming tale of charming children, who are naughty enough to be interesting and natural enough to be lovable; and very prettily their story is told."

Effie Wingate's Work.—By MARY DWINNELL CHELLIS. 1 vol.; 16mo. $1.25.

"A very wholesome book for young Christian workers. It would be a good addition to any Sunday-school library, and we would especially recommend it to the King's Daughters. Effie Wingate was certainly a true disciple of the Master, and like Him, forgot self in devotion to others."—S. S. Library Bulletin.

From Ploughshare to Pulpit.—By GORDON STABLES. 1 vol., 12mo; cloth. Illustrated. 310 pp. $1.50.

From Tannery to the White House.—The Life and Memoirs of General U. S. Grant, his boyhood, manhood, personal history, public life, sickness and death. By WM. M. THAYER. 1 vol., 12mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

Great Thinkers and Workers.—1 vol., 16mo; cloth. Illustrated. $1.00.

Life is too short; the world is too busy to read long biographies, even of the most notable men, unless they have an especial and personal interest to the reader, or are in line with his own career. But a person would be uncultured, indeed, who knew nothing whatever of the lives of those who have made footprints on the sands of time.

Great Historic Events.—1 vol., 16mo; cloth. Illustrated. 336 pp. $1.00.

Another capital book for boys. It is a collection of the more exciting happenings connected with the conquest of India by the British, the Indian Mutiny, the French revolutions of the past century, the crusades, the conquest of Mexico, and Napoleon's disastrous campaign against Russia. The book is tastefully printed and copiously illustrated. It contains a deal of wholesome instructive reading matter for the young.

Hints and Helps for the Christian Life.—By WAYLAND HOYT, D. D. 1 vol., 18mo; cloth, flex., red edges. 60c.

Her Opportunity.—By H. C. PEARSON. Companion volume to and uniform with "His Opportunity." Elegant 12mo; silk cloth. 462 pp. $1.50.

Helena's Household.—By JAMES DEMILLE. 1 vol., 12mo; cloth.

"A tale of Rome in the first century." Graphic story of life in Rome in Nero's reign. The early Christians; Greek philosophy beautifully expounded; the Apostle Paul in Rome; life at Nero's Court; the burning of Rome; persecution; the Catacombs; the war in Britain; the siege of Jerusalem. Told by a scholarly story-teller, who draws upon classic literature for his facts and conversations.

It is interesting and full of dramatic incidents. It is a beautiful picture of primitive Christianity. Strong religious purpose throughout. It makes Paul a real character. Deepens one's sense of the value of Christianity. Draws a life-like portrait of Nero. "The best exposition in English of the monotheism of the Greek poets," President Porter of Yale is said to have remarked. Many other strong excellences.—The S. S. Library Bulletin.

Handbook for Workers.—By Rev. M. R. DRURY. Leather bound. 25c

Jerry McAuley; His Life and Work.—With introduction by the Rev. S. IRENÆUS PRIME, D. D., and personal Sketches by A. S. HATCH. Edited by Rev. R. M. OFFORD. 1 vol., 16mo; cloth. Illustrated. 227 pp. $1.00.

Little Folks' Speaker (The).—By O. AUGUSTA CHENEY. 1 vol., 16mo; boards. 172 pp. 50c.

Lives of Good and Great Women.—1 vol., 16mo; cloth. Illustrated. 288 pp. $1.00.

A collection of sketches of twenty-six famous women, among whom may be mentioned Queen Victoria, Florence Nightingale, Baroness Burdett-Coutts, Rosa Bonheur, Frances Burney, Lady Jane Grey, Charlotte Brontë, Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. Browning, Jenny Lind, Louisa Alcott and Miss Muloch. It is a book for the young, and especially for girls. As the compiler says in his preface, "A good life is the best of sermons," and he has given us here a collection of as instructive and valuable sermons as could be culled from the ranks of womankind. No girl can read the life stories of these good women without feeling herself inspired to better thought and noble endeavor.

Sybil Trevyllian.—By LYNDON. Author of "Margaret" and "Oxley." 1 vol., 12mo; cloth. $1.50.

What Rev. Dr. Lathrop says of it:

"I have been so much interested in the story of 'Sybil Trevyllian' that I am constrained to send you a line expressive of my high appreciation of the skill displayed by the author, not only in the telling of the story, but also and especially in her admirable character-drawing, and, in a word, in the literary excellence of the entire production. I read, with keen interest, 'Margaret' and 'Oxley,' at the time of their appearance, but Lyndon, in 'Sybil Trevyllian,' has surpassed itself."—Examiner.

Sunshine Among the Clouds; or, the McDonalds.—A Story of Trust and Trial. By W. D. HEDDEN. 1 vol., 12mo. Illustrated. $1.00.

Transfigured Life (The), Words to Help in Making Shining Lives.—By J. R. MILLER, D. D. 1 vol., 16mo; vellum cover. 20c.

"This booklet cannot help being an inspiration to any thoughtful person who reads it. It depicts the ideal Christian life and shows how it may be lived."

Teetotaler Dick; His Adventures, Temptations and Triumphs.—A temperance story. 1 vol., 12mo; cloth. 6 full-page illustrations. 418 pp. $1.50.

"This is a temperance story of particular interest, in which the young son of a drunkard, unaided by his environment, outstrips all his associates even, and becomes the confidant of his employer, who sends him abroad on business, takes him into the firm, and at length looks with gratification upon his marriage to his own daughter. Some of the indirect teachings of the story are extremely praiseworthy. Again, the growth of temperance sentiment is finely delineated by the suggestive contrast of the times of the drinking father with those of the abstinent son. We wish the book a large circulation."—Golden Rule.

There and Back.—By GEORGE MACDONALD. 1 vol., 12mo. 634 pp. $1.50.

A delightful and dramatic romance of a lost heritage and how it was regained, told with all that charming combination of practical and helpful Christianity that is at once the charm and value of George MacDonald's stories.

Recent Research in Bible Lands:

Its Progress and Results

By

J. F. McCurdy, Ph.D., LL.D.
Frederick Jones Bliss, Ph.D.
Herman V. Hilprecht, Ph.D., D.D.
A. H. Sayce, D.D., LL.D., D.C.L.
Professor Dr. Fritz Hommel.
William Hayes Ward, DD., LL.D.
J. P. Mahaffy, D.D., D.C.L.
W. M. Ramsay, LL.D., D.C.L.

Edited by

Professor Dr. Herman V. Hilprecht.

Too often, in these days of specialism, is it necessary for one who would have the latest and most authoritative word on a subject either to get, at a great expense, the elaborate or technical work written by the expert, or to be content with a collection of the facts brought together by some one who possibly is in no sense fitted to grasp and present the necessary salient points. Until the appearance of the book entitled " Recent Research in Bible Lands," there had never been published, on either side of the Atlantic, a single book in which the clergyman, the intelligent layman, or the skilled specialist, could find the main facts concerning recent discovery in the East, with the bearing of such discovery on the Bible. In this book the experts and specialists themselves who have been most actively connected with the work in Palestine, Babylonia, Assyria, Egypt, and Arabia, write interesting, and often vivid, accounts of their researches, the results of which are among the most wonderful and important ever attained. The name of the Editor of the book stamps it as in the highest degree authoritative.

With an Introduction by Dr. Hilprecht, and with maps and profuse illustrations. 12mo, pp. 275. Price, $1.50.

"This is one of the most elegantly printed books which has come to our table for a long time. Its make-up is beautiful, in every respect. And yet its mechanical appearance is thrown into shadow by its contents."—Journal and Messenger.

"The beginner in these studies is often confused amid the multiplicity of details, and fails to ascertain the exact value of certain explorations; here he has the very information of which he is in need. There is no dry chapter in the book.—Zion's Herald.

"The editor of the work, whose special contribution is an article on Explorations in Babylonia, was able, through his close connection with the Babylonian Expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and his personal relation to the Imperial Ottoman Museum in Constantinople, as well as through his own personal explorations, to enrich the volume with a number of hitherto unpublished and very useful illustrations. His introductory paper strikingly shows the immense importance and value of the contents."—The Evangelist.

"An attractive volume is entitled 'Recent Research in Bible Lands,' and is the permanent form given to a series of articles prepared for The Sunday School Times—eight papers by such well-known authorities as Professors Hilprecht, Sayce, Mahaffy and others, on researches and explorations in Arabia, Egypt, Babylonia, and Palestine. A large map bound in convenient fashion, excellent illustrations, and ample indexes, and greatly to the usefulness of the book."—The Christian Advocate (New York).

Kadesh-barnea.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Its Importance and Probable Site, with the Story of a Hunt for it, including Studies of the Route of the Exodus and the Southern Boundary of the Holy Land.

Kadesh-barnea has long been recognized as the key to the history of the Israelites' wanderings in the wilderness, and its site has been in dispute for twenty centuries or more. Dr. Trumbull's discoveries in the East practically determine the route of the exodus, the main outlines of the wanderings, and the southern boundary of the Holy Land. The bearing of this book on current questions of the "higher criticism," and on the latest discoveries among the ruins of Lower Egypt, will command for it the attention of biblical scholars generally. The story of the desert hunt for the lost site of Kadesh-barnea is an attractive story of adventure quite out of the usual experience of travelers. Medium 8vo, pp. 478, with two maps and four full-page illustrations. Price, $3.00.

"This is the most important work upon the geography of the Holy Land produced in America since the 'Biblical Researches' of Edward Robinson. . . . Dr. Trumbull . . . has established the site of Kadesh-barnea so thoroughly, and so fortified his conclusions on every hand, that we believe no one hereafter will think of questioning them. . . . The book is written in an interesting and fervent style. The author grapples with his readers. His enthusiasm is contagious. The critic has to take care and stand firm lest he be swept off his feet. We thank Dr. Trumbull for his labor of love and enthusiasm. He has done honor to American pluck and indefatigable research. We are proud of the book and the man."—PROFESSOR C. A. BRIGGS, in The Presbyterian Review.

The Blood Covenant.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Primitive Rite, and its Bearings on Scripture. Revised and enlarged edition.

The disclosures of this book throw light on the terminology of Scripture. They show what such words as "blood," "life," "life-giving," "sacrifice," "communion," meant at the time of the writing of the Bible; and incidentally they show how mistaken have been the modern popular views of those terms. It is not, strictly speaking, a theological treatise, but it presents primitive facts by which theological opinions must be tested. The first edition of this work was received with high praise on both sides of the Atlantic. The new edition contains important additions, as meeting questions raised by eminent critics in their reviews of the work. Small 8vo, pp. 390. Price, $2.00.

"A flood of light is poured on the Incarnation, the Atonement, the Lord's Supper. Dr. Trumbull believes his thesis. He argues for it strongly, with wide and accurate learning, and with reverent faith. He has written a book that every Christian student ought to read,—and to reread. You may not agree with it, but you will find it bristling with facts and remarkably suggestive. If the author is right in his positions, then both exegesis and theology as human sciences of divine things are improvable sciences. The value of the book to a student is increased by a long appendix and by topical and biblical indices."—The Examiner.

Studies in Oriental Social Life.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

These studies are on Betrothals and Weddings in the East, Hospitality in the East, and Funerals and Mourning in the East. To these are added various topical studies of Oriental ideas and customs, such as Prayers and Praying in the East, Calls for Healing in the East, The Primitive Idea of "The Way," The Oriental Idea of "Father," The Samaritan Passover, Lessons of the Wilderness, etc. Taken together, these chapters cover nearly the whole social life of the East, and furnish a key to the social environment of the Bible story. Nor are they without their bearings on many matters now in controversy among biblical critics.

While the various topics of this book are presented in the light of careful study, they are treated popularly. Hence the work will have value alike to scholars on the one hand, and to general readers on the other. It is very different from a mere book of travels in the East, or from a miscellaneous collection of Oriental illustrations, while it has the advantages of both, and more. Topical and scriptural indexes render it available for use in Bible study generally. Medium 8vo, pp. 437. Illustrated. Price, $2.50.

"Dr. Trumbull's treatment is simplicity itself, without any laborious theory. He groups a large number of incidents and occurrences from his own observation and his wide reading, which make vivid and lifelike the environment of the biblical narrative. . . . On each of these subjects there are those minute incidents which are frequent enough in the East, but whose knowledge is difficult, and which are indispensable to the Bible student . . . . Taken together, the book is one of the most useful additions to the Bible student's library to be procured anywhere. It is certain to prove of great value in the Bible class, and its freedom from the polemic spirit, its keen observation, and its broad comprehension of the subject, are certain to lead to its general use."—The Press, Philadelphia.

The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture.

By the Rt. Hon. WILLIAM EWART GLADSTONE, M.P.

A series of articles written for The Sunday School Times by Mr. Gladstone, and afterwards issued in book form by a special arrangement with their eminent author. Revised and enlarged edition.

This book shows how the Bible appears to a statesman and man of affairs, after he has carefully weighed the evidence which the critics have brought against it. Perhaps Mr. Gladstone's powers were never used to better purpose than in the writing of this book. Cloth, gilt top, with portrait and facsimile letter of commendation from Mr. Gladstone to his American readers. 12mo, pp. 424. Price, $1.00.

"We believe it to be one of the most timely, and, in certain respects, most valuable, contributions that have lately been made to the discussion relative to the divine inspiration and authority of the Scriptures."—The Advance.

"The book is marked by the peculiar beauties belonging to the gifted author. It is rich in argument, brilliant in wit, full of varied illustrations, wide and philosophic in thought."—Journal and Messenger.

The Divine Order of Human Society.

By ROBERT ELLIS THOMPSON, S.T.D.

Professor Thompson is widely known as a writer on social and economic problems. By appointment of the Faculty of Princeton Theological Seminary, he lectured, in the winter of 1891, on Christian Sociology. His lectures, which then awakened the keenest enthusiasm of the students, were at once published in book form. They discuss the practical problems of the family, the nation, the school, and the church, in the light both of the Scriptures and of modern experience. Cloth, gilt top, uncut edges. 12mo, pp. 274. Price, $1.00.

"It is a noticeable utterance, and is fitted to emancipate many a mind from the bonds of narrowness, whether found in political or religious thinking."—Public Opinion.

"In no volume of our acquaintance is the whole social problem so fully and so satisfactorily presented."—The Christian Intelligencer.

Fishin' Jimmy

BY ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON.

This is altogether the most popular of Mrs. Slosson's exquisite New England stories. "Fishin' Jimmy" is a devout, simple-hearted, mountain fisherman,—skilled in nature-lore, quick of sympathy, and artlessly ready in heroic self-sacrifice. To know him is to know better the fruitfulness of faith, and the uplifting power of an unselfish purpose.

The book is now issued by the Publishers of The Sunday School Times. More than twenty thousand copies of it were circulated by its former publishers. Bound in fine cloth, with frontispiece illustration. Square 12mo, pp. 38. Price, 30 cents.

Friendship the Master-Passion.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Treatise on the Nature and History of Friendship, and Its Place as a Force in the World.

The claim is boldly made in this book that friendship has been a more potent factor in the world's forces than any other sentiment or passion, not excepting ambition, avarice, or love; and the cumulative proofs of this thesis are presented in detail. Part I. treats of the Nature and Scope of Friendship. Part II. gives examples of Friendship in History, including all the great epoch-makers in the realms of royalty, heroism, religious progress, struggle for civil liberty, philosophy, and poetry. It is very handsomely published, and is well suited for a gift-book for the holidays, or any other season. Medium 8vo, pp. 413. In box. Price, $3.00.

"Thorough scholarship, good sense, and a frank belief in sentiment as a manly attribute, permeate Dr. Henry Clay Trumbull's essay on 'Friendship the Master-Passion.' Unfortunately, the English language has no words suitable to fill the gap between acquaintance and friend, and the word 'friend' has been forced to do service for every form of mutual interest. Dr. Trumbull, however, disregards these intermediate forms of friendliness, and places the sentiment of friendship, as he uses the word, above the lover's love. It is the love of Jonathan for David, Damon for Pythias, 'love with the selfish element eliminated,' the purest and highest form of human affection, which is here studied in its psychological, ethical, religious, historical, and poetic bearings. This volume is filled with a spirit not often found this side of the Elizabethans, and in refreshing contrast to the modern good-natured but unconcerned treatment of the word and thing."—The Outlook.

The Knightly Soldier.

By CHAPLAIN H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Biography of Major Henry Ward Camp. New and revised edition.

This book was written while the War was still in progress. The inspiration, and the pressure, of active service in the field, were upon its writer, as he hastened to complete the life-record of his friend. It was published, in Boston, in the spring of 1865; and it rapidly passed from one edition to another, with a steady growth in public favor.

Major Camp was an exceptionally choice specimen of the best student-soldier of the Union. His biographer was his intimate friend, and his close companion in camp, in field, and in prison. In these respects the book is unique among the personal stories of the War. So clearly was this recognized by the reading public generally, that its sixth edition appeared with the special endorsement of the governors of all the New England states, and of fifteen prominent college presidents, East and West. It is in view of this record of its earlier success that the book is again given to the public, in response to repeated requests for its reappearance. 12mo, pp. 323. Illustrated. Price, $1.50.

"We are glad to see a 'new and revised' edition of 'The Knightly Soldier.' Not that the first edition required 'revision' of any kind, but simply for the merit of the book from the first, and its value as an inspiring tribute to one of the noblest young heroes who offered up his life in the last war. When we first read the book we thought it was the very best biography that had grown out of the War. As we look it over now in the new edition, it has lost none of its freshness, and we still are unable to think of any other to compare with it. The young student-soldier and his memoir are both perfect in their way. If any in all that struggle deserved the lines which Dr. Bushnell applied to Camp in his commemorative address at Yale in 1865, he did:

'For Lycidas is dead, dead ere his prime,
Young Lycidas, and hath not left his peer.'"

The Independent.

A Lie Never Justifiable.

A STUDY IN ETHICS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull proves his thesis by a careful treatment of the duty of veracity, and of the sin of lying, in the light of Bible teachings, of ethnic conceptions, and of centuries of discussion. The book is written in the crisp, straightforward style of one who is seeking to clear up real difficulties, and bring great principles into the light. 16mo, pp. 250, cloth, gilt top. Price, $1.00.

"Whatever Dr. Henry Clay Trumbull writes is sure to be scholarly, vigorous, and original in view. His latest work, 'A Lie Never Justifiable,' is no exception, for it is an able and earnest defense of the position that a lie's a lie for a' that, and in spite of the fact that good and learned men a-many in the past or at the present time do not bring it under wholesale condemnation under all circumstances. . . . One of the best points in the book is the writer's emphasizing the need of stricter definition for the word, confusion arising from a confounding of justifiable concealment with wilful deception."—The Hartford Courant.

Prayer:

ITS NATURE AND SCOPE.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

These thoughts about prayer were for the most part brought out in hours of earnest discussion. They are written primarily for the meeting of difficulties which trouble many minds with reference to the true basis of prayer, its scope and its limitations. No one can intelligently read the book without gaining a clear conception of what prayer is, what it ought to be to every one, and why it is not always what it ought to be. Those who have an interest in prayer will welcome Dr. Trumbull's helpful explainings and plain definings. 12mo, pp. vi, 160. Beautifully bound in dark blue, white and gold. Price, 75 cents.

"There is such spiritual quality to Dr. Trumbull's writings that they have a charm all their own."—Religious Herald.

"A clear and crisp presentation of a subject often surrounded with mystery in Christian minds. We commend its perusal to those who are honestly seeking to know what prayer is and to learn how to pray."—The New York Observer.

In Tribulation:

OR, THE BLESSING OF TRIALS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Words of comfort are needed by every one. The proffered words of comfort in this book are written out of experience in trials, and in their blessing, and they show what we can gain through trials as in no other way. The book abounds in hopeful views of life, and in courage-inspiring revealings of the "bright side." 12mo, pp. vi, 150. Bound in fine cloth, gilt top. Price, 75 cents.

The Point of Contact in Teaching.

A Plea for the Little Children of the Sunday-School.

By PATTERSON DU BOIS

The ideal point at which a child's attention is to be engaged, or his instruction is to begin, is an experience or point of contact with life. One who understands this truth need never have any great difficulty in getting an entry into the child's mind. In order to make it effective for the Sunday-school teacher, Mr. Du Bois wrote and issued a little tract on this subject two years ago. It was not only immediately appreciated by Sunday-school workers, but some of the secular normal schools, discovering its universal educational value, quickly absorbed a large part of the edition. It is now republished with considerable amplification for the sake of greater explicitness, and with numerous illustrations showing how the principle has been, and therefore can be, applied in dealing with individual scholars, with classes, and with schools. 12mo, about 100 pages. Bound in fine cloth. Price, 60 cents.

"As soon as I read it, I felt that I must send for more copies to give to young teachers among my acquaintance."—Mrs. Merrill E. Gates.

"Let me know the price of it, that I may recommend it to the scores of mothers who come to me in their perplexity about the International lessons for their little ones."—Elizabeth Harrison.

"I rejoice that a truth so sadly forgotten by those who should remember it most has received so emphatic a restatement at your hands."—E. Morris Fergusson.

Hints on Child-Training.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Series of Thirty Articles on the Nature and Scope and Methods of the Wise Training of Children.

This work is the ripest result of the lifetime study and experience of a Christian educator, in the sphere of the home training of children, as distinct from their teaching in the week-day school or the Sunday-school. Every precept in its pages has been tested by the principles of Christian philosophy, and by actual experiment in more than one generation of little ones. 12mo, pp. 311, cloth, gilt top. Price, $1.00.

"One can scarcely read a page of the book without coming upon some thought or suggestion that will be helpful in properly dealing with the boy or the girl that we know. If this book were studied by every parent who now has a flock of little ones around him, we do not at all doubt that the effect would be very perceptible on the whole American people in its coming generation."—The Lutheran.

Beckonings from Little Hands.

By PATTERSON DU BOIS.

Eight Studies in Child-life. With designs and drawings by the author, and with process-work copies from photographs.

This book appeals not only to parents, but to other students of child life and child nature, because of its scientific deductions from careful observation and experiment on the part of an observing father in peculiarly close relations to his little ones. It is not a memoir, but a study of the most enlightening, sympathetic, and helpful sort, and as such will be welcomed by the teacher and the student of children.

The "Beckonings" are a subtle revelation, not only of child nature, but of the significance of many a commonplace incident in the life of the child.

Where and how the children are so often misunderstood—how to get at what the little ones really do mean—how to help them and not hinder them at times which seem, and are, very hard to them—how to be the best kind of a father or mother at all such times—all this is touched upon skilfully and helpfully. These "Beckonings" are real beckonings from real children,—real incidents from real life, illustrating principles which ought to actuate true fatherhood and motherhood everywhere. 16mo, pp. 182. Illustrated. Price, $1.25.

"No one can read that little book without acquiring more loving sympathy, more psychical knowledge of children's needs, their struggles and their victories. I have rarely read a book which has so touched me. . . . It ought to be in the hands of every earnest parent in the land."—Elizabeth Harrison, Principal of Chicago Kindergarten College.

"To me it is one of the most touching and helpful volumes in my bookcase. I do not tire of the lovely child faces in it, and the consecrated vision of parenthood it unveils to me is ever fresh and inspiring."—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

"The whole book is written in a noble spirit of tenderness and humility, and shows alike insight and the keenest sympathy."—Richard Burton, in The Hartford Courant.

"It is such a tender and subtle study of real little souls and hearts."—Frances Hodgson Burnett.

"I have nowhere seen anything approaching it in tender suggestiveness, and appreciation of child life."—Margaret E. Sangster, editor of Harper's Bazar.

"A man who has read it as thoroughly as I have, cannot say too much good about it."—Edward W. Bok, Editor The Ladies' Home Journal.

"The book has touched me deeply because it records so many intimate experiences."—Professor H. H. Boyesen, Columbia College.

"I have read parts of it twice—the chapters called 'The Fire Builders' and 'The Unconscious Tribute.' These two studies have in them that sweet natural pathos which is always the despair of mere art. The book throughout is full of the tenderest lessons, and I would it might fall into the hands of every man and woman to whom God has entrusted the care of little children."—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

Principles and Practice.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

A Series of Brief Essays. In six volumes, each volume complete in itself.

1. OURSELVES AND OTHERS.
2. ASPIRATIONS AND INFLUENCES.
3. SEEING AND BEING.
4. PRACTICAL PARADOXES.
5. CHARACTER-SHAPING AND CHARACTER-SHOWING.
6. DUTY-KNOWING AND DUTY-DOING.

These Essays, in the realm of character and conduct, deal with fundamental principles in their application to the affairs of every-day life. Into each of the six volumes are clustered those essays which bear a logical relation to one another and to a truth common to them all. Sq. 16mo, 200 pages per book, tastefully bound in cloth, and enclosed in a box. As a Christmas gift, these books will be found most attractive and helpful. Price, $2.50 a set, or fifty cents a volume for less than a set.

"These essays show a keen power of discrimination, united to clearness of statement, aptness of illustration, and felicity in the art of putting things. The author seeks to touch the deeper springs of life and character. His themes, therefore, are living ones, and his treatment of them fresh, earnest, and both morally and intellectually stimulating."—The Christian Register.

Yale Lectures on the Sunday-School.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

The Sunday-school: Its Origin, Mission, Methods, and Auxiliaries. The Lyman Beecher Lectures before Yale Divinity School for 1888.

Every pastor, superintendent, and thoughtful Sunday-school teacher, will wish to possess this book sooner or later. It deals with the principles underlying the Sunday-school as an institution, and with its relations to the family, to the pulpit, and to other spheres of church work. Small 8vo, pp. 415. Handsomely bound in cloth. Price, $1.50.

"These lectures will not only hold their own in the brilliant series of Lyman Beecher Lectures before the Yale Divinity School, but they stand alone on merits of their own as the unique presentation of a subject which has not before received so worthy a treatment. The volume is prepared for convenient use, with a bibliographical and topical index."—The Independent.

"It is an evidence of the progress which has been made in recognizing the true dignity of the Sunday-school, that a course of lectures on this theme should have been called for in a leading theological seminary. It is an equally notable proof of the same thing, that, in response to such a call, such a course of lectures should have been secured."—The Congregationalist.

Teaching and Teachers.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull's book "Teaching and Teachers" has already found its way into the hands of many thousand Sunday-school workers. Nearly thirty thousand copies have been sold. It is to-day the popular hand-book on Sunday-school teaching. 12mo, pp. 390, bound in cloth. Price, $1.00.

"Every teacher in Sunday-school will feel his work widened in scope by reading this book. It is by far the best that has yet appeared, or is likely to appear, on this topic, and the thoroughness for which this calls would be an unspeakable blessing to every school in the land."—The Outlook.

"We hesitate a little in speaking of this book, from fear that our language may be thought extravagant. We believe that a better book on the subject has never appeared, and that, if read and pondered, it will open a new era in Bible-school instruction."—The National Baptist.

A Model Superintendent.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

An object-lesson will help a superintendent more than will a fine-spun theory. The book "A Model Superintendent" shows how a good superintendent actually did his work:—In the study; with the teachers; in the desk; with the scholars; among the records; at special services. It is a sketch of the life and work of Henry P. Haven, of the International Lesson Committee, by the Editor of The Sunday School Times. Bound in cloth, with fine steel portrait of Mr. Haven. 12mo, pp. 188. Price, $1.00.

"He was indeed a model superintendent, and this book tells how he became such: it exhibits his methods, and gives, besides, the precise forms and exercises which he used. Edited so ably and intelligently, and possessing in itself such valuable characteristics, the volume will be widely useful."—The New York Observer.

"We hardly know of a volume which so pleasantly and so thoroughly introduces a novice to the methods of work that have been introduced, by that sanctified common sense with which Mr. Haven was liberally endowed, in our best regulated modern Sunday-schools."—The Examiner and Chronicle.

Teachers'-Meetings.

THEIR NECESSITY AND METHODS.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Dr. Trumbull believes that a Sunday-school is not a Sunday-school without a teachers'-meeting. He not only shows why this is true, but he tells, with practical illustrations, how such meetings may be conducted successfully even under difficulties which are commonly supposed to be prohibitive of this essential exercise. Every superintendent who is in earnest about the perfecting of the work of his school ought to know this book through and through. 12mo, pp. 60. Bound in fine cloth. Price, 30 cents.

The Ten Commandments.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

Here is a new view of the Ten Commandments in the light of Oriental methods of thought and manner of speech. Instead of being arbitrary commands of God, they are shown to be ten clauses in a covenant of love. To gain this view of them is to learn how love is the fulfilling of the law. 12mo, pp. 38. Price, 25 cents.

"Dr. Trumbull is a thinker and a lucid writer. Clear thoughts and plain words are apt to go together. He puts the Decalogue in a new light, not viewing it as a summary of commands, but as the conditions of treaty between God and man. Readers will find new ideas dawning while they trace the lines of this admirable little booklet."—Michigan Christian Advocate.

Light on the Story of Jonah.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

The book of Jonah has been for centuries an object of special interest to Bible scholars as well as of doubts and sneers to scoffers. This study of it brings into new relations with it important facts in recent Assyrian discoveries, and in the history of Nineveh. It attracted attention among scholars on the occasion of its reading before the American Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, and it can be read to advantage by all who are interested in the truth of the Bible story. 12mo, pp. 19, with illustrations. Price, 20 cents.

"H. Clay Trumbull finds a welcome awaiting everything he writes. His books are always deeply thoughtful, original, and brilliant. This scholarly argument, written so lucidly and reverently, will show to thousands of Bible students new power and beauty and significance in one of the most marvelous bits of history recorded in the Old Testament."—The Golden Rule.

Two Northfield Sermons.

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL.

I. MORAL COLOR-BLINDNESS. II. OUR DUTY OF MAKING THE PAST A SUCCESS.

These sermons of Dr. Trumbull before the conferences of college students at Northfield impressed their hearers at the first time of their delivery, and their influence has been recognized in the lives of not a few since then. They are now published in permanent form in response to frequent requests for copies of them. Their practical lessons bear directly on present duty, and are an incitement to high endeavor in manly living. In one volume. 12mo, pp. 53. Price, 30 cents.

"These two handsomely printed sermons, delivered to young men, mostly college students, during the summer season, are sound, simple, striking, and stimulating."—The Lutheran.

"They are excellent sermons, choice in diction, and intensely practical. For young persons they will serve a noble purpose."—Wesleyan Methodist.

The National Hymn-Book.

Edited by ROBERT ELLIS THOMPSON, S.T.D.

Comprising the hymns which are common to the hymnaries of the Baptists, Congregationalists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Methodists, Presbyterians, and of the Reformed churches, with the most usual tunes.

The practical value of this book in union meetings, hotel services, and the like, will be readily apparent. Hardly a hymn can be chosen from it which would not be familiar to any gathering of Christians, since every hymn in the book is a standard hymn, set to its usual tune, and is well known in all the leading denominations. It is bound in fine cloth, and is easily kept wide open. 12mo, pp. 188. Price: per hundred, $50; per dozen, $6.50; single copies by mail, 60 cents.

"One who notes each hymn in the collection, going through the book from page to page, cannot but be impressed with the conviction that almost every one is, tested by the highest standards, a classic. They are the 'finest of the wheat,' without blemish, and instinct with spiritual vitality and power."—The Advance.

Arnold's Chart of Paul's Journeyings

Prepared by C. E. Arnold, A.M.

The routes followed and places visited by Paul in his journeyings are shown on this chart by means of five clear outline maps. Each map represents a distinct period in Paul's work, and each is accompanied by full Scripture references.

The chart, as a whole, may be seen at a glance. It is printed upon strong map paper, and folds within stiff cloth covers, stamped in gold. When folded within its covers, it measures $6\frac{1}{4} \times 3\frac{1}{4}$ inches—a convenient pocket size, giving in compact form the very information which every student and teacher of the Bible needs to have right at hand in the study of Paul's life. Price, 20 cents.

"Most students of the life of St. Paul know how hard it is to bear in their memories the lines of the journeyings of the great apostle. . . . Separate maps delineate the three great journeys of the Apostle and his final voyage to Rome, and in the use of these maps the student will find that there is a memory of the eye as well as the memory of mental association which will assist him wonderfully in recollecting the outlines of the life of the great apostle to the Gentiles. We do not know a simpler or more useful aid to the study of the Acts of the Apostles."—The Church Standard.

"Arnold's 'Chart of Paul's Journeyings' is something that will prove most helpful, if not absolutely necessary, to every Bible student and teacher. . . . In studying the Sunday-school lessons, and in following the events of Paul's life, it is just what every Bible teacher needs."—Christian Work.

Byington's Chart of Jewish National History.

To fix in one's mind in consistent, easily remembered order, a series of great historical facts, is not readily done without eye help. Byington's Chart of Jewish National History gives just this help by the simplest, most direct method, in its showing forth, at a glance, the main issues of Jewish progress from Abraham to the Christ.

The chart is absolutely free from intricate tracings of any kind. It is ample in size—$3\frac{1}{2} \times 6$ feet—large typed and clear, and is sold at the low price of $1.00. Such charts are usually sold for several dollars, but The Sunday School Times plan is to give the very best matter at the lowest possible price. In its contents and size the chart is particularly well adapted for the use of the Sunday-school as a whole. Made on heavy map paper, and substantially mounted. Price, $1.00. Pocket edition bound in stiff cloth covers (size $4\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$). Price, 30 cents.

What two leading biblical experts write about it is a guarantee of its practical value:

"Admirable for simplicity and perspicuity. It tells at a glance the number of tribes which constituted the representative portion of the Hebrew people at each period of their history, from the days of Abraham to the final dissolution of the nation; it shows, at the same glance, their whereabouts at any moment of this time. Dates given are accurate, but vexed questions of chronology are not obtruded."—Prof. Dr. John D. Davis, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

"The beauty of Mr. Byington's chart is its simplicity. It aims to do just one thing,—namely, to present in a single view the external history of Israel. Confining itself to this one purpose, it dispenses with details, and omits disputed questions. I know of no other graphic device so well fitted to help one grasp rapidly and firmly an outline of the ascertained facts on which all knowledge of Israelitish history must be built up."—Prof. Dr. Willis J. Beecher, Auburn Theological Seminary, Auburn, N. Y.

The International Lessons.

(POCKET EDITION.)

Every teacher should have the pocket edition of the International Sunday-school lessons, with both the Common and the Revised Version given in full on opposite pages. A little book ($2\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ inches) containing all the lessons of the year, and fifty-two blank pages for notes. It is printed on thin, tough paper, and neatly bound in cloth, with side stamp in color and gold. Just the thing for those who wish to look over the lesson at odd minutes. Choice enough for a gift to teachers or scholars at Christmas. Single copy, by mail, twenty-five cents; five or more, twenty cents each. Bound in fine leather, fifty cents; five or more, forty cents each.

Terms of Subscription

ONE COPY, one year, ... $1.50
ONE COPY, five years, full payment in advance $5.00

To Ministers, Missionaries, and Theological Students, $1.00 a year, or $4.00 for five years, full payment in advance.

School Clubs

Any school, or any set of teachers, or of scholars, will be supplied with as many copies as may be desired, at the following yearly club rates:

For any number of copies (more than one) mailed to individual addresses, $1.00 each.

For five or more copies in a package to one address, 50 cents each. A package thus sent is addressed to one person only, and no names can be written or printed on the separate papers.

The papers for a club may be ordered sent partly to individual addresses at $1.00 each, and partly in a package to one address, at 50 cents each, when so desired.

The papers for a club should all go to one post-office, although in cases where a portion of the teachers of a school get their mail matter from one post-office, and others in the same school get theirs from another, the papers will be sent accordingly. This applies to package clubs, at the fifty-cent rate, to the extent that large clubs may be divided into packages of five or more, if desired.

Free Copies

One free copy, additional, will be allowed for every ten copies paid for in a club of either character. The free copies for package clubs cannot well be sent separately, but will be included in the package.

Additions may be made at any time to a club—such additional subscriptions to expire at the same time with the club as originally ordered, and the rate to be the proportionate share of the yearly club rate.

Schools that are open during only a portion of the year, may subscribe at club rates for such a length of time as the papers may be required.

Change of Address

Subscribers to whom the paper is mailed, separately, at the rate of $1.50 or $1.00 a year, may have the address changed at any time without charge. Members of package clubs do not have this privilege, but any such may have his paper changed from the package to an individual address, by paying fifty cents, the difference in the price of the two classes of subscriptions, or may order an extra copy of the paper sent to a vacation address, at the rate of three cents a week for a short term, or twenty-five cents for three months.

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR THE AUTUMN OF 1897

BOLANYO.

By Opie Read. A novel, 16 mo., cloth, 310 pp., $1.25. Cover (in four colors), designed by Maxfield Parrish, illustrations by Charles Francis Browne. Bolanyo is the story of an old town on the Mississippi River. The central figure is a state senator, with whims amusingly native to the soil, a kindly, humorous man, with a high opinion of himself, and with a shrewd political politeness. In Bolanyo Mr. Read has caught the essence, the spirit of the old town, its moods and its softness of atmosphere. The London Saturday Review says that Mr. Read is "always an artist, discovering beauty everywhere," and in no place has the artistic faculty found such scope and exercise as in Bolanyo. James Payn, the English novelist (London Illustrated News), says that Mr. Read has created an American companion for Colonel Newcome, and the author declares that in Bolanyo he has done his best character portrayal.

DREAMS OF TO-DAY.

By Percival Pollard. Frontispiece from a painting by Orson Lowell. Cloth, 16mo., 264 pp., $1.25; paper, 75 cents. The cover for the cloth edition was designed by Frank Hazenplug, and for the paper edition by Frank A. Nankivell. All interested in the progress America is making in the production of books that incontestably merit the title artistic will find a volume to their liking in "Dreams of To-Day," by Percival Pollard. The cover for the paper edition is from a design by that brilliant young artist, Frank A. Nankivell, whose black-and-whites are among the most promising things in American illustrative art. The cover, in colors and gold, will be a revelation of the artistic possibilities in cover designing. There is also a frontispiece by Orson Lowell. The stories composing the volume appeared for the most part in Volume 1 of the Chap-Book, where, owing to the scarcity of that volume, they have since become inaccessible. Much new and hitherto unpublished matter has been added and such sequence given the stories that the book is rather one long narrative than a series of disconnected sketches.

"This design is, in the opinion of many, the finest example of the illuminated cover that has been fashioned in America. It is utterly classic; it is allegorical; sitting in the ruins of ancient temples are two of the fabled dream-birds of Japan and a woman. One can do a great many things with the female figure, but it is hardly possible to be more coldly classical, more like marble and utter purity, than Mr. Nankivell has been in this figure. The mind that refuses this design on the score of nudity is a mind hopelessly depraved. In France, the colored, artistic book cover has long been a work of art. Such artists as Cheret, Steinlen, Toulouse-Lautrec and Mucha have given to books covers that made the heart of the book-lover glad. These were covers to preserve, to cherish, to bind carefully. It is such a cover that Mr. Nankivell has effected."—St. Louis Mirror.

CONSTANTINE.

By George Horton. A tale of Greece under King Otho. 16mo., gilt top, 232 pp., $1.25. This is a tale of modern Greece, and, if it does not thrill one like some of the classic stories, it is well worth reading, not only for its high literary merit, but for the insight it gives us of life in Greece in latter-day times. Imagination still holds sway over the Greek, and superstition still plays a part in his life. The author was the American Consul, and his long residence at Athens gave him the opportunity to study the country and its people in a way that does not fall to the lot of an ordinary visitor.

"Mr. George Horton, U. S. Consul at Athens, has written a story of Greece under King Otho, which he entitles "Constantine." It shows close and sympathetic observation of Greek life and character as well as many gifts of picturesque description. Indeed, the tragic story of his hero interests the reader from the moment his father's friend, Spiridon, discovers a treasure, and holds him until the pathetic story is completed in the madness and despair of the lover whose handsome, fickle mistress renounces him so easily for another. The life of the enterprising and adventurous Greek sailor is drawn for us with all its settings of simple and quaint superstitions and the tinge of romanticism and naturalness that belongs to historic races. There is a distinct flavor about Mr. Horton's work that will commend it to many."—Guardian, London.

THE REAL ISSUE.

A Book of Kansas Stories.

By William Allen White. Cover designed by Frank Hazenplug. Cloth, 16mo., 212 pages, $1.25. Mr. White's editorial, "What's Wrong With Kansas?" which was reprinted by the hundred thousand, and used as a campaign document, has already introduced him to a wide popularity.

If you don't care about lying awake half the night, or all night, for that matter, I would not advise you to pick up "The Real Issue," just as you rest your head upon the pillow, for if you have a fair light, and there is nobody in the room to make objections to it, you will not be likely to lay this handsome little volume down until you have read every line of the fifteen enchanting sketches of Western life and character which it contains. I know whereof I speak, for Mr. William Allen White kept me very much awake until ever so little o'clock this morning. * * * I believe I can best describe Mr. White's effect upon my nervous system by saying that it was exactly like the effect every admirer of Dickens and Kipling experiences—an inward tendency to weep.—The Observer.

Mr. White is a distinct addition to the writers of fiction.—Droch, in Life.

A spirited, fresh, enthusiastic contribution to Western fiction.—Independent.

It entitles Mr. White to a high place among American short story writers.—N. Y. Sun.

Strong Western colors of the right sort are found in "The Real Issue."—The Outlook.

A precision and reality rarely met with among contemporary writers.—Illustrated American.

Exceptional force and originality.—McClure's Magazine.

The young author is a native of Kansas, a graduate of the Lawrence University, a keen observer, a shrewd analytic dissector of every phase of Kansas humanity, and, withal, possesses a rugged humor that runs through every stroke of his virile pen.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

He knows his state, grasps every peculiarity and enjoys the humor of what he calls the "most picturesque lot of cranks on God's green earth." The stories are quaint and original, and well worth reading.—Public Ledger.

The humor in these stories is very racy; the pathos impressive. There is about the book a savor of genuineness and originality that is very refreshing.—Buffalo Commercial.

A MOUNTAIN WOMAN.

By Elia W. Peattie. With cover designed by Mr. Bruce Rogers. 16mo., cloth, gilt top, 251 pages, $1.25.

If anyone were to name the best quality of the Western school of fiction, it would be a very fine sincerity untouched by cynicism; faithfulness to reality, and yet a belief in the real human nature that it finds. This is the best democracy. * * * Mrs. Peattie has done some work very characteristic of her school, and yet individual. One is impressed at the very outset with the honesty and vitality of her observations.—The Bookman.

I have read "A Mountain Woman," and she's my kind. It has "quality," as the painters say, and without that art is a poor thing. I was profoundly interested and moved by the whole book. It does us all credit and it could not be written by anyone but a Western woman.—Hamlin Garland.

"Mrs. Peattie's stories seem to me monstrous fine. They have such quiet, such proportion, such sensibility, in the good old eighteenth century use of the word, as you do not meet every summer's day; and the possession of those qualities implies power. Methinks you are to be congratulated on your godfathering of a new writer who counts."—Louis Imogene Guiney.

Mrs. Elia W. Peattie has an eye for the ugliness of Western life unsurpassed in keenness even by that of Hamlin Garland.—Springfield, Mass. Republican.

"The collection of brief stories of Western life which Mrs. Elia W. Peattie put forth under the title of 'A Mountain Woman' is decidedly out of the ordinary. These tales are vigorous in conception, and are gracefully and affectively told."—New York Tribune.

We wish to call most particular attention to a collection of short Western stories by Mrs. Peattie, entitled "A Mountain Woman." The book contains several of the best tales of Western life ever written. The Nebraska stories throw so true a light upon recent conditions in the sub-arid belt that they explain, better than any political speeches or arguments could do, the reasons why men in that part of the country are advocating free silver.—Review of Reviews.

She writes of what she knows. If she lived in New England her stories would be permeated by ocean breezes, dotted with protruding rocks, peopled with determined, quiet, resourceful men and women. Living in Nebraska, she puts the strong flavor of the soil in nearly all that she writes: The Nebraska prairies are her background; the wind and the heat and the blizzard the material complement of her story. * * *

"A Mountain Woman," her latest book, was not written for circulation in Nebraska. It will not be popular here. It will be rudely criticised and condemned as jarring upon the patriotic sentiment, "Stand up for Nebraska." But Mrs. Peattie will not be annoyed. She has seldom written to tickle the public fancy.—Courier, Lincoln, Nebraska.

HOURS WITH FAMOUS PARISIANS.

Sketches by Stuart Henry. Cloth, 227 pages, price $1.25.

Mr. Henry shows us interiors devoted to M. Zola, M. Anatole France, Mlle. Yvette Guilbert, M. Bougereau, and many another of whom we have often heard, and we see just who and what they are. This marvel he accomplished partly by his mastery of style. Mr. Henry has captured for himself the modern style, the curiosa felicitas style which we have all admired from a distance; he has lassoed it and removed enough verbs to prevent its escape, and then has made it his own by inoculating it with a mixture of Gallicisms and French words. * * * * He gives no literary information as such, but conveys an excellent idea of the men of letters, as of the others, by means more agreeable and cleverer. In fact, in this respect, the book is almost as "Letters of Dead Authors." So it fulfills every requisite; it deals with matters we all long to know about; it deals with them to most satisfying results; and then its style—we cannot, somehow, get away from that lovely style.— The Dial.

Mr. Henry has a way of emphasizing prominent traits and features, and prominent individualities, that makes the book more than readable. It is a causerie at its best, causerie with a purpose, and the men stand before us with the clearness and beauty of a cameo cut from reality on a luminous background.—Buffalo Enquirer.

It is possible to get vivid expressions of many of the Frenchmen who have in recent years gained distinction from a volume called "Hours with Famous Parisians," written by Stuart Henry, the author of "Paris Days and Evenings." These little papers are written with a delightful vivacity. The author has caught something of the liveliness of the clever work one finds in the best French periodicals.—Indianapolis News.

Stuart Henry writes about them in the most charming fashion, too. He does not care whether his observations on Sardou, Zola, Lemaitre, Anatole France, Massanet and the rest please them or not. He rattles on about them as he found them. If they do not show in favorable light it is their own fault—or misfortune.—Commercial Advertiser.

For a number of years Mr. Henry lived in Paris and is thoroughly at home in its life and atmosphere. Some of them are done broadly in charcoal, others worked out with more careful elaboration; but the peculiarities of each personality are suggested with delightful abandon. There is a dashing picturesqueness in the book which shows something of the alertness of the American journalist, together with a graceful delicacy that is essentially French.—Capital, Topeka.

THE LITTLE ROOM AND OTHER STORIES.

By Madelene Yale Wynne. With cover design, frontispiece and decorations by the author. 16mo., 144 pages, linen, gilt top, uncut, $1.25.

A very fresh and subtle fancy; she has caught the new air that is blowing on us from the next century. * * * It awakens imagination and gives it a direction.—Julian Hawthorne.

Read together, these studies—for they are studies rather than stories—disclose invention of a delicate order, the power of suggesting that which is not directly stated, excellent narrative quality, and marked literary feeling. The studies are in a way slight, and the art with which they are developed is emphasized by the tenuousness of the material which is in some cases employed. The work is done with great delicacy by hints, suggestions, intonations; as a beautiful woman tells a story which may not have marked dramatic quality in itself but which becomes a thing of art in the grace of telling. There is talent of a rare kind in this little volume.—The Outlook.

Mrs. Wynne's literary style is as sweet and simple as words can be. A perfume of New England meadows seems to permeate each page. The author is an earnest student of human nature, and of New England types in particular. Her character of Aunt Hannah is as good as anything that either Miss Wilkins or Miss Jewett has done. She is delightfully feminine, too, in her description of the wedding trip of Roger and his wife on their way to the old Vermont home and the bride's anticipations of the "Little Room," and the dreadful uncertainty—but there, I came nearly giving the story away, which would not do at all. The "Little Room" leaves one in a most unenviable frame of mind, as far as bewilderment is concerned.—Union Advertiser.

It is by no means easy to write a story in which wildly improbable incidents work their way into every-day and rather commonplace life. A word too much of definition destroys the impression; a word too little leaves it too vague to appeal to our sympathies. Mrs. Wynne's big A is strong, her sense of the supernatural vivid, and "The Little Room" is good.—Athenæum, London, England.

THE LUCKY NUMBER.

Stories of Chicago Slums.

By I. K. Friedman. 16mo., 217 pages, price, $1.25. Mr. Friedman has made a profound study of the slums of Chicago, a sympathetic study, which enabled him to understand the motives that lay behind such dramatic incidents as he describes. He does not occupy himself so much with the petty details of a situation as with the romance of it, its significance, its effect upon character. His stories, which circle about a saloon called "The Lucky Number," are intensely, vividly real. They are condensed so that every word counts, and they represent life as it is found, narrowed and sharpened and intensified in the degradation of a great city.

Israel Zangwill in London and Abraham Cahan in New York have depicted the ghetto life in those cities. Mr. Friedman now attempts the Chicago ghetto. He is an observer of rare acumen and his deductions are sympathetic. He has cultivated a pleasing narrative style, sharp, incisive and satisfying, combined with his capable study of character.—Chicago Record.

"The Lucky Number" must be rated as one of the very best collections of short stories of low life which the season has brought forth. It will interest you.—The Boston Times.

"The Lucky Number," from the lowest sort of gambling saloon, there are one or two histories of so-called humanity such as cause chills to wander up and down the spines and freeze the marrows of the most indurate readers, for they are written with tense and terrible power—Times-Herald.

Mr. Friedman goes a-slumming, but in his own way. His slums furnish only the background to his men. It is the human problem which draws him to the haunts of poverty, vice and degradation, not the bete humaine for its own sake. That in these ways of our great cities, human beings reside with our own passions and powers, subject to love and exposed to hatred as are we, with ambitions as burning as our own, that, in other words, even under conditions least favorable to the development of humanities, man, however much handicapped, still is man—this is the thought which gives unity to these stories much more than does the accidental factor that their lines intersect in one plane, that of a saloon called "The Lucky Number."—Reform Advocate.

His style is epigrammatic and vivid; neither detail nor language are permitted to burden the swift and intense onward flow of the recital.—Chicago Israelite.

This is a study of the slums of Chicago in all their degrading realism. Its stories are intense, dramatic and vividly real.—Boston Evening Transcript.

THE EPISTOLARY FLIRT.

A Satire in Four Exposures.

By Esmerie Amory. A story in dramatic form, satirizing a certain sort of philandering men and women that abound in "literary circles." 16mo., cloth, gilt top, 100 pages, cover designed by Mr. Frank Hazenplug, price $1.00.

"The Epistolary Flirt," by Esmerie Amory, is a work which will be found amusing, interesting, instructive, melancholy, trivial, revolting (or several other things), according to the person who reads it. This is a sadly subjective opinion to give, but when you consider that the book presents, in a manner both witty and sufficiently true to nature, an illustration of that very characteristic feature of American life indicated in the title, you will see reason for it. * * * But whether our author writes from experience or from observation, we think the book will best be read to the accompaniment of reminiscence. And as this sauce can doubtless be furnished by the large majority of those who buy and read books, we have great confidence in commending the present work to a large audience.—The Dial.

"Who is Esmerie Amory? If you pick up from the nearest counter of new books a volume called the Epistolary Flirt, you will be a moral person if you can resist the temptation to read more than you have any right to read without buying the book. * * * There is not a dull sentence between the covers. It is full of wit and a whimsical exaggeration."—Bliss Carman in Boston Evening Transcript.

"The book is truthful. It is clever, moreover, with the diabolical cleverness that one might reveal in a sketch of his dearest enemy. * * * The plot would answer for a 400-page novel. * * * So ingenius, so daring and so finished a work can hardly be attributed to a novice."—The Boston Times.

"Told in any but the author's witty way, the book would be simply unprintable. But the wit redeems it from vulgarity."—Chicago Times-Herald.

HAND AND SOUL.

By Dante Gabriel Rossetti. Reprinted from The Germ by William Morris, at the Kelmscott Press, in the "Golden" type, with a specially designed title-page and border, and in special binding. 16mo., 525 paper copies printed, and 21 on vellum. 300 paper copies for America, of which a few remain for sale at $7.50. This is the only book ever printed at the Kelmscott Press by Mr. Morris for an American publisher and the English edition is out of print. (Vellum copies all sold.)

LITTLE LEADERS.

By William Morton Payne. A selection from editorial articles written for "The Dial" by Mr. W. M. Payne, Associate Editor. 16mo., cloth, gilt top, uncut, 278 pages, $1.50.

A volume of serious and intelligent criticism and literary and educational comment of a kind which it is a pleasure to read and to commend. Such books are the best evidence of the growth of sound culture in this country, because they demonstrate the existence of a body of highly educated and thoughtful men, with serious views of art, and time and patience to give those views adequate expression.—The Outlook.

His own style is notable for its workmanlike quality—its precision, directness and "plain neatness." The memorial essays which close the volume afford fresh proof of the author's taste and intelligence. Mr. Payne has given us a thoughtful and helpful book.—Critic.

What he has to say he says well, and undue verbiage would only clog and perhaps lose him his chance of a hearing. His leaders betray extensive reading in the humanities and his style is clear cut and incisive. We should say that he lacks the sense of humor, and as is so often the case with men of scholarly habits. * * * There are but few which are not worth more than one reading, for they are prepared with a care which is a delight in these slipshod days, and with an earnestness without which style is but sounding brass.—Public Opinion.

Not the least interesting portion of this little volume is the part devoted to a number of the great writers of our time who have passed away within the last decade. The names of Tennyson, Ernest Renan, Taine, Huxley, Gustav Freytag, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Christiana Rossetti appear with others and prove inspiring themes upon which Mr. Payne discourses eloquently.—Chicago Evening Post.

PAUL AND VIRGINIA OF A NORTHERN ZONE.

By Holger Drachmann. A Romance. Translated from the Danish of Holger Drachmann. With introductory note by Mr. Francis F. Browne. Daintily printed and bound, with cover designed by Mr. Bruce Rogers. Gilt top, uncut, 208 pages, $1.25. Also 55 copies on handmade paper, $2.50 net.

The voice of an artist, if not of a prophet, sounds from the North. * * * Wholesome, fresh, and elemental as the salt breezes it exhales from every page. —Chicago Tribune.

It is a pretty story of the Danish shore, of sand-dunes, coast forests, seafaring folk, and a boy-and-girl pair of lovers. To read it is to feel salt spray in the face and to breathe the fragrance of birch trees; to follow the sea in bitter earnest and to play with beetles in the woods; to make friends with rough, moody, kindly villagers, human and canine, and to watch the love of the blacksmith's bashful son and the captain's teasing daughter through lyric childhood to dramatic culmination.—The Nation.

OLD ENGLISH FAIRY TALES.

By S. Baring-Gould. With illustrations by F. D. Bedford. 8vo., 400 pages, cloth, $2.00.

The bare bones of these pretty traditions have been clothed in the flesh of poetic fancy and a charming and familiar style by Mr. Gould, who is now at the very height of his popularity as a writer.—Cleveland World.

"This Book," says E. Baring Gould, referring to a collection of English fairy tales which he dug up from the musty old traditions of bygone centuries, "was not written for antiquaries and bibliographers, but for children, and it is written by one who as a child was greedy after fairy tales, and is not ashamed to say dearly loves them still." A defiant sentiment, but a worthy one. The man or woman who does not like a good fairy story, where villainy is crushed and the poor, half-starved child is befriended by her fairy godmother and eventually marries a prince, is wanting in the finer sensibilities.—Chicago Evening Post.

NIM AND CUM AND THE WONDERHEAD STORIES.

By Catharine Brooks Yale. Cover and decorations by Mr. Bruce Rogers. 16mo., linen, 126 pages, gilt top, uncut, $1.25.

The author of "Nim and Cum" has a very winged fancy that skits the wide world o'er to do her bidding. "Nim and Cum" are two sky-born personages keeping tryst over two mountain peaks. One suspects that they are nicknamed from nimbus and cumulus. Whatever their full names are, they are full of sprightly originality. They fan themselves a bit, and our prosaic nether world reports a hurricane; they take a drink out of the Big Dipper, and our literal newspapers chronicle a flood. Not content with these metaphorical antics, they pull out the North Pole and use it for a fishing rod, to which they attach the equinoctial line. Their tackle is completed by bending a meridian into a fish-hook. Their sportive game is terrestially recorded as an earthquake, and the result of their fishing a wrecked steamer.—The Critic.

THE BANQUET OF PLATO.

By Percy Bysshe Shelley. A dainty reprint of Shelley's little-known translation of "The Banquet of Plato." Prefaced by the Poet's fragmentary note on "The Symposium." Title-page and decorations by Mr. Bruce Rogers. 16mo., 126 pages, $1.50. 75 copies on handmade paper, $3.00 net.

Shelley's translation of the "Banquet of Plato" is among the new Chicago publications, and one of great beauty. The print is almost of the blackness of black letter, and the title-page a fine piece of craft.—Times-Herald.

THE EMANCIPATED.

By George Gissing. A novel. 8vo., cloth, 456 pages, price $1.50.

George Gissing's new book, "The Emancipated," is far beyond any of his other efforts and may be called a masterpiece of its kind of fiction.—Chicago Times-Herald.

RUSSIAN FAIRY TALES.

By R. Nisbet Bain. Illustrated by C. M. Gere. 8vo., ornamental cloth, gilt top, 264 pages, $1.50.

It is a reasonable presumption that curiosity will prompt many readers to inspect this volume, and it is quite as certain that those who read it will be well repaid.—Chicago Evening Post.

ECCE PUELLA.

By William Sharp. 8vo., cloth, price $1.25.

In the later imagings Mr. Sharp is striving, with many others nowadays, to do with prose what has rarely been done with it before. He would make it the medium of expression for color, emotion, fancy, that has generally taken form in poetry.—The Dial.

AN ODD SITUATION.

By Stanley Waterloo. A novel. With introduction by Sir Walter Besant. 8vo., cloth, 240 pages, gilt top, $1.25.

"An Odd Situation" bubbles over with humor as buoyant and full as the laugh of a boy, though at times it is grim and earnest enough to startle the readers into a mood which is far from laughter, for there is a murder in it which will be the especial delight of those who love to have their flesh creep. The sparkling outdoor air of the book, however, defies every morbid thought, and carries one through to the end rapidly. One feels as if the very life of youth and nature had been given him when the book is closed.—The Observer.

THE ACROBATIC MUSE.

By R. K. Munkittrick. Humorous poems. 16mo., cloth, gilt top, uncut, pages 168, $1.25.

"The Acrobatic Muse," by R. K. Munkittrick, is a book of very vigorous verse, verse which performs some unexpected and skillful tricks. It is full of surprises. Not least of these is an occasional poem of real tenderness. These are interspersed among such lines as those entitled:—

AN EPITAPH.

Beneath this quiet, turfy,
And flower-scented green
Lies Arabella Murphy,
As usual—kerosene.
—Boston Advertiser.

Mr. Munkittrick is, in short, a thoroughly practical poet, one who learned his trade at the bench in the Ledger and in the busy shops of the Franklin Square Prose and Verse Foundry. From those rather primitive literary establishments he raised himself by his own industry and genius to a place in Puck, as the associate of the late Mr. Bunner, and has since then contributed hand-sewed prose and verse to the leading periodicals of the country. * * * In illustration of Mr. Munkittrick's thorough knowledge of his craft in all its finer details.—J. L. Ford, in N. Y. Journal.

UNDER THE PINES AND OTHER VERSES.

By Lydia Avery Coonley. Printed from new type on deckle-edge paper, 16mo., cloth, 104 pages, $1.25.

Her attitude toward life is one of unstinted helpfulness; her constant endeavor is to see the best in her fellows and to realize the best in herself. These characteristics pervade the poems collected in this volume.—The Outlook.

These verses are precisely what one would expect to have from the pen of the writer—bits of charming sentiment on love and nature and the divinity of everyday life. Being a woman who recognizes the one standard of individual worth, who lives unostentatiously in the midst of luxury, giving bountifully in uncounted private philanthropies, it naturally follows that her book should abound with simple, happy songs of the beautiful and the true.—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. Coonley, of Chicago, in her pleasing little volume of poems, "Under the Pines" (Chicago, Way & Williams), has known how to avail herself of the easy felicity of verse, which the musical and feminine talent bestows, and to use the personal element without its melancholy or ludicrous misuse.—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

THE LAMP OF GOLD.

By Florence L. Snow. A Poem. Printed at the De Vinne Press on French handmade paper. With title-page and cover designs by Mr. Edmund H. Garrett. 16mo., cloth, 121 pages, gilt top, $1.25.

100 numbered copies on Japan paper, with etched title-page and in special binding, $2.25.

She finds movement even within its restriction, and she gets ahead! Her movement is not that of a swallow, perpetually returning, but of the lark, which mounts while it sings. If in her Muse's onward, upward flight the course is sometimes veiled from our clearest vision, by some mist of the morning, she relaxes not her flight and emerges at last into the translucent ether.—The Lotus.

This might well be called an essay upon love and art written in verse. It is a dedicated poem of stately measure and lofty purpose, and, upon the whole, its art is creditable, if not great. We could, had we space, quote many striking passages.—Independent.

VOLUNTEER GRAIN.

By Francis F. Browne. A collection of poems by the Editor of the Dial. Printed by John Wilson & Son on Van Gelder paper. Edition limited to 160 copies, of which 150 are for sale. 8vo., gilt top, 70 pages, $2.25 net.

(Very few remain.)

To know Mr. Browne is to know that his is a poetical soul, susceptible to beauty and sensitive to things divine. We are glad at this late day, when the earlier snows have already fallen, he has been pushed out of retirement and been persuaded to glean for us "this slender sheaf from the unplanted acres of his life." Less than two dozen poems, but one of them is a translation of the deathly Carcassonne of Gustave Nadaud, which has already gone far and lodged in the scrap books of the competent as a production of the mysterious and "Anon." Two of these poems are of Lowell. One of them is "The Message from Judea." All of them go to show how much of poetry has been hidden in the inside life of the editor of the Dial.—Jenkin Lloyd Jones, in Unity.

QUEEN HELEN AND OTHER POEMS.

By John Vance Cheney. Printed at the De Vinne Press on French handmade paper; with vignette and headpiece reproduced from compositions made by John Flaxman for the Iliad of Homer. Edition limited to 160 copies, of which 150 are for sale. 16mo., buckram, gilt top, 78 pages, $3.00 net.

(Very few remain.)

It serves as an announcement to the literary world, more especially to bibliophiles, that when it comes to the artistic feature of what Milton calls "the art preservative of arts," Chicago is as good as the best. There were only 160 copies printed.—Daily Inter Ocean.

THREE IRISH BARDIC TALES.

By John Todhunter. Being Metrical Versions of the Three Tales known as The Three Sorrows of Story-Telling. Cloth, 160 pages, $1.50 net.

John Todhunter's volume will prove a permanent addition to the world's literature. The author is something more thau a mere translator of the Irish legends. He has been a diligent compiler of the various versions of these old stories, has skillfully woven them together, and has set his seal upon them in the form of verse which is at once melodious and poetic. Indeed, there are portions of the poems that possess the true Homeric ring.—Tribune, Chicago.

THE HAPPY WANDERER AND OTHER POEMS.

By Percy Hemingway. With title designed by Charles I. ffoulkes. Printed at the Chiswick Press on handmade paper. Square 16mo., cloth, 75 pages, $1.50 net.

MY SEA AND OTHER POSTHUMOUS POEMS.

By Hon. Roden Noel. With an introduction by Stanley Addleshaw. Tastefully printed and bound, 76 pages, $1.25 net.

PURCELL ODE.

By Robert Bridges. Ode for the Bicentenary Commemoration of Henry Purcell, with other Poems, and a Preface on the Musical Setting of Poetry. 16mo., 54 pages, $0.75.

The following books are in preparation and will be issued during the fall.

THE STORY OF AB.

By Stanley Waterloo. A Tale of the Time of the Cave Men. 12mo., cloth, $1.50. Mr. Waterloo has long devoted the leisure hours of a busy writer to the study of the life and times of which his new story treats, and while the discoveries of science form the foundation of his work, he has avoided the language of scientific exposition. He tells in vivid style, and with the utmost regard for the truth as revealed to investigators of the Age of Stone, the story of a man who lived and loved and fought countless centuries ago, in the ancient peninsula which jutted out from the Western coast of Europe, the remains of which are now known as the British Isles. That closeness to nature which is a well-known trait of Mr. Waterloo's is shown in every page of his latest book. Theodore Roosevelt said, when talking it over with its author some time ago, "that there would have to be 'a fight or a foot race' in every chapter." There are plenty of fights and foot races in the book, but there are, too, many quiet studies of strange life and conditions in the strange old prehistoric world which are deeply interesting, without the aid of chances or dangers. "Ab" is a real man, and his people are real people, whose fortunes the reader follows with sympathy as keen as if they were people of our own day instead of children of the Caverns of the Earth who lived and died ages before history begins.

PAUL TRAVERS' ADVENTURES.

By Sam T. Clover. 12mo., cloth, $1.25. Every American boy —be he sixteen or sixty—will be deeply interested in the graphic story of Paul Travers' adventures.

THE MIRACLES OF MADAME ST. KATHERINE OF FIERBOIS.

By Andrew Lang. Translated, with introduction, by Mr. Lang. This is a register of the miracles as they occurred (1300-1500), and, really, a series of vignettes of life during the Hundred Years' War.

It is hardly known, if at all, and very humorous. The edition will consist of 300 numbered copies, on handmade paper for England and 300 for America, at $3.50. 50 on Japan paper for England and 50 for America, numbered, at $10.00. The book will be beautifully printed at the De Vinne Press on paper specially manufactured, with title-page, head and tail pieces, together with decorative initials, by Selwyn Image.

THE KING OF BOYVILLE.

By William Allen White, author of the "Real Issue," a book of Kansas stories. This will be Mr. White's first long story. Cloth, 16mo., $1.25.

LIKE A GALLANT LADY.

By Kate M. Cleary. A novel of Nebraska life. As strong a novel of Western life as has been recently written, it transports the reader to the scene of its plot and happily blends its pathos with its abundant humor. Cloth, 16mo., $1.25.

MOTHER GOOSE IN PROSE.

By L. Frank Baum. An entirely new idea has been used by Mr. Baum in this book, which shall be charming alike to old and young. The illustrations are to be made by Mr. Maxfield Parrish. 4to., cloth, $1.25.

THE MUSES UP TO DATE.

By Henrietta Denter Field and Roswell Martin Field. A book of plays for boys and girls. Cloth, 16mo., $1.00.

PIPPINS AND CHEESE.

By Elia W. Peattie, author of "A Mountain Woman." A book of stories and conversations. 16mo., cloth, $1.00.

THOMAS WHITTAKER'S

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

General Literature.

Shakespeare's Complete Works, Falstaff Edition.

A reprint of the most accurate and complete text, set in new bourgeois type, 1104 pages; on antique laid paper, with special title-page; bound in polished buckram, with chaste ornamental stamps on back and side in ink and gold. Royal 8vo, $2.00.

The "Apollo" Poets.

An entirely new uniform edition of the great Poets, set in new type and printed on antique opaque paper with photogravure portrait in each volume; bound in polished maroon buckram, gilt top, with paneled inlaid side and full gilt back, $1.75 per volume. Also in half vellum, $2.50 per volume.

NOW READY:

BURNS, BYRON, WORDSWORTH, MILTON, SCOTT.

Others in preparation.

Boswell's Life of Johnson.

Edited by PERCY FITZGERALD. The best single-volume edition of Boswell's "Johnson" now in the market. It is set in new bourgeois type specially cast for the work, printed on antique laid paper, and bound in the best olive-green cloth, with back title in two colors. It contains several portraits (one of Dr. Johnson in photogravure as a frontispiece) and a map. A unique feature of this edition is the Biographical Dictionary of every person mentioned in the work. Royal 8vo, $2,00.

Lessons from Life, Animal and Human.

Being a Collection of Curious and Interesting Facts and Phenomena, arranged as Illustrations of Social, Moral, and Religious Truths and Principles. A companion to and uniform with "The Cyclopædia of Nature Teachings." 8vo, cloth, $2.50.

Potters: Their Arts and Crafts.

By JOHN C. L. SPARKS and WALTER GANDY. With 37 Illustrations. 12mo, art linen, embellished, $1.25.

The Fall of the Congo Arabs.

By CAPTAIN SIDNEY LANGFORD HINDE. With Map, Portraits, and Plans. 8vo, cloth, uncut, $2.50.

The Life and Correspondence of Archbishop Magee.

By John Cotter Macdonnell, D. D., Canon of Peterborough. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth. With Portraits. $7.50.

The Life and Work of Bishop Thorold,

Bishop of Rochester, 1877–91, and Winchester, 1891–95. By C. H. Simpkinson, M. A. 12mo, cloth, uncut, $2.00.

Early Prayer Books of America.

A History and a Bibliography. By John Wright, D. D. With numerous facsimile illustrations of title-pages and rare bindings. 492 pages, 8vo, half leather, gilt top, $3.00 net.

The work is a thesaurus of the American bibliography of editions of the Prayer Books of all religious bodies, and is so complete that no similar work is likely to supersede it for years to come.

Newnes' New Library.

Books of permanent value and interest—grave and gay—poetry and prose. The aim of the publisher is to give a variety of standard interesting books, with only a general resemblance as regards typography and binding, so that the monotony of a long row of books in one uniform—which is the feature of most series—will be avoided.

 Each volume in the series will be tastefully printed on antique wove paper, and issued in a specially designed binding.

NOW READY:

Books for the Young.

The object steadily kept in view in publishing these JUVENILE BOOKS has been to give a collection of works of a perfectly natural spirit, with a healthy, moral tone, agreeably blending entertainment and instruction. They will be found eminently suitable as Gift Books and School Prizes, besides proving of permanent value in all libraries patronized by young folks.

The books are illustrated and strongly bound in attractive cloth covers, unless otherwise stated.

THE BOOK OF PRAISE

For Church, School, and Home. Edited by the Rev. G. W. SHINN, D. D., and H. B. DAY, Organist. Containing 272 pages of services, hymns, and music. Strongly bound in heavy board covers. 35 cents per copy, postpaid. ($30 per hundred.)

An ideal book for Sunday Schools, Chapel Services, and Mission Stations. It fills the long felt want of high-class singable music for general use at extremely low cost. It is selected entirely from the revised Prayer Book and the new Hymnal.

☞ A Special cheap edition of the "Book of Praise" for Sunday Schools, containing all the hymns and music, together with the opening and closing service. 20 cents per copy. ($15 per hundred.)

Here are some few commendations selected from many:

"It is a book that will grow in Church favor."—The Living Church.

"Let me thank you for this publication, and through you the compilers, for their acceptable labors in behalf of our people, old and young. I am confident the work will commend itself to our Church people, and that you and the compilers will receive, as you deserve, more than mere words of grateful acknowledgment."—BISHOP GEORGE F. SEYMOUR.

"I have been examining it all through, and I am surprised at the quantity and quality of its matter. It is a really remarkable piece of work both for variety and completeness. It would be all that many Churches would require, to say nothing about Sunday and Day Schools. I look upon it as a splendid success and a real multum in parvo."—REV. W. T. GIBSON, D. D.

"The bright musical contribution to our Church hymnody called 'The Book of Praise' will be of invaluable use to Missions, small Parishes, Sunday Schools, and the home circle. It ought to have a very large sale."—REV. F. W. BARTLETT, D. D.

"This is one of the most compendious books of sacred music that we have seen in a long while. It gives for ordinary congregations all that is needed for a plain service of Morning and Evening Prayer and Holy Communion, together with the twenty selections of Psalms arranged for chanting to singable chants. Next follow the Occasional Anthems and a simple setting for the Burial Service, and then a simple, plain song service for Daily Prayers. For the Sunday School there are services for special seasons. Next come family prayers, after which are two hundred of our best hymns set to the best music. The volume closes with twenty-eight grand old tunes, such as Duke Street, Warwick, Dundee, Martyrdom, and others which we hope will never cease to be used in our churches."—The Church Standard.

Church Sunday-school Lessons.

(The Uniform Scheme of Diocesan Committees.)

1. THE BIBLE CLASS MANUAL.

2. THE LESSON BOOK. (For Senior and Middle Grades.)

3. PICTURE LESSONS FOR EVERY SUNDAY. (For Junior and Primary Grades.)

4. THE TEACHER'S ASSISTANT.

ALL EDITED BY REV. GEORGE W. SHINN, D. D.

ISSUED QUARTERLY. ☞COMBINED CIRCULATION OVER 120,000 COPIES.

THE advantages we claim for these lesson quarterlies are: 1. Beauty of typography—they are attractive to children and easy to study. 2. Cheapness—being only $12.00 per hundred for the two main publications for a year; you can subscribe for any number at this rate for one, two, three, or four quarters. 3. They give all needed explanation of the hard parts of the lesson. 4. They suggest points for remarks by teachers and clergymen in reviewing the lesson. The first named can be used by teachers' classes and by advanced Bible classes; the second by the Senior and Middle grades of the Sunday-school, while the Picture Lessons are especially adapted to the needs of primary classes and the infant school.

Clergymen and Sunday-school workers are particularly invited to examine these QUARTERLIES, which will be mailed free on application.

TERMS:

Bible Class Manual, 20c. per Copy for One Year (52 Lessons).

Lesson Book, 12c. per Copy for One Year.

Picture Lessons, 12c. per Copy for One Year.

☞These publications are supplied at the above rate for any quantity. Subscriptions may begin with any quarterly issue.

The Parish Visitor.

(Monthly.)

A CHURCH PAPER containing short and interesting articles designed, through God's blessing, to arrest the careless, to encourage the believer, and to incite its readers to live a life of holiness. As to the usefulness of the VISITOR, we have many and constant testimonies from all parts of the country.

It is an excellent paper for clergymen in parochial visiting. A department for children has lately been added, which greatly increases the interest. Circulation 25,000 copies.

W. A. WILDE & CO.,

25 Bromfield Street,

BOSTON, MASS.

SUCCESS. By Orison Swett Marden. Author of "Pushing to the Front," "Architects of Fate," etc. 317 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

It is doubtful whether any success books for the young have appeared in modern times which are so thoroughly packed from lid to lid with stimulating, uplifting, and inspiring material as the self-help books written by Orison Swett Marden. There is not a dry paragraph nor a single line of useless moralizing in any of his books.

To stimulate, inspire, and guide is the mission of his latest book, "Success," and helpfulness is its keynote. Its object is to spur the perplexed youth to act the Columbus to his own undiscovered possibilities; to urge him not to wait for great opportunities, but to seize common occasions and make them great, for he cannot tell when fate may take his measure for a higher place.

THE ROMANCE OF DISCOVERY; or, a Thousand Years of Discovery, etc. By Wm. Elliot Griffis. 305 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

The element of romance is present in even the dryest history, but it is only as this romantic element is recognized and due weight given to it that history is properly told. Dr. Griffis understands perfectly the importance of this element in writing history, and it is this that makes his books so readable. Probably no work has appeared recently which gives so just an estimate of exactly the amount each European nation contributed to the work of discovery of the new world. This new volume of Dr. Griffis's gives promise of being one of the most popular and important contributions to American history which has appeared during the present year.

War of the Revolution Series.

WASHINGTON'S YOUNG AIDS. A Story of the New Jersey Campaign, 1776-1777. By Everett T. Tomlinson, Ph. D. 391 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

The crisis of the early days of the Revolution was met and passed during the Trenton campaign. As a fact in history this is well understood, but the details of this memorable campaign are less familiar

The existence of British prisons and prison ships, in which the Continental soldiers were crowded to an unbearable extent, forms a picture of this contest which is often overlooked. Dr. Tomlinson's greatest success lies in the clearness with which he draws a picture of the actual conditions which existed during the Revolution. The boys will be eager for this new volume.

THREE COLONIAL BOYS. A Story of the Times of '76. By Everett T. Tomlinson, Ph. D. 368 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

It is a story of three boys who were drawn into the events of the times; is patriotic, exciting, clean, and healthful, and instructs without appearing to. The heroes are manly boys, and no objectionable language or character is introduced. The lessons of courage and patriotism especially will be appreciated in this day.—Boston Transcript.

THREE YOUNG CONTINENTALS. A Story of the American Revolution. By Everett T. Tomlinson, Ph. D. 364 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

This story is historically true. It is the best kind of a story either for boys or girls, and is an attractive method of teaching history.—Journal of Education, Boston.

Brain and Brawn Series.

THE BEACH PATROL. A Story of the Life-Saving Service. By William Drysdale. 318 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

The dangers and excitement of the Life-Saving Service are very graphically described and add to the general interest of the book. The real value of the story, however, lies in the fact, so clearly set forth, that it is possible for an earnest young man, of sterling integrity, to make an honorable place for himself in the world. It is a strong book, good for boys and young men.

THE YOUNG REPORTER. A Story of Printing House Square. By WILLIAM DRYSDALE. 300 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

I commend the book unreservedly. — Golden Rule.
"The Young Reporter" is a rattling book for boys. — New York Recorder.
The best boys' book I ever read. — Mr. Phillips, Critic for New York Times.

THE FAST MAIL. The Story of a Train Boy. By WILLIAM DRYSDALE. 328 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

"The Fast Mail" is one of the very best American books for boys brought out this season. Perhaps there could be no better confirmation of this assertion than the fact that the little sons of the present writer have greedily devoured the contents of the volume, and are anxious to know how soon they are to get a sequel. — The Art Amateur, New York.

Travel-Adventure Series.

OVER THE ANDES; or, Our Boys in New South America. By HEZEKIAH BUTTERWORTH. 368 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

South America to-day presents a most interesting subject for study. Its history is one of a constant struggle for liberty against oppression. The cruelty and avarice of the Spanish conquerors was finally met by the solid opposition of the South American people. Out of the terrors of the Revolution came liberty and the wonderful commercial and industrial development for which South America is famous, as well as for her inexhaustible mineral wealth.

The subject is an inspiring one, and Mr. Butterworth has done full justice to the high ideals which have inspired the great men of South America.

IN WILD AFRICA. Adventures of Two Boys in the Sahara Desert, etc. By THOS. W. KNOX. 325 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

A story of absorbing interest. — Boston Journal.
Our young people will pronounce it unusually good. — Albany Argus.
He has struck a popular note in his latest volume. — Springfield Republican.

THE LAND OF THE KANGAROO. By THOS. W. KNOX. Adventures of Two Boys in the Great Island Continent. 318 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

His descriptions of the natural history and botany of the country are very interesting. — Detroit Free Press.

The actual truthfulness of the book needs no gloss to add to its absorbing interest. — The Book Buyer, New York.

Fighting for the Flag Series.

MIDSHIPMAN JACK. By CHAS. LEDYARD NORTON. 290 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

In the third volume of the "Fighting for the Flag Series," Jack is commissioned a midshipman in the navy; but while on his way North to join his class in Newport, where the Academy then was, he finds himself most unexpectedly on duty and in active service. In those days naval cadets were hurried through the Naval Academy with as little delay as possible, and Jack soon receives an assignment to duty under one of his former shipmates.

JACK BENSON'S LOG: or, Afloat with the Flag in '61. By CHARLES LEDYARD NORTON. 281 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

An unusually interesting historical story, and one that will arouse the loyal impulses of every American boy or girl. The story is distinctly superior to anything ever attempted along this line before. — The Independent.

A story that will arouse the loyal impulses of every American boy and girl. — The Press.

A MEDAL OF HONOR MAN; or, Cruising among Blockade Runners. By CHARLES LEDYARD NORTON. 280 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

A bright, breezy sequel to "Jack Benson's Log." The book has unusual literary excellence. — The Book Buyer, New York.

A stirring story for boys. — The Journal, Indianapolis.

A SUCCESSFUL VENTURE. By Ellen Douglas Deland. 340 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

"The best story Miss Deland ever wrote," says a critic who is familiar with the great success which attended the publication of both "Malvern" and "Oakleigh."

In the first place, she knows girls and young women, and in the second, she knows how to write about them. Her success has been wonderful, and yet in every sense merited. "A Successful Venture" tells the story of a family of girls who found it necessary to make their own way in the world. They had a good deal to learn, and experience is expensive, but they manage to meet all their obligations, with something to spare.

MALVERN, A NEIGHBORHOOD STORY. By Ellen Douglas Deland. 341 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

Her descriptions of boys and girls are so true, and her knowledge of their ways is so accurate, that one must feel an admiration for her complete mastery of her chosen field.— The Argus, Albany.

Miss Deland was accorded a place with Louisa M. Alcott and Nora Perry as a successful writer of books for girls. We think this praise none too high. — The Post, Washington.

SUE ORCUTT. A Sequel to "The Orcutt Girls." By Charlotte M. Vaile. 330 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

That the old-fashioned story still has a charm has been amply demonstrated by the popularity of Mrs. Vaile's "Orcutt Girls," and a no less hearty welcome awaits the sequel, "Sue Orcutt," which finishes the story just as it should be ended.

THE ORCUTT GIRLS; or, One Term at the Academy. By Charlotte M. Vaile. 316 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

Two types of New England girlhood are illustrated in "The Orcutt Girls"—one the brisk, practical, domestic girl with a genius for housekeeping; the other, the dreamy, studious, and imaginative, with the true New England appetite for knowledge.

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. By Mrs. C. V. Jamieson. 300 pp. Cloth, $1.50.

The scene of the story is the French quarter of New Orleans, and charming bits of local color add to its attractiveness. — The Boston Journal.

Perhaps the most charming story she has ever written is that which describes Seraph, the little violiniste. — Transcript, Boston.

ABOVE THE RANGE. By Theodora R. Jenness. 332 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

The quaintness of the characters described will be sure to make the story very popular.— Book News, Phila.

QUARTERDECK AND FO'KSLE. By Molly Elliott Seawell. 272 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

Miss Seawell has done a notable work for the young people of our country in her excellent stories of naval exploits. They are of the kind that causes the reader, no matter whether young or old, to thrill with pride and patriotism at the deeds of daring of the heroes of our navy.

BIG CYPRESS. By Kirk Munroe. 164 pp. Cloth, $1.00.

If there is a man who understands writing a story for boys better than another, it is Kirk Munroe. — Springfield Republican.

A capital writer of boys' stories is Mr. Kirk Munroe.— Outlook.

FOREMAN JENNIE. By Amos R. Wells. A Young Woman of Business. 268 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

It is a delightful story. — The Advance, Chicago.

It is full of action. — The Standard, Chicago.

MYSTERIOUS VOYAGE OF THE DAPHNE. By Lieut. H. P. Whitmarsh. 305 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

One of the best collections of short stories for boys and girls that has been published in recent years. Such writers as Hezekiah Butterworth, Wm. O. Stoddard, and Jane G. Austin have contributed characteristic stories which add greatly to the general interest of the book.

PHILIP LEICESTER. By Jessie E. Wright. 264 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

The book ought to make any reader thankful for a good home, and thoughtful for the homeless and neglected. — Golden Rule.

The story is intensely interesting. — Christian Inquirer.

CAP'N THISTLETOP. By Sophie Swett. 282 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

Sophie Swett knows how to please young folks as well as old; for both she writes simple, unaffected, cheerful stories with a judicious mingling of humor and plot. Such a story is "Cap'n Thistletop." — The Outlook.

THE MARJORIE BOOKS. EDITED BY MISS LUCY WHEELOCK. 6 Vols. Over 200 Illustrations. The Set, $1.50.

A very attractive set of books for the little folks, full of pictures and good stories.

DOT'S LIBRARY. EDITED BY MISS LUCY WHEELOCK. 10 Vols. Over 400 Illustrations. The Set, $2.50.

In every way a most valuable set of books for the little people. Miss Wheelock possesses rare skill in interesting and entertaining the little ones.

THE BEACON LIGHT SERIES. EDITED BY NATALIE L. RICE. 5 Vols. Fully Illustrated. The Set, $2.50.

The stories contained in this set of books are all by well-known writers, carefully selected and edited, and they cannot, therefore, fail to be both helpful and instructive.

LADY BETTY'S TWINS. BY E. M. WATERWORTH. 117 pp. With 12 Illustrations. 75 cents.

The story of a little boy and girl who did not know the meaning of the word "obedience." They learned the lesson, however, after some trying experiences.

THE MOONSTONE RING. BY JENNY CHAPPELL. 118 pp. With 6 Illustrations. 75 cents.

A home story with the true ring to it. The happenings of the story are somewhat out of the usual run of events.

PELOUBET'S SELECT NOTES. BY F. N. PELOUBET, D. D., and M. A. PELOUBET. A Commentary on the International Sunday-School Lessons. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth, $1.25.

This commentary is the one book every teacher must have in order to do the best work. It interprets the Scripture, illustrates the truths, and by striking comments convinces the mind.

It is comprehensive, and yet not verbose, and furnishes winnowed material in the most attractive and yet convincing form from both spiritual and practical standpoints. Accurate colored maps and profuse original illustrations illuminate the text, and create an intelligent and instructive view of the subject matter.

Teachers are invited to send for sample pages of "Select Notes."

WAYS OF WORKING: or, Helpful Hints to Sunday-School Workers of all Kinds. BY REV. A. F. SCHAUFFLER, D. D. 216 pp. Cloth, $1.00.

A really helpful manual for Sunday-school workers.—The Sunday-school Times.

It unlocks the door to the treasure-house of Sunday-school success.—F. N. Peloubet, D. D.

The best all-around book for a Sunday-school worker I know of.—Marion Lawrence, Sec'y Ohio State S. S. Association.

Will take rank at once in Sunday-school literature, not only as a standard publication, but as one of the most influential.—Congregationalist, Boston.

Cannot fail to be of value in the hands of all Sunday-school workers.—W. H. Hall, Sec'y of Conn. State S. S. Association.

This book absolutely covers every phase of Sunday-school work in a clear, instructive manner, and cannot fail to be of marked benefit to every worker. Send for sample pages.

THE GOSPELS COMBINED. Compiled by REV. CHARLES H. POPE. 208 pp. Cloth, 75 cents.

Parallel passages blended, and separate accounts connected; presenting in one continuous narrative the life of Jesus Christ as told by Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John.

This book will be the best help to a clear connected view of the life and words of our Lord. Just the thing for every Sunday-school Teacher and Bible Class Student.

SPECIAL SONGS AND SERVICES for Primary and Intermediate Classes. Compiled by Mrs. M. G. KENNEDY. 160 pp. Price, 45 cents; $40.00 per hundred.

The book contains Exercises for Christmas, Easter, Children's Day, Harvest, etc.; Lessons on Lord's Prayer, Commandments, Books of the Bible, Missions, and many other subjects. Adapted to Primary and Intermediate Classes, Junior Endeavor Societies, etc.

It has ninety pages of new, bright music for all occasions, including a large number of Motion Songs that are now so popular. We feel sure the book will prove instructive, interesting, and entertaining. It is printed on heavy paper, bound in board covers. Sample pages sent on application.

Hiram's message to Solomon. 1 KINGS, 5, 6. Solomon buildeth the temple.

Before CHRIST 1014.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Hiram, sending to congratulate Solomon, is certified of his purpose to build the temple, and desired to furnish him with timber thereto. 7 Hiram, blessing God for Solomon, and requesting food for his family, furnisheth him with trees. 13 The number of Solomon's workmen and labourers.

AND [a] Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants unto Solomon; for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: [b] for Hiram was ever a lover of David.

2 And [c] Solomon sent to Hiram, saying,

3 Thou knowest how that David my father could not build an house unto the name of the LORD his God [d] for the wars which were about him on every side, until the LORD put them under the soles of his feet.

4 But now the LORD my God hath given me [e] rest on every side, so that there is neither adversary nor evil occurrent.

13 ¶ And king Solomon raised a †levy out of all Israel; and the levy was thirty thousand men.

14 And he sent them to Lebanon, ten thousand a month by courses: a month they were in Lebanon, and two months at home: and [n] Adoniram was over the levy.

15 [o] And Solomon had threescore and ten thousand that bare burdens, and fourscore thousand hewers in the mountains;

16 Beside the chief of Solomon's officers which were over the work, three thousand and three hundred, which ruled over the people that wrought in the work.

17 And the king commanded, and they brought great stones, costly stones, and [p] hewed stones, to lay the foundation of the house.

18 And Solomon's builders and Hiram's builders did hew them, and the ‖ stonesquarers: so they prepared timber and stones to build the house.

Christ beginneth ST. MATTHEW, 5. to preach.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee;

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;

16 The people which sat in darkmultitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judæa, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on an hill, 15 the candle: 17 that he came to fulfil the law. 21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear: 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfectness.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and

CHAPTER XV.

1 David, having prepared a place for the ark, ordereth the priests and Levites to bring it from Obed-edom. 25 He performeth the solemnity thereof with great joy. 29 Michal despiseth him.

AND David made him houses in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, [1] and pitched for it a tent.
2 Then David said, None ought to carry the [2] ark of God but the Levites: for them hath the LORD chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto him for ever.

New Devotional Books in Fine Bindings

GOLD DUST.

A collection of Golden Counsels for the Sanctification of Daily Life, with preface by Miss Charlotte M. Yonge.

AN ENTIRELY NEW EDITION, THREE PARTS IN ONE VOLUME

The success and popularity of this gem of devotional thoughts has justified the publishers in issuing a THIRD PART, containing further extracts compiled from the same source. Messrs. E. & J. B. Young & Co. have had printed for them a special edition on thin paper, THREE PARTS IN ONE VOLUME, which they offer in an attractive line of cloth and leather bindings. A Dainty Devotional Gift Book.

48mo. Parts 1, 2, 3, in One Volume. Size, 3⅜ x 2¼ inches.

NEW AND FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

A powerful new book on the "Higher Criticism."

THE ANCIENT HEBREW TRADITION as Illustrated by the Monuments. A Protest against the Modern School of Old Testament Critics By Dr. FRITZ HOMMEL, Professor of Semitic Languages at the University of Munich. Translated from the German by EDMUND MCCLURE, M.A., and LEONARD CROSSLÉ. 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

Prof. Hommel in this important work demonstrates the utter inadequacy of the purely literary methods employed by the so-called "higher critics" of the Old Testament. He has amassed a large body of new material against the Graf-Wellhausen hypothesis, which he has set forth in a most clear and convincing manner.

THE BISHOP PADDOCK LECTURES, 1896-7. Outlines of the History of the Theological Literature of the Church of England from the Reformation to the close of the Eighteenth Century. By JOHN DOWDEN, D.D., Bishop of Edinburgh. 12mo, cloth. Price, $1.25.

"I am greatly pleased with the 'Hebrew Monarchy,' by Andrew Wood, M.A., both in its plan and execution. It has evidently been prepared with great labor and care, and evinces a mastery of the subject of which it treats. The Commentary is admirable; it is clear, judicious, and satisfactory."—Prof. W. HENRY GREEN, Princeton, N. J.

PUBLICATIONS OF BOSTON SCHOOL SUPPLY CO.—Continued.

Philips' Historical Readers.

English History has probably never before been presented in a form so interesting and attractive for children.

The series is carefully edited, fully annotated, beautifully illustrated, and clearly printed.

1. Stories from English History. These stories from English history form one of the brightest and most attractive reading-books ever published. Each story is not only well written, but also beautifully illustrated. An admirable introduction to the study of English history. 128 pages, cloth..... $0 30 $0 36

2. Early England, from Prehistoric Times to the Year 1154. The making and founding of the nation is graphically sketched. The opening section contains vivid pen and pencil pictures of life in that country in prehistoric times—the periods of the men of the caves, the stone-hatchet men, the bronze-workers, etc. 192 pages, cloth..... 35 42

3. Middle England. The history of the country is continued from the reign of Henry II., when the welding of Saxons and Normans into one compact people commenced, to the end of the reign of Elizabeth. The aim has been to present, clearly and accurately, the real history during what may be justly termed the decisive period. 256 pages, cloth..... 52 62

4. Modern England. In this volume the great events of modern times are graphically and succinctly described and fully illustrated. The high educative value of good pictures has been constantly kept in view, and the greatest possible care has been taken to preserve an absolutely impartial tone throughout the series. 272 pages, cloth..... 52 62

Philips' Geographical Readers.

These books have been most carefully prepared, and in the treatment of the subject, the style and the quality of the matter, the number and beauty of the illustrations, the legibility and accuracy of the maps and diagrams will be found superior to any other similar series. Their use will render the study of geography both interesting and attractive. The series contains no fewer than 800 valuable illustrations and maps.

1. First Steps, Part I., explaining "plans of schools and play-grounds, the cardinal points, and the meaning and use of a map." With word-lists, illustrations, diagrams, and maps. 128 pages, cloth..... $0 27 $0 32

A Manual for the Study of Insects.

By John Henry Comstock, Professor of Entomology in Cornell University and in Leland Stanford Junior University, and Anna Botsford Comstock, Member of the Society of American Wood-Engravers.

This handbook is designed to meet the needs of teachers in the public schools and of students in high schools and colleges. The book is so written that any intelligent teacher can find out for himself the more important facts of insect-life. Its most distinctive feature is a series of analytical tables by means of which the family to which any North American insect belongs can be determined. Under the head of each family the characteristics of the family, both as regards structure and habits, are given, and the more common species are described. It is thus possible for the student to determine to what family any insect belongs, and to learn the habits of the insects of that family, and, in case of the more common species, to learn the name of the insect.

The book consists of 711 pages, and is illustrated by 797 figures in the text and six full-page plates, one of which is colored. Nearly all of the figures have been engraved especially for this work.

Price, $3.75; or by mail, postpaid, $4.09.

SIXTH EDITION.

The Microscope and Microscopical Methods.

By Simon Henry Gage, Professor of Microscopy, Histology, and Embryology in Cornell University and the New York State Veterinary College, Ithaca, N. Y., U. S. A.

The figures have been increased from 103 to 165. In matter this edition has grown from 165 to 237 pages. This increase is due to additions in the text of previous editions and to some wholly new matter upon methods of isolation and of sectioning by the collodion and by the paraffin methods, the preparation of drawings for publication and lecture-room diagrams.

Price, $1.50, postpaid.

From the American Monthy Microscopical Journal, Dec., 1891: "It is up to date, and the section devoted to homogeneous immersion objectives, the substage illuminator, the camera lucida, the micro-spectroscope and the micro-polariscope will be especially welcome to workers. . . . Altogether, it is one of those books that the student and worker in microscopy cannot afford to be without."

From Nature, Sept. 8, 1892: (Review by Rev. W. H. Dallinger, editor of the last edition of Carpenter. The Microscope and its Revelations.) "In short, this treatise lays the foundation for a thorough microscopical training, entirely adapted to the wants of medical students."

From the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, Jan. 26, 1893: "We know of no other work so well calculated to give a beginner a clear and sufficient insight into the principles involved in microscopical observation and in the proper care of the instrument and specimens."
